CHRISTMAS WISHES to our HEROES OVERSEAS INC.

Non-Profit Organization in Service to our Troops

A Non-profit Organization in service to our Troops since 2013 - 100% Goes to Our Heroes! WE SUPPORT OUR TROOPS!

WHO WE ARE

- ★ We fundraise and send Christmas care packages to Our soldiers overseas for the holidays, and to a lesser extent needed requested items year around!
- ★ We can't forget our Heroes and need your support!
- ★ We learned over the years that we can help more than double the number of soldiers with a better volume of products if we send orders via direct online with free shipping to the APO Addresses because of the higher shipping costs at the USPS for international shipping.
- ★ If you have a loved one serving overseas, e-mail us their information so we can get Care Packages to them first. We will serve Local Heroes first!
- ★ Due to the delay in international shipping, we will have our open Event this Year as early as Nov. 19th and 20th from 2pm until 6pm

You may be in a meditative mood this week, Aries. You may think about mundane things or even complex issues. It's an ideal time to stay indoors and relax with your thoughts.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21

Obligations to friends or family could interfere with other things you had intended, such as spending time with your partner. As more people call upon you, step back and consider.

You have a strong desire to clean and organize your home this week, Gemini. Spring cleaning certainly comes early. Conquer that clutter.

Scorpio, a sense of duty to loved ones may have you taking on tasks that you otherwise may never consider. Your willingness to pitch in won't go unnoticed.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

Some people know exactly which buttons to push to get a rise out of you, Capricorn. Try to be the bigger person and turn the other cheek.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

"The Outdoor Insider"

The warmer weather we've had throughout the region has changed from frequent snow storms to rain. This is welcome in many ways, as it is easier to get around. It does mean that ice fishers need to be extra careful. Even night time temperatures have been above freezing, so it is important to check the thickness of the ice before heading out to your favorite spot on the lakes in your area.

My long-time friend and fishing buddy Dan Schlieffers retired and moved to Grand Coulee Dam, and since I was going to be in the area last Wednesday, I gave him a call. Turns out he and his partner Mary were going to be fishing off Crescent Beach and invited me to come down. They had fished there the day before and caught five big rainbow in just a couple of hours.

As I drove down the hill to the beach I saw that there were ice fishermen out on Crescent Lake, which is known for spiny rays. When I walked down the beach I could see that Dan had a rainbow on his stringer, that had to be 20 inches long. He and Mary were fishing with marshmallows and night-crawlers or shrimp and were pleased to find this kind of quality trout fishing just minutes from their home. He sent me a photo taken from the same beach a couple of days later. There were four rainbow on the stringer, and one was 22 inches long. The majority of the rainbow caught in Lake Roosevelt are the result of net pen releases. Most years there are over 700,000 triploid rainbow released from net pens scattered along the reservoir. These fish are all clipped and are great eaters.

When I was at Coulee Playland last week there were people loading their sleds and heading out on the ice to fish for whitefish. When I passed through Coulee City I saw more ice fishing shelters off the island out there than I can remember ever seeing.

The last time I was in Grand Coulee Dam I learned that there were new owners at Coulee Playland Resort, which is at the very top end of Banks Lake. Ben and Karon Fox have acquired the resort from the very long-time proprietor, Hal Rauch. Ben Fox said that he was originally from the state of Arkansas, but he and his wife had been living in Coeur d' Alene, Idaho for the past eight years. This brought them closer to their daughters. They were interested in getting into the resort business and found the opportunity at Coulee Playland through a business broker.

They plan to make mostly cosmetic changes at the resort's camping area and other improvements and general repairs. They also want to add some "glamping" style amenities, as this type of camping has become popular with a certain segment of the population that wants to spend time outdoors. Coulee Playland has been a feature on Banks Lake for decades, and has been the site of many events, including the annual Triple Fish Challenge fishing derby each spring. Be sure to stop by and welcome them to the area when you need nightcrawlers, tackle or the latest word on fishing up there. This week's photo is of Ben and Karon behind the counter at Coulee Playland.

