Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

Dang, I'm tired of this winter. It just keeps snowing in Leavenworth, and I mean SNOWING! It has been quite a job just keeping up with it so we can get in and out of the house. Fortunately, we have a great service that keeps my driveway clear enough to get my truck out and they have already had to pile up snow with a front end loader, and it's higher than the street sign. We're due for another visit with that machine.

I traveled to Grand Coulee Dam on Thursday, spent the night at the Grand Coulee Center Lodge and fished Rufus Woods Friday morning. I wanted to leave early enough to get a spot on the bank at the middle net pens. Turns out there was no reason to hurry. I had the short beach area to myself, except for a brief visit by two other anglers. These people made some casts with jigs, and when they didn't get any bites, took off.

There was also some traffic at the boat launch. I watched at least a half dozen boats take off from the launch and either run out to the middle pens or further up lake. I think most of them were headed to the upper net pens to fish for trout, but at least one boat was going to try to find some walleye.

I could see Austin Moser with a boat load of clients, and their presence made my time fishing miserable. While I watched my two rods, checking baits occasionally, I could see Austin running with the net and people posing for photos. I only got one bite all morning, and it turned out to be a dink. Austin managed to get limits for all those on his boat. The fish ranged in size from 3 or 4 pounds to 8 or 9 pounds. They got a couple on bait on the bottom, but most of the fish were taken on jigs or tubes. Austin fished Lake Roosevelt, out of Keller the day before. His group landed 31 rainbow and got one that was 24 inches. Everyone can have a bad day, and Friday was mine! This week's photo was taken at Rufus Woods.

Austin's report on the good trout bite was encouraging. The lake hasn't dropped at all, and fishing should be good at the spots I like to fish from at Spring Canyon and Keller. I stopped at the Desert Angler Fly Shop in Ephrata on my way up to Grand Coulee Dam, and there was a customer there that said he had fished at Spring Canyon twice earlier that week. He didn't have great luck himself but saw a guy on one of those days with his limit of nice trout to 24 inches.

I have been busy writing my free E-Letter for Winter 2023. If you aren't aware I have been sending out this free e-letter for many years. It is sent out quarterly and I describe the top prospects for the coming season and provide a detailed description of a couple of them. The Winter e-letter includes maps and photos of the areas I write about and links to videos I have done on featured fisheries. A long winter season is ahead of us here in Central Washington, and there are always lots of terrific opportunities for anglers.

In this issue I have one of the longest lists of top prospects I have ever published. The reason is the early and heavy winter we are experiencing this year. So, I mention a lot of great ice fishing destinations. There is a link to a video I did that shows four lakes I visited last winter. I haven't forgotten about boat fishing opportunities and dedicate much of the e-letter to fishing on Rufus Woods for triploids and Lake Roosevelt for giant kokanee and trout. To get a free copy just go to www.fishingmagician.com and click on the Free E-Letter button on the Home Page.

Now that the Holidays are behind us, I try to remind everyone of the sports shows that come up early in the new year. These are great events, as they are focused on what we all enjoy in one form or another. They are all about the great outdoors. The first one in our region is the Tri-Cities Sportsmen Show, that takes place on January 27 through the 29th. This one has been going on for nearly 30 years, so they must be doing something right. It will be at the HAPO Center in Pasco. Right on the heels of this show is the Washington Sportsmen's and Fishing Boat Show in Puyallup. It runs from February 1st through the 5th and is by far the largest of these types of shows every year. Beginning on February 3rd is the Seattle Boat Show, which continues to be the biggest boat show on the West Coast. Once again I will be doing a seminar for this show, and again it offers "on-line" opportunities to attend. The last show of the season will be the Central Washington Sportsmen Show at the Sundome in Yakima. It is scheduled for February 24th thru the 26th.

On Saturday, January 14th the 19th Annual Northwest Ice Fishing Festival will take place in Molson, Washington. The whole community turns out to make sure that everyone that attends has a great time. I have attended a couple of these events, and Eric Gransstrom and his Dad Dave went one year. The contest fishing time is 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. ALL fishing contest participants must check in to complete registration and get a number assigned, at the Molson Grange Hall in advance, and be licensed to fish.

The grand prize of a $500 check and a $500 gift certificate will be awarded to the adult contestant with the largest combined weight of either one fish or a total of five fish. Youth prizes do not include money but will have prizes for each category. In the event the catches are not made, the winners will be drawn from the registered fishers. CHECKS will be awarded to winners in the adult category for 1st place, 2nd place, and 3rd place for $500, $300 and $200 respectively. First place will also receive a $500 Gift Certificate from the Country Store.

I hope that you have safe travels on your way to your favorite fishing spot. There are a lot of great places to go in the region!

DOG OF THE WEEK

Meet Ozzie! Ozzie is one loveable, joyful, guy. He is the type that is excited about everything... breakfast, walks, balls, treats, car rides... he is here for it all! He needs a little fine tuning on his leash skills, but he is also very willing to please if someone will take the time to work with him. Overall he is a good natured fella, and will bring so much fun to anyone's life.

CAT OF THE WEEK

Meet Malenia! This young girl is shy, but is getting better about trusting people. Malenia likes being petted, at least for a bit. While in a foster home, she enjoyed playing with the other cats and got attention from the older child. Malenia will need to go to a quiet home with a person who will give her time to blossom. A friendly resident cat will help her relax, too. Malenia is ready to go!

