Encountering Bigfoot in the Wild: A Guide to Safe Wilderness Interaction

Venturing into the great outdoors can be an exhilarating experience, but encountering unexpected wildlife can add an element of surprise to your adventure. While many are familiar with guidelines for encountering bears, what if you were to stumble upon a creature of legend, like Bigfoot, in the woods? Though the existence of Bigfoot remains unproven to skeptics, it's essential to be prepared for the unexpected. Here's a guide on what to do if you ever find yourself face to face with the elusive giant in the wilderness.

Remain Calm: Just like encountering a bear, it's crucial to stay calm if you believe you've come across Bigfoot. Panicking may escalate the situation and increase the chances of miscommunication. Take slow, deliberate breaths to steady yourself.

Keep Your Distance: Maintain a safe distance from Bigfoot. While the creature's behavior is unknown, avoiding direct confrontation is the best course of action. Slowly back away, giving the potential Bigfoot its space. Do not attempt to approach or corner the creature.

Avoid Eye Contact: Similar to bear encounters, avoid direct eye contact with Bigfoot. In the animal kingdom, direct eye contact is often perceived as a threat. By averting your gaze, you communicate that you mean no harm and are not seeking a confrontation.

Speak Calmly: If you feel the need to make noise to alert the creature of your presence, do so in a calm and assertive manner. Speak in a low, steady voice. Unlike bears, Bigfoot's understanding of human language is unknown, but maintaining a non-threatening tone is essential.

Back Away Slowly: If Bigfoot appears to be aware of your presence, back away slowly without turning your back to the creature. This action allows you to maintain visual contact and reduces the likelihood of startling the mysterious being.

Do Not Run: Just as running from a bear can trigger a chase response, running from Bigfoot may evoke a similar reaction. Stay composed and resist the urge to sprint away. Move slowly and deliberately to minimize the potential for a pursuit.

Report the Sighting: Once you've safely left the area, consider reporting your sighting to local wildlife authorities or researchers interested in cryptids. While evidence of Bigfoot's existence remains elusive, sharing your experience may contribute to ongoing investigations.

In the midst of the unexpected encounter with Bigfoot, it's important to address common misconceptions that may circulate in popular media. Contrary to what sensationalized portrayals may suggest, offering Bigfoot a peace offering in the form of beef jerky is not advisable and may, in fact, provoke hostility. While the creature's dietary preferences are unknown, assuming that a snack can bridge the gap between human and Bigfoot communication is a risky proposition. Stick to the recommended guidelines of maintaining a safe distance, avoiding direct eye contact, and speaking calmly to ensure a responsible and secure interaction in the wild. Remember, it's best to approach such encounters with a level-headed and cautious mindset, steering clear of actions that could potentially escalate the situation.

Encounters with legendary creatures like Bigfoot are rare, but being prepared and knowing how to react is essential for any wilderness enthusiast. By remaining calm, keeping a safe distance, and communicating non-threateningly, you can navigate a potential encounter with Bigfoot as responsibly as you would with any other wildlife in the wild. Always prioritize your safety and the well-being of the creatures you encounter in nature.

DOG OF THE WEEK

Hey there! I'm Bernie, the Saint Bernard! I recently arrived to CAC through local animal control. Unfortunately, my history is a mystery and it is unknown how I would do around small children. I have been around some other dogs here and it seems that I want to be in charge. Due to my size, it would probably best if I was your only pet in the home until we got to know each other better.

Please contact Kootenai Humane Society at 208-772-4019 or visit our website at www.CompanionsAnimalCenter.org

PLEASE SPAY OR NEUTER YOUR PETS!

Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

I took advantage of the good weather, the moon phase and one of the most productive fisheries in the state last week. The days are getting cooler, and I was glad I got two days of terrific fishing.

I took my good friend Rollie Schmitten to Omak Lake a couple of years ago and he was eager to go again. He was very impressed with the size and quality of the trout we caught on this big Colville Reservation lake. I was finally able to get him up there last week. On Thursday we got our first fish at 10:30 and at 2:55 we had caught and released 55 Lahontan cutthroat.

I had driven the Smoker Craft to the east end of the lake, and I launched the bow mount electric motor and started trolling when we found 100 feet of water. I had learned the previous week that the cutthroat liked a fast presentation, so I kept our speed at 1.7 to 1.8 mph.

