Fishing Magician

Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net

I think I picked the worst day to fish last week. We have had some really nice sunny days this fall, and I should pay more attention to the weather and less about when I want to go. If I am more patient and pick sunny and calm days I will probably have better experiences on the water.

My fishing partner James Lebow asked for the second time, "Whose idea was this"? Well, it was my idea. James is one of my frequent fishing partners that I can count on to go rain or shine. I thought I had picked a day with partly sunny skies and calm water. However, we were in the fourth hour of walleye fishing on Potholes Reservoir, and I was wrong about the weather. The wind was knocking us around, our fingers were freezing, and James was having a heck of a time keeping the boat straight.

We were looking for walleye in the rolling dunes northeast of the State Park. Occasionally, we would see a walleye mark on the screen, but the bite was far from hot. We had landed some decent walleye but the intervals between good bites and landing a fish were long. We had caught some dandy largemouth bass, a whopper bluegill, and a decent perch. We stuck with it though. I was glad I wasn't driving. James had the kicker in gear and used the bow mount to steer us through the marks on the fish finder he laid down on previous trips. Actually, we were glad we put up with the conditions as long as we did. When we headed for the dock there were five nice walleye in the live well. They ranged in size from 14 to 20 inches. More than enough for a couple of fresh walleye dinners. It wasn't the coldest day we had spent on Potholes, but it was close. This week's photo is of the 20 incher from our trip to Potholes.

As you probably know, I have been checking on the Icicle River for signs of coho salmon for the past few weeks. Finally, I found evidence of them being in the river. In fact, I came across two anglers with their limits of coho. They were fishing at the hole right at the boundary below the hatchery. They had their four fish and showed me photos of several more that were in the hole. They said they had several more swats on their twitching jigs and finally hooked and landed their four.

If they are there they are in other areas of the Icicle. They said another place they had heard that fish were being taken was at the access off Icicle River Road. Although the fish are dark in appearance, in previous seasons, I have found that the meat is still dark red on these fish. It sure took the fish a long time to show up this year, due to the very low water conditions.

We are expecting rain for the next several days and that should move more coho into the upper Icicle. I am glad to see they are finally getting here. Now's the time to get 'em. There were more anglers than I had seen on the Icicle last weekend. Fishing is still pretty slow, though. One angler I talked to had released a fish that was foul hooked, but that was it for him. He was the only angler I saw in the stretch near the handicapped platform. There were more anglers fishing the corner below the boat launch that I didn't talk to.

I got a call from Kevin Witte the other day. I have done a couple of videos with Kevin, who guides for walleye, kokanee and sturgeon, out of Kettle Falls. In one I landed a walleye that probably weighed over 14 pounds, and in the other one I landed a sturgeon just under the slot limit. He said sturgeon fishing on Lake Roosevelt is hot right now. He is averaging 10 to 12 fish a day. The slot limit is 53 to 63 inches, and he is getting his share of keepers. The day I talked to him his party hooked 20, landed 16 and got one keeper. He is fishing two areas right now. One is off the mouth of the Colville River and the other is around China Bend. He says he hits several holes on his way up to China Bend and that makes it a fun trip. Kevin mentioned that he is very impressed with the hatchery program, and the way the sturgeon fishery on Lake Roosevelt is going. He will be fishing right up to the end of the season on November 30th. I couldn't make it up to fish with Kevin next week, but there are more open days in November. Man, I do want to do a day of this. If you want to experience "big game" fishing in Washington, you can contact Kevin at 509-398-7995, or visit his website at www.UpriverOutfitter.com.

If you fish Brants Landing or the fishing accesses above Chief Joseph Dam on Rufus Woods, you have probably met Dave, the guy that checks catches of trout for the Colville Tribe. He is out their almost every day and is a great source of current information on the fishing. I called him the other day, wondering if it was time to give fishing a try from the shore at Brandts Landing. After talking with Dave, I decided I might want to wait a few weeks. He reported that fishing had been pretty slow, and the fish that angles were catching had been smaller than usual. There are some 1- to 2 pound trout caught, and he doesn't know where they are coming from. The triploids that the Colville Tribe releases into Rufus Woods are typically bigger than this when they go in and are much larger than that by the fall and winter.

I usually start fishing at Brandts in December, and I think I will stick to that plan this year. I would probably have better luck fishing from shore at Spring Canyon or Keller for trout on Lake Roosevelt. If I hit it on the right day I have caught a limit of them that measure 16 to 21 inches. These are triploids, too, and are great for smoking.

