TECHNICAL EDUCATION CAN LEAD TO A FULFILLING CAREER

Graduation season is around the corner. For new graduates, this can be an exciting yet daunting time as they contemplate the next chapter. If you know a soon-to-be or recent grad seeking new opportunities, encourage them to explore technical education opportunities that can lead to professional and personal fulfillment.

Each February, the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) and industry leaders in our community celebrate Careers and Technical Education (CTE) Month. CTE includes several fields, such as Information Technology, Advanced Manufacturing and Construction. In addition, this nationally recognized month shines a spotlight on the educational opportunities available for high school students, college students and adults.

There are many reasons to steer someone toward technical education, including:

Promising Career Prospects

Baby boomers currently fill many trade jobs. According to a recent Home Builders Institute Report¹, a substantial portion of the construction labor market could retire in the near future. That means job prospects for CTE students are promising, especially in Residential Construction. According to the latest Bureau of Labor Statistics data and analysis by NAHB, the number of residential construction jobs² available in November 2022 was 388,000.

Avoid Crushing College Debt

For many individuals, the high cost of college outweighs the benefits. In the 2020-2021 school year, more than half of bachelor's degree recipients from public and private nonprofit four-year colleges and universities graduated with debt and had an average debt level of $29,100, according to the College Board's Trends in Student Aid 2022 report³. Technical education offers an alternative to the four-year college track without the burden of sky-high student loan debt. And there are numerous "earn while you learn" apprenticeships available, so you don't have to wait to complete a training program to generate income.

Escape the Daily Doldrums

Professionals working in the trades are problem solvers and critical thinkers. Each day has new tasks and challenges that are an ideal match for any talented individual. For example, critical thinkers and detail-oriented individuals would excel as carpenters, ensuring materials are exact; and those with exceptional analytical skills are qualities found among expert electricians and plumbers.

Trades are for Everyone

More women across the country are becoming a part of the Residential Construction industry. According to an NAHB analysis⁴, the number of women employed in the construction industry increased to over 1.24 million in 2021. Women make up 11% of the construction workforce, the highest share on record. Generally, a pay gap exists between men and women across most industries in the United States, where women earn 80¢ for every dollar a man earns. However, the gap is much smaller in the construction trades. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, women in the construction industry earn 97¢ for every dollar a man earns.

Dave Langille
"The Outdoor Insider"

We have had some warm weather throughout the region, but it looks like that's going to change. At our home there is snow in the forecast for many days later into next week, so be prepared. I think I will plan to fish from shore on Lake Roosevelt to avoid the chance that I will be fishing in snow.

I mentioned in an earlier report that the Colville Tribe had a release of triploid rainbow trout scheduled for some time in February. My contact said there could be as many as 20,000 included in the release. I checked in with Austin Moser, who is fishing Rufus regularly right now, and he said that it has obviously occurred. It is common for the tribe to release fish weighing 1.5 to 1.7 pounds, but Austin said that these fish are more like 2.5 pounds. Now that's a nice trout, but many anglers are trying for fish much larger. I want to remind folks that the daily limit for trout on Rufus Woods is two fish, and if you are fishing with bait, you must keep every fish you catch, regardless of size. You can find the regulation on the Sport Fishing pamphlet on page 25. I also want to mention that you can have great success fishing with jigs for these fish and would suggest that you use these and pinch the barb, so you can legally release the fish. You may even want to target walleye. You will still get triploids and may add some nice walleye to your catch. This week's photo is from a trip with Austin on Rufus last year.

I have trolled downstream below the upper net pens many times with a bottom bouncer and spinners for walleye and caught walleye along with triploids. Since there are so many new fish in the system on Rufus I will use another method. Fishing with my brother Rick and Steve Goodfellow a while back we tried some of the Hyper Glide jigs made by Acme Tackle, and the walleye loved them and we caught trout on them, too. These jigs have a rattle and even "wings" that open up when the jig drops so they actually glide through the water.

Another very effective walleye jig is the Jigging Rap made by Rapala. This jig has wings on the bottom end of the jig so it will also glide through the water. They have a nice weight to them so it's easier to keep them vertical when drifting.

The first time that I fished with Austin for walleye on Rufus I got the first fish on a blade bait. Then Austin dug out some watermelon colored plastics and put them on a 3/8th ounce jig and that worked great. Last year we used these with a small stinger hook and that seemed to help increase our hook ups. The walleye from Rufus Woods are of exceptional quality, and it is not unusual to release several fish over 22 inches while getting our limits of five each.

