CAT OF THE WEEK

Meet Bobby! Bobby absolutely loves pipe cleaners! This little kitten is so much fun, he is more like a dog and likes to always follow you and be in the same room as you. He loves to play and after he is done he will cuddle and snuggle. We have all fallen in love with Bobby, he is so special, neat and tidy, perfectly litter box trained, and he will truly become the love of your life!

MEET THE "DWARF LIT-TER" FROM FURRY FARM RESCUE

Mama Snow is a raven haired beauty with a super sweet personality, she was found in the woods with her litter of seven, 5 males & 2 females we named Dopey, Sneezy, Grumpy, Bashful, Happy, Sleepy & Doc! They are mixed breed puppies & all look a little different, they all have sweet personalities & are confident! We believe they were born around August 1. Before adoption, they will be given all their shots, deworming, be spayed or neutered & microchipped, adoption fee is $275. Our process with puppies is a little different, we collect applications & have you come meet all the pups. Then we work with you on the proper placement, all our puppy contracts contain an agreement to attend Puppy Kindergarten & Basic Obedience classes. Puppies will go home with a collar, food, and a favorite blanket/toy! Please go to our website, www.thefurryfarmrescue.org to see more pictures & complete an online application. Thank you! #adoptdontshop

DOG OF THE WEEK

Meet Evee! She is a lovely young gal that picks up on training verv quickly. That perfect size companion at just 40lbs you can take anywhere with you. Evee entered playgroup here at the shelter and was polite to the other dogs, she is in what we call the gentle and dainties, but that may change! We are unsure of how she does with cats. We know the perfect home is waiting for her!

Please contact the Wenatchee Valley Humane Society at (509) 662-9577 or visit our website at www.WenatcheeHumane.org

ECOLOGY OFFERING $1.8 MILLION IN GRANTS FOR DROUGHT PREPAREDNESS

It's time to stop treating droughts like a surprise

Even surprise droughts aren't surprising anymore. Washington has recently seen a pattern of increasing droughts in the face of a warming climate.

In 2015, the state experienced its first severe drought in almost a decade. It was a snow drought, caused when precipitation that traditionally fell as snow, instead fell as rain. It's still considered by many experts to be the "drought of record" - the one to which they compare all other droughts.

In 2019, a drought that started in just a couple of watersheds was eventually expanded to half the state.

In 2021, we had a surprise drought late in the season when a lack of precipitation coupled with a "heat dome" event resulted in a drought declaration that covered most of the Eastern & Central parts of the state.

Also surprising was this year's 2023 drought, when almost half of snowpack was lost in a three-week May heatwave. While in many respects the current drought has been less severe than some others, May through August 2023 has been the 9th driest such period on record – even drier than 2015.

Indian Creek, in the Yakima Watershed, exhibits low stream flows during the 2023 drought which was declared in 12 watersheds throughout the state.

Over the course of these four droughts, we've distributed more than $8.4 million in emergency drought grants.

As the effects of climate change continue to manifest, the state can expect warmer winters and more snow droughts. According to a recent research paper, by 2050 snow droughts can be expected almost every other year.

"We're no longer waiting for climate change to manifest," said Ecology's Water Resources Program Manager Ria Berns. "The climate is changing and we're seeing very real impact not only on current water supplies, but on Washington's future water security.

THE TIME FOR REACTING TO DROUGHT EMERGENCIES IS OVER

"Droughts are increasing in frequency and severity. We can't lining eligibility and the application process in December of continue to simply react to droughts as they occur," Berns said. this year. It's time to invest in climate resiliency for local communities and help them withstand impacts of a changing climate and enhance water security for generations to come."

To jumpstart this work, Ecology will make $1.8 million available in state-wide grants to incentivize, facilitate, and increase local drought preparedness. Ecology will begin accepting competitive grant applications on January 16, 2024, and will begin issuing these local grants in summer 2024.

The grants will facilitate increased local drought resiliency and water supply security by funding the preparation of "Local Drought Preparedness Plans."

These plans will identify the specific actions, associated costs, and timeframes a local community intends to take to increase its water supply security as the climate changes.

After completing the environmental justice assessment required by the state's historic 2021 Healthy Environment for All Act, Ecology will publish guidance for the grants out-

Ecology will host an applicant workshop in January 2024. It will be both in person and online. It will be recorded for later viewing.