We trolled a variety of plugs and lures. I have a favorite darting plug and I also found large Apex very effective. Out the back, with only a small 3/8 ounce weight, two lures were really popular with the cutts. One was a Coho Killer and the other was a Coyote spoon. These "surface" rods were as busy as the downrigger rods that I was fishing very deep to try to get bigger fish. I have caught and released cutthroat up to 28 inches on Omak Lake but didn't get any really big ones on this trip. The cutts did average a solid 18 inches.

The next day we didn't use any lures with treble hooks. Even though we pinched the barbs on all our lures, we spent too much time getting the hooks out of the net. Because we fished the day before we knew where to find the fish and the depth they were at and by noon we had released 37. The wind came up, so we headed for the launch. On Thursday we saw three other boats on the lake, the most I had seen in years.

I want to remind anglers that Omak Lake is on the Colville Reservation and there are tribal permits, fees and licenses required. All of these are available on the Colville Fish and Wildlife website.

Also, the launch at Omak Lake is very rough. I can launch my 20 foot Smoker Craft but needed to put the truck in 4 wheel low to get it up the hill. This week's photo is of Rollie with one of the cutthroat we caught on Omak Lake.

It used to be that kokanee fishing on Lake Chelan was done only in May and June. Big schools of kokanee would appear in the lower basin, and it was a fishing party off Lakeside Park. After June everyone figured that the kokanee had moved back up to Stehekin and you couldn't catch them. Back then people were trolling with heavy rods and with lead core line and heavy trolling blades with rubber snubbers. These days it's a whole different deal. Good kokanee fishing can be had on Lake Chelan year-round, and I have had good success catching kokanee in the winter and have found fish from "The Fences" above the Yacht Club clear down to the Blue Roofs. Also, most anglers use very soft action rods and downriggers. Big schools of kokanee are often found at over 100 feet deep, and trolling with tackle like Kokabow blades and spinners is very effective.

I am getting reports that the fishing is very good for kokanee on Lake Chelan right now, and that the fish are running 12 to 13 inches. What's exciting about this is that the big numbers of kokanee that do go to the Stehekin River are gone, and the fish people are catching right now are fish that are going to be around through next year's season. Imagine the size they will be in the spring and summer! We have lots of days through the fall and winter that are clear and sunny, and the water is calm. So, dig out the warm jackets and boots and get out there and get them.

Here's some good news for fans of fishing for coho salmon in our region. The adult coho salmon daily limit is going to be increased in the Hanford Reach area. Starting on November 1st, anglers may keep 2 adult coho on the Columbia River from the I-82 Bridge to the old Hanford townsite powerline crossing. This daily limit increase is in place until December 31st. This boost in the daily limit is possible as the returns to the Ringold Hatchery are good enough to allow for it. Fishery managers will be monitoring the catches and may adjust the season rules. Please visit the WDFW website and review the news release for all the details.

There are a couple of quality lakes in Grant County that anglers may want to try this fall. One is Lake Lenore. This lake is loaded with Lahontan cutthroat and is open through November 30th. Anglers cast spoons and spinners from the shore with success and the lake is popular with fly fishers. It is a selective fishery water, so no bait, barbless hooks and internal combustion motors are not allowed. The daily limit is one fish over 18 inches.

The other is Dry Falls Lake. Very popular with fly fishers it is open through November 30th. It is also a selective fishery lake, with no internal combustion motors allowed. The lake is inhabited with rainbow, browns and tiger trout. The daily limit is one fish over 18 inches.

I am hoping to put some walleye in the freezer this fall. I have heard some reports of very good catches of walleye from Potholes Reservoir. I may be dodging raindrops fishing this time of year, but it is worth it. The fall can be an excellent time to get good numbers of walleye from Potholes. Some other species that go on the bite in Potholes in the fall are largemouth and smallmouth bass, bluegill and crappie.

CHAMPION PROFILE

BRIAN JENNEN • 2023 Qlispe Raceway Sportsman Champ
Talk about a busy guy, that's Cheney's Brian Jennen who racked up lots of time at the drag strip and on the road getting to go race.

Close to home, Jennen drove to the Sportsman championship at Qlispe Raceway Park – formerly Spokane Raceway/County Raceway – where he earned a win, 300 to 212 points over Jeff McGee.

But down at the Walla Walla Drag Strip, an eighth-mile track in wine country, Jennen won a pair of titles in Pro and Sportsman. But that's a story, perhaps, for another day?

"I have switched cars a couple times and work hard to do good in each one," Jennen said of the racing program at Walla Walla. Those titles came with old fashioned drag racing skills. "All in the Monza off the footbrake," Jennen said.

Of the successes Jennen had in Spokane in 2023, he's very much proud of the win he scored during the Jody Peterson Memorial Footbrake Race at Qlispe.