Increase Your Home's Value with Renovations

Remodeling projects can improve the enjoyment and comfort of your home. If you intend to sell your current home soon, the projects you tackle today can pay off in the future. Depending on the type of remodeling project, improvements can add to your home resell value. However, not all remodeling projects are equal when generating the greatest resell value for homeowners.

Zonda, a housing market research firm, recently released their annual Cost vs. Value Report, which tracks the value ratio over the cost for 23 common remodeling projects. According to Zonda, the value figures are derived from a survey of more than 6,000 real estate agents. As in previous years, exterior projects deliver the best return on investment. Why? First impressions have an outsized influence on potential buyers, and a home's exterior that is well-maintained home leaves a positive impression.

GARAGE DOORS

One essential home exterior feature is a goodlooking garage door. According to the Cost vs. Value Report, homeowners can recoup 102% of the garage door replacement cost. There are numerous types of garage doors to choose from. However, the best place to start is focusing on function and design. Experts recommend purchasing a new garage door that seamlessly fits your existing exterior style.

ENTRY DOORS

A garage door isn't the only entryway feature that reaps rewards. In addition, homeowners recoup 100% of their investment of an entry door replacement. When selecting a front door, you'll also want to ensure the style and materials complement your overall home aesthetic.

MANUFACTURED STONE VENEER

Another exterior project that topped the list was manufactured stone veneer. Homeowners that tackle this remodeling project are estimated to recover 102% of their investment. Manufactured stone veneer exhibits the look of natural stone and is available in various colors and sizes.

KITCHENS & BATHROOMS

A couple of interior projects also generate a generous return on investment. For example, according to the report, homeowners who invest in a minor kitchen remodel will likely recoup more than 71% of their investment. This type of remodeling is generally smaller and involves replacing dated materials and fixtures instead of knocking down walls or reconfigur-

CHAMPION PROFILE

DYLAN ALMEIDA

Qlispe Raceway 2023 Bike & Sled champion

Suffice to say that drag racing is in the gene pool for Dylan Almeida, and, perhaps, some of what might have vaulted him to the top of the point standings at Qlispe Raceway Park's (formerly Spokane Raceway/Spokane Co. Raceway) Bike & Sled class in 2023.

"I told myself I wasn't going to race this year and focus on doing more, but we see how that worked out," Almeida wrote in an email.

His grandfather, the late Jim "Sugar Bear" Clark, was a longtime bracket racer at the track. "I wanna' thank my Grandpa (Sugar Bear) for getting me into the sport at a young age," Almeida said.

Almeida also thanks his mother, Jennifer Jones, "For letting me skip school to go racing and making all of my team shirts. Shoutout to JJ American Design."

Almeida raced for West Valley in the high school class when he was 16. "I have plenty of trophies from it, even a

A BOAT OUT OF WATER

One of the top inboard hydroplanes in the nation, Mr. Jiggs, driven by Josh Harnack, was quite an attention getently. The boat took part in a trunk-or-treat event at Ron's Drive-In in Spokane Valley that attracted over 900 people. Mr. Jiggs competes in the National Modified Inboard Hydroplane class in Region 10 of the American Power Boat Association. It is named in honor of Josh's great-grandfather's World War I bomber squadron. The boat has won a national championship and also set two world speed records, one in competition and the other straightaway at a speed of 156 mph plus over the quarter mile kilo. "Kids there never saw anything like it; it was really fun," said Josh's dad, Brent Harnack, himself a former driver.

"Wally" but never a championship always second place in the final points standings," he added.

A Wally is the trophy named for NHRA founder Wally Parks and is awarded at many tracks and events.

Almeida started racing motorcycles in Walla Walla three years ago but admits he "Never did any good, I struggled with a hand clutch and couldn't get better than a .100 reaction time.'

"This year I really worked on not being fast and just being as consistent as possible, and that seemed to work pretty good. I'll be back next year to try again!

Almeida offers a lengthy list of people he said have contributed to his love of and success in the sport of drag racing, including "My Brother, Devin Clark, for giving me grey hairs at a young age."

Thanks also to Brian Jennen and Jolene Chambers for taking him all over the northwest and letting him race the "smart car.'

Bruce and Merri Nickerson have also adopted me, he said. Thanks to the Cooper Family "For letting an annoying little kid hang out and learn from. I'm sure I'm missing tons as there are so many people I consider family at the race track. But that's why I call it home."

What does Almeida do other than racing?

"I love to DJ because there's nothing better than when the crowds jumping and the music's bumping," he said. "Other then that I enjoy concerts, music festivals, stuff like that."
