CHRISTMAS WISHES to our HEROES OVERSEAS INC.

Non-Profit Organization in Service to our Troops

A Non-Profit Organization in service to our Troops since 2013 - 100% Goes to Our Heroes! WE SUPPORT OUR TROOPS!

WHO WE ARE

- ★ We fundraise and send Christmas care packages to Our soldiers overseas for the holidays, and to a lesser extent needed requested items year 'round!
- ★ We can't forget our Heroes and need your support!
- ★ We learned over the years that we can help more than double the number of soldiers with a better volume of products if we send orders via direct online with free shipping to the APO Addresses because of the higher shipping costs at the USPS for international shipping.
- ★ If you have a loved one serving overseas, e-mail us their information so we can get Care Packages to them first. We will serve Local Heroes first!

Now Collecting Items for CHRISTMAS 2023!

- ★ Due to the delay in international shipping, we will have our open Event this Year as early as Nov. 19th and 20th from 2pm until 6pm

Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

The days are cooler now, and many anglers prefer to fish in these temperatures rather than the heat of summer. Fall days are often clear and calm, and there are many great options available to anglers this time of year.

My brother in law Tom Verschuren and I headed up to Banks Lake on Friday. This is one of our favorite things to do. We'll fish for walleye, and if they aren't biting we will switch to bass fishing. We launched at Northrup and drove the boat over to Barker Flats. When we arrived, I discovered that I had left my walleye box at home. We always bring some bass rods and tackle along when we fish Banks, so no problem. We ran over to the far side at the southern shore of Barker and went to work. We started off casting three- and four-inch Senkos in the watermelon with black and red flakes and were catching fish right away. I decided to switch to Zoom lizards in the same size but the green pumpkin color and had even better success. We like to fish for bass off the shoreline opposite the boat launch at Million Dollar Mile, but when we approached the point at the main lake, we saw that the wind had kicked and wanted to stay in the calmer water. I ran the boat further up to an area that we hadn't tried before, and we were glad we did. Smallmouth were abundant here and eager to hit our lizards.

Most of the smallmouth were half-pounders but we did get a few larger fish. I hooked the biggest fish of the day, and instead of netting it, I tried to hoist it into the boat by grabbing the line. Guess what, it broke the line. I had a counter along and decided to keep track of the number of fish we caught and released. When the counter hit 50 we packed it in and headed for home. What a fun way to spend a day! This week's photo is of a typical smallmouth from Banks.

I had planned to spend a couple of days on Omak Lake last week, but the forecast for high winds prompted me to cancel the trip. The forecast for the coming week doesn't look good and I may have to cancel again. I have fished this Colville Reservation Lake several times in the fall and have had some spectacular days. The Colville Tribe typically plants 40,000 cutthroat in Omak Lake every year, so I know there will be plenty of fish waiting for us. The launch at Nicholson (Beer Can) Beach is very rough, but I managed to put my 20 foot Smoker Craft in the water here. There is a large bay just around the corner from the launch, but I often just make the run down to the bottom end of this 10 mile long lake to start fishing.

I look for about 100 feet of water and am not surprised to see the depth sounder screen loaded with marks. It is not unusual to see a lot of the marks at a consistent depth, which is usually the thermocline. I will put my downriggers down either right in the middle of these marks or just below them. I like to run a variety of plugs and darting lures and the rods are bouncing all the time.

My friend Jim Passage brought a fly rod along last fall and put his flies on a sinking line out the back of the boat in a holder, and he was very busy. You can flatline plugs or spoons and catch fish this way, too. We had fished the afternoon the day before and had caught and released over 20 fish in a few hours. We had done about the same the next morning. I noticed some large marks right off the bottom, so I dropped my rigger right on top of them. I had a large darting plug on the line and the rod started bouncing almost immediately. I popped the line off the clip and before we released the fish we measured it. It was a 28 inch.