Fishing Magician

Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net "The Outdoor Insider"

The weather has played havoc with my fishing plans of late. It is particularly frustrating as there are several really terrific fisheries getting started in the region. It looks like there will be a change for the better and there will be some great fishing ahead for the early fall season.

Since I wasn't going to be able to fish on Tuesday I thought I would look for fish and maybe at least see some. I had hoped that the recent rain we had here in the upper Valley would draw some coho into the Icicle. I stopped at a couple of places where I could see them rolling if they were in the river, but no luck and no evidence that they had arrived. When I last checked the fish counts about 6,000 coho have passed over Rock Island Dam and only 2,000 over Rocky Reach, so there could be a significant number of them in the Wenatchee River. I guess they are waiting for more water in the Icicle before they make their move. I will continue to keep an eye out for them. Another place I like to go to "salmon watch" is in the Tumwater Canyon. There's a tailout and a deep hole below the bridge at the old Tumwater Campground where they will stack up, and sure enough I found a bunch of kings in there. There is a pullout just below where I look for fish on the right hand side of the road on the way up the canyon, and a short walk to where I can see them. It's quite a sight and I love to watch them roll and jump in the hole.

There is good news for anglers that are fans of fishing for coho on the upper Columbia River. The river is open to coho retention from above Priest Rapids Dam to Wells Dam and remains open for Chinook. Anglers are allowed to keep two adult Chinook and two coho. All wild Chinook must be released. From Highway 173 Bridge at Brewster to the rock jetty at Foster Creek anglers may also keep two adult Chinook but must release all wild fish. Also, the Icicle River has opened for coho fishing. The recent rain that fell in our region helped a little, but still wasn't enough to draw coho into the Icicle. I have been checking the river and it is very low and clear and have I yet to see any signs of coho in the river. I am sure that they are holding up in the deeper holes in the Wenatchee and will rush up Icicle. A new section of the Icicle has been opened this year, too, and will give anglers more water to fish. Please visit the WDFW website and read the most recent release about the Icicle and upper Columbia River updates details.

Everything came together, and I got to fish Potholes Reservoir last week. I jumped on guide, Brian Nielson's boat, and Mike Wren joined us. We put the boat in at the launch at Mar Don Resort, and although the reservoir is very low right now, the folks at Mar Don have placed some markers to make it easier. Anglers should be aware some launches are very shallow right now, and the sand bar off the State Park and off Crab Creek should be avoided. Brian ran the boat out to his stomping grounds northeast of the State Park, and I had a bite within five minutes. The bites came at a steady pace all morning. Mike Wren and I were using 2-ounce bottom bouncers with the sparkly green Smile Blades, and the walleye loved them. We were getting our baits picked regularly and were burning through the nightcrawlers. Not only were we missing a lot of walleye, but we also caught several largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, bluegill, perch and one catfish. Brian did a great job keeping our speed at point nine mph in the gusting breeze and we had eleven walleye from 15 to 21 inches when we headed for home. This weeks photo is of one of the walleye we caught on Potholes

The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) announced today it will lift its campfire and other remainment-managed lands. "We have seen major decreases in the fire danger statewide since last week as the recent round of storms came through this past weekend," said Cynthia Wilkerson, WDFW's lands division manager. "We know folks are eager to enjoy the outdoors this fall season and are pleased to be able to repeal these restrictions today. Fire danger remains high in the White Salmon and Chelan areas, but most eastside areas have moved from high to moderate and remains low in Blue Mountains due to recent rain events."

Campfire restrictions for WDFW's South Central Region including Benton, Franklin, Yakima and Kittitas counties will be in place through Oct. 15. A campfire ban remains in place through Oct. 15 at the Columbia Basin Wildlife Area in Adams and Grant counties. A campfire ban also remains in place through Oct. 31 at the Klickitat Wildlife Area in Klickitat County due to their drier, more sensitive nature. Campfires are always restricted on the Sunnyside-Snake River Wildlife Area.

WDFW institutes campfire bans in hot summer months to reduce fire risk across the state on Department-managed lands and surrounding public lands and communities. These actions help protect habitat, wildlife, and human health. "There has been an increased understanding of the need for these restrictions amid large, damaging wildfires in recent years," Wilkerson said. "We thank the public for helping reduce the risk of wildfire and continue to encourage people to recreate responsibly to prevent wildfires. This includes using alternatives to campfires such as propane stoves for cooking and fully extinguishing any campfires that do occur."