I was in Moses Lake last week and the temperature was 50 degrees. On my way home I saw flight after flight of geese passing over. I ran over to Potholes in the area of Lind Coulee and Medicare Beach, and although the ice covered the water it is shrinking away from the shoreline, and I saw a pressure fracture that ran out as far as I could see. It won't be long until the warm weather and some wind clears the ice off. Spring fishing isn't here yet, but spring fever is rampant. Last fall the walleye fishing was very good on Potholes, and I have my fingers crossed for good fishing this spring. According to the net surveys conducted by the Department of Fish and Wildlife the highest percentage of walleye should fall in the 12 to 20 inch class and the next highest percentage could be 20 inches and larger. If I remember correctly, last fall my buddy Brian Neilson had limited with walleye that averaged 15 to 16 inches.

Something that is often overlooked is the terrific trout fishing on Potholes. Anglers who target trout, either from the shore or trolling, can expect to catch trout averaging 3 pounds. As soon as the water opens up you can expect to see anglers lining the shore on Medicare Beach, which is on the east side of Potholes. Most people will be casting slip sinker rigs baited with Power Bait or a marshmallow and nightcrawler. Others will be trolling along the west side from the State Park down to Mar Don Resort. Rapalas, either jointed or regular style work well to attract strikes from Potholes rainbow.

Although I wrote about this last week, I wanted to remind readers that long-time outdoor writer for the Yakima Herald, Rob Phillips, has published a four-book fictional series of the adventures of Luke McClain. This fish and game wildlife officer seems to get involved in investigating crimes that lead him outside the bounds of his regular duties, and Phillips does an excellent job of keeping readers glued to the pages of these novels.

When I learned that Rob had published the books, I ordered the first one on Amazon. Before I had even finished the first one, I ordered the other three in the series. These are a very quick read, and I didn't want to have to wait to get the next one. I am an avid reader and found the Luke McClain character very real and compelling. I have known Rob for years and have to congratulate him on his excellent writing abilities. I would highly recommend that you give these books a read. I think you will be ordering the whole series like I did.

You may be able to meet Rob Phillips at the Central Washington Sportsman Show that starts on Friday, February 24th in Yakima. Rob often does seminars at this show, and you may also find him hanging out with the folks at the Yakima Bait booth.

I will be at the Central Washington Show on Saturday and Sunday. I will be with the crew from Bob Feil Boats and Motors. I like meeting people and talking boats and fishing at this show. So, if you make it there, be sure to look for me and say hi!

DOG OF THE WEEK

Harvey is one fine fellow! He has a bold and bright personality and knows what he wants in life. He seems to be confident in his ability to win the ladies over and struts his stuff like he owns the world. Harvey is playful, happy, and full of love. He is looking for an active family who will be devoted to giving him the attention he craves and deserves. Harvey loves the other dogs in playgroup.

WEEKLY Horoscopes for Feb 24 - March 4

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20

Take a few deep breaths before forging ahead with a plan that you have in mind, Aries. You might need to think things through a little more in the days to come.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, when a new opportunity arises, you may feel like a fish out of water until you get into a routine. After that learning period, things will come more easily.

GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, do not wait around for change to come. Sometimes you have to get the ball rolling yourself. Put plans in motion and figure out who will join you.

CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22

Cancer, right now is a big waiting game, and that could have you feeling a bit frustrated. If you are ready for action, take on a hobby or something else to stay busy.

LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23

Leo, you may get wind that others are talking about you when you are not around. Remember that all publicity is good publicity. You're on their minds and that's important.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

Virgo, after a few tumultuous months, you finally get into a groove and forge a new path for yourself. You may be surprised by what comes your way.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

You may joke about something that someone else takes very seriously, Libra. Be careful with your words to avoid offending someone you care about.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

You may have a lot of ideas, Scorpio, but it is essential to figure out funding if those plans are to be put in motion. This includes home improvements.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

Sagittarius, it's time to embrace your love of culture, as you need to start pushing the creative side rather than the analytical one. Visit a museum when time permits.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

Opportunity awaits if you know where to look, Capricorn. A new business venture could be right around the corner. Start thinking of ways to get involved.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, big project is finished and you could not be happier. That pressure may have been weighing you down and now you have more free time.

PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20

Pisces, your own mind could be your only obstacle this week. Clear this mental hurdle and enjoy the challenges ahead.