Another Colville Tribal lake that I have fished many times is Buffalo Lake, which is just ten miles from the town of Coulee Dam. It is a very pretty place to fish and gets very little pressure. It is known for great trout fishing since it gets generous plants of rainbow. This spring it received 2,000 1.5 pound rainbow, 5,000 1/2-pound rainbow, and 250 7-pound triploid rainbow trout! The fall fishing for kokanee can be terrific here and the lake is also loaded with largemouth bass. I would like to make a trip or two to Buffalo Lake this fall.

Rufus Woods is also a good bet for the fall. The Colville Tribe released 45,000 triploids in the reservoir, starting in February this year. The fish averaged around 2 pounds when they went into the lake, so many will be 4 to 6 pounds by now.

There are some great options available to anglers here in Central Washington right now. The Hanford Reach fall salmon fishing is just taking off, with a sharp increase in catches recorded in the past week. Last year, the walleye fishing on Potholes Reservoir was terrific, and I can't wait to get down there to see if I can repeat the great catches of really nice fish this fall. The fishing for smallmouth and largemouth bass is also this time of year, and the big bluegill and crappie also go on the bite. Another fishery that is just getting going is the sturgeon fishing on Lake Roosevelt.

You can learn about all of these fisheries along with some great tips on what to use and where to go by getting a copy of my free E-Letter. In the Fall issue I touch on fall salmon fishing, with links to some great videos. I also mention the walleye fishing on Potholes Reservoir with photos of my favorite rigs. Included is a link to a video on fishing for sturgeon on Lake Roosevelt. You can get all of this for free by logging onto www.FishingMagician.com and click on the Free E-Letter button on the Home Page.

Weather can be a factor when trying to plan fishing trips this time of year, but there will be plenty of sunny days this fall for some great days on the water!

CAT OF THE WEEK

Meet Stop Sign! Stop Sign came in as a stray. She couldn't help but fall in love with the litter of tuxedo kittens. They have been a very cuddly group of kittens that heavily enjoy each other's company. Ideally, Stop Sign and Detour would go to a home together where they would be able to fully allow their personalities to shine. Stop sign will do okay with kids and calm dogs.

DOG OF THE WEEK

Meet Lilly! This drool sensation is so sweet and loves anyone who steps foot in her kennel. When staff first arrives in the morning, she greets them with whatever toy she can find and must run out her excitement before they can pet her. Lilly is a little impatient when it comes to her breakfast, and when it takes a little longer than she would like, she will play dead until her food comes.

SEPTEMBER 28, 2023 Report

"Going fast is your job...telling people about it is ours...!"

Thanks to the Exchange for helping continue the four-decade tradition of delivering weekly motorsports news to the Inland Northwest!

36TH FALL CLASSIC IS SEPT. 30, OCT. 1 AT TRI-CITY RACEWAY

Largest Stockcar race on the West Coast converges at the most demanding 1/2 mile asphalt racetrack in the USA.

West Richland, Wash. — Rescued from a racetrack destined for demolition and moved to another brought back to life three years ago, Tri City Raceway at Red Mountain Event Center in West Richland will stage the 36th running of the Fall Classic Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 in West Richland, Wash.

The unique 1/2 mile tri-oval at Tri-City Raceway, which had been closed and gathering desert dust since 2004, reopened to stage the 2021 Fall Classic, which had been run at Yakima Speedway since 1988. Yakima Speedway was sold and demolished in 2021 to become an industrial site along Interstate-82.

The track is part of what is known as the Red Mountain Event Center which is envisioned to be a multi-faceted tourism engine for the city — and the Tri City area as a whole.

The 2021 race was an instant hit and has sold out seating both then and in 2022. Event and ticket information can be found by visiting www.redmountaineventcenter.com.

In excess of 130 teams competing in six classes will come to Tri Cities for the race presented by Desert Food Mart and Cougar Cafe. Over $100K in total prize money is up for grabs over the weekend.

"I can't believe both are to up 40 cars, it's the largest so far," spokesperson Laci Walden wrote in an email regarding the dual late model fields.