Outdoor recreationists are encouraged to check fire restrictions for various public land management agencies before they go, as they can vary. For more information about fires and fire prevention on public lands, visit the Washington State Department of Natural Resources website or the U.S. Forest Service website. For local restrictions, residents should contact their county. Maps and detailed information about WDFW's 33 wildlife areas are available on WDFW's website. ## 5 TIPS TO HELP SELL YOUR HOME FAST THIS FALL Part 2

Spring gets all the attention when it comes to homebuying. However, homes sell year-round. And despite the headlines, millions of existing homes are sold monthly. So, if you need to quickly sell your home this fall so you can go enjoy your new home, consider the following tips:

- #1. Manage Holiday Décor
- #2. Maintain Curb Appeal
- #3. Light it Up
- #4. Prepare for Cooler Temperatures

With colder temperatures outside, buyers will notice immediately if your heating unit isn't working correctly. Not only will a cold or drafty house make your home uncomfortable for buyers, but they may also be wary of purchasing a new heating system. To ensure your unit is running smoothly and provides optimal comfort, schedule a maintenance tune-up with a professional HVAC technician.

#5. Keep Your Home Clean

A clean home is an inviting one, so experts recommend a thorough cleaning. In addition to tidying up and putting things away, wash your windows inside and out. Now is the best time to make home repairs you may have been putting off. Before showing your home, consider hanging fresh towels in the bathrooms and kitchen. Set the dining room table, and buy fresh flowers for vases throughout the home.

Selling your home in the fall doesn't have to be a headache. With a bit of preparation, you'll soon be settling into your new home. For more information on buying and selling a home, contact the Central Washington Home Builders Association or visit www.CWHBA.org.

EVAN GOETZ BECOMES YOUNGEST FALL CLASSIC WINNER AT 16

West Richland, Wash. - Evan Goetz may be new behind the wheel on the streets and highways, but he can drive with the best of them on the racetrack.

That he proved Oct. 1 when the Okanogan teen who just turned 16 a few weeks back won the 36th running of the Fall Classic on the half- mile tri-oval at Tri City Raceway at Red Mountain Event Center.

Goetz, who just two weeks ago, won the Neal Newberry 125 at Wenatchee Super Oval, capped the 2023 season with victory over another youngster, Kasey Kleyn, by a third of a second and Naima Lang, .954 seconds back in the 125-lap, 62.5-mile race.

Winning the $10,000 first place money was not an easy victory for Goetz, as 2019 series champion, Trevor Cristiani grabbed the lead on a lap 99 restart. Goetz stalked Cristiani and took the lead back on lap 114.

Kleyn, who won Saturday's Pro Late Model main event win, grabbed second on lap 118 and took up chase of Goetz. Drama was added to the finish when the yellow flew on lap 120, resulting in a five-lap shootout.

Trevor Cristiani and Thomas Stanford completed the topfive. Andy Beaman, Ashton Cristiani, last chance qualifying race winner Trace Thompson, Dave Garber and Jason Jefferson rounded out the top-10.

Lang is a three-time winner at the Fall Classic, last visiting

HAEDEN PLYBON CLAIMS NWSLM CHAMPIONSHIP

After a four-win season in the Northwest Super Late Model Series presented by RaceCals, congratulations to Haeden Plybon for winning the series championship.

Plybon lost a motor with eight laps remaining, to finish 17th in the Fall Classic. It was his only finish outside the top-10.

NWSLM ROOKIE-OF-THE-YEAR IS ZACH RIEHL

Congratulations to Zach Riehl for scoring the Northwest Super Late Model Series Rookie-of-the-Year Award.

The honor was especially hard fought for Riehl who was involved in a late-race wreck on a lap 99.

The team thrashed on the car to get the car back on track. The effort was worth it, as Riehl earned the rookie honors over Wyatt King after a 16thplace finish in the Fall Classic.

the top step on the podium in 2020. He won back-to-back titles in 2011 and 2012 when the race was staged at Yakima Speedway.

Besides Lang, the 2023 Fall Classic included four former winners. Jason Jefferson (2016), Tayler Riddle (2015) landed 11th and 2022 victor, Donnie Wenat was 12th. Mike Longton (2008) finished 22nd.

Fourteen drivers finished on the lead lap while 2023 champ, Haeden Plybon, lost his engine on lap 117 and finished 17th. Plybon's earlier four races wins clinched the championship.