Footbrake events are throwback racing from another era Jennen explained.

"No trans brakes or electronics, hold the brake, stall up and go," Jennen explained in a text message. "Old school and Jody was one of the best." Another good memory is Jennen actually got to win some of the $10,000 he helped raise for the race.

Racing is admittedly Jennen's life, outside of work where his day job is that of a commercial roofer and sider. "I work for Flynn BEC Spokane as a foreman. I do larger jobs, such as the siding on the Amazon building in Geiger area."

"As for racing, I am kind of an addict," Jennen said. "It's all I do, I think about it, I practice, I strive to do the best I can, and remain humble and teach everyone I meet what I have learned," he added.

Jennen in action on the track

He calls his girlfriend, my enabler. "Jolene has been the backbone and has backed all my crazy ideas, which usually turns out cool," Jennen said.

"The best thing about being involved with the racing community is the amazing people I have met and am proud to call my racing family," Jennen said, paying tribute to folks he sees on a regular basis on weekends.

The offseason will not offer much rest for Jennen as he will be turning one of the all-time classic muscle cars — a 1970 Pontiac GTO — into his 2024 bracket car. "I hope my next bracket car will be the last," he said.

The Chevy Monza that he used to collect the championships at both Qlispe and Walla Walla will be driven by Jolene he said.

When not roofing or racing, Jennen still gets grease under his fingernails operating Jennen Motorsports where he builds the popular LS engines.

Snowplow Safety

Don't assume a snowplow driver can see you!

Don't crowd or pass a snowplow!

Plows can push snow and spread material in either direction - so avoid passing whenever possible. If you must pass, try to be two lanes apart and use caution.

Increase your following distance!

Beware of flying snow, spray and material.

Avoid blind spots!

A plow driver's field of vision is limited.

Drive slowly!

Be smart. Be patient. A plow will pull over and let vehicles pass when safe.

Know before you go!

How to Clean When Your Home is For Sale

SECRET TIPS FROM THE PROS

Executing a deep clean before putting your home on the market will not only help it shine, but it will make tidiness easier to maintain between showings.

Here are some power-cleaning tips to try:

☐ Clean windows make a huge difference.

Remove window screens and place them outside on a tarp or other clean, waterproof surface. Use a garden hose, an all-purpose cleaner, and a soft brush to gently clean the screens. You don't need anything special to polish up window glass; just mix a solution of 1 part white vinegar to 8 parts water, plus a drop or two of dishwashing liquid in a spray bottle. Wipe with newspaper to avoid streaks. (Washing on a cloudy day also reduces streaking.)

☐ The fridge is the most common source of kitchen smells.

Check the drip tray underneath your refrigerator and wash out any standing water from defrosting. Scrub the inside of the fridge with a baking soda and water solution. Activated charcoal in the fridge can help keep odors at bay.

☐ Think outside the house.

It's amazing the difference a sparkling entryway makes to your home's curb appeal. Wipe down your front door, give the doormat a good shake/vacuum, and make sure dust and dirt haven't collected on outdoor furniture. Use a pressure washer to give your driveway and garage floor a good cleaning. The acidity in dark cola drinks can help remove oil, rust, and grease stains, along with a little elbow grease.

☐ Target the Bathroom.

For tile floors, apply your usual cleaner and then run a wet/dry vac, which will suck contaminants out of the grout. Pour a 1/4 cup each of baking soda and vinegar down the drains, leaving the concoction overnight, then flush with boiling water. Clean soap scum and mildew from plastic shower curtains by tossing them into your washer on the gentle cycle in cold water, with detergent and 1/2 cup vinegar (if mildew is present, add 1/2 cup of bleach instead of vinegar). Put a couple of large towels into the machine to act as scrubbers. Allow the curtain to drip-dry on the rod.

☐ Make your bed better.

Vacuum mattresses and box springs, and then rotate and flip over. Do the same for removable furniture cushions. This is also a great time to wash or dry-clean the dust ruffle and mattress pad.

Add new loft to a lumpy comforter by having two people vigorously shake the quilt up and down to redistribute stuffing.

☐ Wash the walls.

Grease, smoke, and dust can adhere to walls and make even the best decorating look dingy. Resist the temptation to spot-clean since it will make the rest of the wall look dirtier. Mop walls using a general-purpose cleaner diluted with hot water. Start at the top corner of the wall to avoid drips. Don't press too hard, and rinse the mop head frequently in clean water. Use melamine foam cleaner to erase scuffs and stains.