Please contact the Wenatchee Valley Humane Society at (509) 662-9577 or visit our website at www.WenatcheeHumane.org

PLEASE SPAY OR NEUTER YOUR PETS!

CREATURE FEATURE EMUS

Since the 1980s, these large Australian birds have been rising in popularity in the U.S. as an alternative to chickens for home sourced eggs and lean meat. More recently, people have also begun keeping them as companions rather than as livestock. When raised correctly, Emus are curious, docile and affectionate pets. They are hardy, adapt well to most climates, and their flightless nature makes them relatively easy to keep contained.

HABITAT:

Emus can't fly, but they are known to jump quite high and can climb fences surprisingly well for such a large bird. Using high fences and non-barbed fencing options will ensure the safety of your Emu flock.

NECESSITIES:

- A Fenced Area as Large as Possible with Minimum 6' High Fencing
- Shelter from Cold Weather
- Large Food Container or Multiple Food Containers to Prevent Fighting

ACCESSORIES:

- Kiddie Pool for Bathing/Playing

DID YOU KNOW?

• Small businesses accounted for 65% of all net new jobs over the past 17 years.

• Small businesses employ 77 million Americans.

• 89% of consumers agree that independent businesses contribute positively to local economies.

• Residential neighborhoods served by a successful independent business district gained, on average, 50% more in home values than their citywide markets.

• Independent restaurants return more than two times as much money per dollar of sales than national restaurant chains.

• If independent businesses regain their 1990 market shares, it would create 200,000 new small businesses, generate nearly $300 billion in revenues and employ more than 1.6 million Americans.

• If just half the U.S. employed population spent $50 each month in locally owned independent businesses, it would generate more than $42.6 billion in revenue.

• For every square foot a local firm occupies, the local economy gains $179 vs. $105 for a chain store.

NEW YEAR, TIME FOR A NEW KITCHEN

It's no secret that kitchens are one of the most popular spaces in homes. If your kitchen is dated or no longer fits your lifestyle, you may want to consider remodeling. An upgraded or modern kitchen also can increase the value of your home. According to Zonda's recent Cost vs. Value Report*, homeowners who invest in a minor kitchen remodel are likely to recoup more than 71% of their investment. A new kitchen for your home doesn't have to be a hassle if you plan your project well. Consider the following steps to help you prepare for a kitchen remodel this year:

Prioritize Needs and Wants

The best place to start is to determine what kitchen style and features best suit your needs. Have you started cooking since the pandemic or inviting more people to your home to entertain? Experts recommend making a list of your new kitchen priorities. A recent survey by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) of prospective and recent homebuyers found that more than 70% of buyers wanted a table space for eating (78%), a central island (77%) and drinking water filtration (76%).

Make sure to include all the kitchen features on your list, including storage preferences, appliances, types of materials and lighting. A list will help you stay on track to achieve your kitchen remodel goals and stay within your budget.

Set a Budget

After you have a general idea of what you need for your new kitchen, outline the cost associated with your project. The larger the scope of your kitchen remodel, such as knocking out walls to gain additional square footage, the increased chances your renovation may take extra time and money. If you work with a professional contractor, they will have contacts to help you secure the best prices on materials and labor. In addition, a conservative budget will give you the cushion you need if the project has unexpected expenses.

Kitchen remodeling frequently involves problem solving, such as maximizing your existing space or strategically building storage. A professional remodeler can help homeowners manage such challenges and meet their needs while staying within the budget.

Find a Qualified Remodeler

Hiring a professional remodeler is more than just paying for labor and materials. A qualified remodeler has experience with project-related items such as building codes, permits, safety, and cost estimates and has the necessary tools and equipment to get the job done. Professionals also have a network of suppliers and subcontractors to ensure the work on your home is executed properly.

A new kitchen can be rewarding with the proper planning and partnership with a qualified professional.

For more information about kitchen remodeling or to find a remodeler in your area, contact the Central WA Home Builders Association.

Generator Safety

Downed utility lines, power company blackouts, heavy snow falls or summer storms can all lead to power outages. Many people turn to a portable generator for a temporary solution without knowing the risks.

- ''' Generators should be used in well ventilated locations outside away from all doors, windows and vent openings.
- ''' Never use a generator in an attached garage, even with the door open.
- ''' Place generators so that exhaust fumes can't enter the home through windows, doors or other openings in the building.
- ''' Make sure to install carbon monoxide (CO) alarms in your home. Follow manufacturer's instructions for correct placement and mounting height.
- ''' Turn off generators and let them cool down before refueling. Never refuel a generator while it is hot.

- ''' Store fuel for the generator in a container that is intended for the purpose and is correctly labeled as such. Store the containers outside of living areas.

Just Remember...

When plugging in appliances, make sure they are plugged directly into the generator or a heavy duty outdoor-rated extension cord. The cords should be checked for cuts, tears and that the plug has all three prongs, especially a grounding pin.

If you must connect the generator to the house wiring to power appliances, have a qualified electrician install a properly rated transfer switch in accordance with the National Electrical Code® (NEC) and all applicable state and local electrical codes.

FACT

- ! CO deaths associated with generators have spiked in recent years as generator sales have risen.