A good number of anglers are interested in how the ice is holding up on Banks Lake, so when I drove up to Grand Coulee last Thursday I made sure to stop and get some photos of the ice fishers. There were people fishing above the highway off the island, which is a good distance from the Coulee City Marina. This seems to be the most popular spot to fish at the lower end of the lake through the ice. I saw no evidence of anyone fishing right in the marina, which is where I usually found anglers in the past. I pulled into Northrup and could see where some folks had drilled some test holes, but it didn't appear anyone was fishing there. Where I am seeing the largest groups of anglers is at the very top of the lake. People will park at Coulee Playland and drag their sleds out towards the inlet. At both the lower and upper ends of the lake, big lake variety whitefish are the target. These fish are often in the 3 to 4 pound class, and once you get the hang of hooking these extremely light-biting fish you can fill a cooler with them.

I had a narrow window of time to do some fishing last Friday. I had to make some stops in Wenatchee, so I needed to do something fairly close to home. The weather was in the 40s, so it looked like a good time to head down to Rocky Ford Creek with my fly rod. There were several rigs in the upper parking lot when I arrived, and I could see anglers fishing the far shore. When I opened my fly bag to put some flies and tiny split shot inside, I found that I didn't have my Rocky Ford box. This had my Mini Leeches and Ultra Scuds. Fortunately, my rod was already rigged with these two flies, but I would have to be extra careful with my back casts.

I crashed through the reeds to get to the area I like to fish below the handicapped dock, but the water was up and my "casting platforms" were underwater. So, I walked down to the spot where I caught a couple of fish on my last visit. Although this area is popular, as it allows for casting without a lot of brush behind you, it has consistently produced fish for me, with my Mini Leech and Ultra Scud combo. All that happened here this trip was that I spent way too much time untangling a wind knot. As I stepped out onto the bank at my next spot I looked at my watch. Uh oh. I needed to leave before 4 and it was 3:30. On my second cast I was able to hook and land a bright 20 inch fish. Yea! I was able to release a nice fish and made it home on time.

I hope the mild weather holds up for a while. I want to get up to the net pens and fish from shore, plus another trip to Rocky Ford would be great!

DOG OF THE WEEK

Hi I'm Peter! I am one smart cookie. I am two years old. I am a handsome boy, who loves to snuggle and spend time with you. I am currently in good boy training, and doing great! My trainer has mentioned to me that I would do best with an experienced dog owner. I have high prey drive and I cannot live with chickens, cats, or small animals. I don't do well with young kids.

Generator Safety

Downed utility lines, power company blackouts, heavy snow falls or summer storms can all lead to power outages. Many people turn to a portable generator for a temporary solution without knowing the risks.

- ''' Generators should be used in well ventilated locations outside away from all doors, windows and vent openings.
- ''' Never use a generator in an attached garage, even with the door open.
- ''' Place generators so that exhaust fumes can't enter the home through windows, doors or other openings in the building.
- ''' Make sure to install carbon monoxide (CO) alarms in your home. Follow manufacturer's instructions for correct placement and mounting height.
- ''' Turn off generators and let them cool down before refueling. Never refuel a generator while it is hot.

- ''' Store fuel for the generator in a container that is intended for the purpose and is correctly labeled as such. Store the containers outside of living areas.

Just Remember...

When plugging in appliances, make sure they are plugged directly into the generator or a heavy duty outdoor-rated extension cord. The cords should be checked for cuts, tears and that the plug has all three prongs, especially a grounding pin.

If you must connect the generator to the house wiring to power appliances, have a qualified electrician install a properly rated transfer switch in accordance with the National Electrical Code® (NEC) and all applicable state and local electrical codes.

FACT

- ! CO deaths associated with generators have spiked in recent years as generator sales have risen.
