How To Master Shopping Early For The Holidays

"The early bird gets the worm" is a well-known English proverb that historians trace all the way back to the 1600s. Though the words might first have been popularized hundreds of years ago, they remain as true today as they were then, particularly in regard to holiday shopping.

Savvy shoppers have long touted the importance of starting early when looking for holiday gifts for loved ones. Seasoned procrastinators may never embrace early shopping, but others who want to a less hectic holiday shopping season can consider these tips.

• Begin with a plan. Holiday shopping excursions, whether they take place in town, at the mall or online, can take longer than expected when shoppers have no idea what they're looking for. Prior to your first holiday shopping trip, jot down gift ideas for each person on your list. Then scour stores or websites for those items. Starting early affords shoppers time to bargain hunt and ensures supply shortages or other issues won't get in the way of a happy loved one come the holiday season.

- Recognize the notion of "early" has changed. Early holiday shopping used to be synonymous with the retail holiday Black Friday, which occurs the day after Thanksgiving in the United States. However, many holiday shoppers now begin buying gifts long before they've purchased a Thanksgiving turkey. In its 2022 Consumer Pulse Survey, McKinsey & Company found that 56 percent of consumers started their holiday shopping in October. A host of variables may have influenced that shift, but supply chain issues related to the COVID-19 pandemic have lingered, which undoubtedly compelled consumers to get an especially early start on holiday shopping. Shoppers who want to ensure everything arrives on time for the holiday season must recognize that "early" shopping now involves beginning around Halloween, if not earlier.
- Take the (local) road less traveled. Shopping local merchants in person is a strategy savvy shoppers have long since embraced, but it's one that's especially beneficial in an era marked by supply chain issues and inflation. Local merchants don't have the overhead or sizable staffs of big box or chain stores, which enables them to keep costs low. And since local merchants produce many of their own products, it's likely there's something in store that shoppers will love and less likely that they will have issues filling orders. A late fall afternoon in a local shopping district can yield an array of treasures and help holiday shoppers find the right gift for many a person on their list.

• When in doubt, go gift card. If the right gift is proving elusive even when shopping early, shoppers should not hesitate to go the gift card route. Shoppers need not feel as though a gift card is a nonstarter, as a 2022 survey from the National Retail Federation found that 54 percent of survey respondents indicated gift cards were the most desirable gift of the holiday season. Shopping early is a great way to enjoy a less hectic holiday season.

Gift Local This Season

Homemade Pie Makes for a Perfect Ending to a Holiday Meal

Though pie afficionados typically have their own go-to pie, pumpkin pie is especially popular at the holiday dinner table. Hosts who want to cater to the masses can serve up the following recipe for "Pumpkin Pie" courtesy of Emily Luchetti's "Classic Stars Desserts" (Chronicle Books). Featuring homemade pumpkin purée and cream, this recipe is sure to make guests happy this holiday season.

Pumpkin Pie

Serves 8

- 3 large eggs
- 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 1/2 cups heavy whipping cream
- 1 1/2 cups pumpkin purée, homemade (see below)
- Preheat the oven to 350 F.

- 1 tablespoon rum
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 prebaked 91/2-inch pie crust
- 1 recipe chantilly cream (see below)

In a large bowl, whisk together the eggs and brown sugar until blended. Add the corn syrup and whisk until smooth. Whisk in the cream, pumpkin purée, rum, cinnamon, ginger, and salt until well mixed. Pour into the prebaked pie crust.

Bake until the filling is set, about 30 minutes. Let cool to room temperature. Serve with the chantilly cream.

Chef's Tip: The pie may be made a day in advance, covered and refrigerated. Bring to room temperature before serving.

Pumpkin Purée

Makes 21/2 cups

- 2 1/2 pounds sugar pumpkins
- 1/4 cup water

Preheat the oven to 325 F. Cut each pumpkin into sixths. Scrape out the seeds and any stringy pulp. Put the pumpkin pieces, cut-side up, and the water in a baking pan and cover the pan with aluminum foil. Bake until soft when pierced with a fork, about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Remove from the oven and, when cool enough to handle, scoop out the flesh with a spoon and purée in a food mill or food processor. If the purée is watery, place it in a large sauté pan and cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until thick. The timing will depend on how watery the purée is.

Let cool, cover and refrigerate until using.

Chantilly Cream

Makes about 21/4 cups

- 1 cup heavy whipping cream
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar

Put the cream, vanilla and sugar in a bowl and whip by hand with a whisk or with an electric mixer on medium speed until soft peaks begin to form. The cream should hold its shape but still be very smooth.

Cover and refrigerate until serving.

Chef's tip: You can whip the cream an hour or two in advance, cover and refrigerate it. If it sits longer than that, it will start to thin out and you will need to rewhip it lightly before using. A few quick stirs with a whisk will do the trick.

DOG OF THE WEEK

Meet Beethoven! I am a goofy, loving boy. I think you can tell by my big smile and goofy demeanor. I'm looking for a home that is willing to train me and are able to provide a stable and safe place for me to call home. A home with no kids or small animals (including cats and dogs) where I can stretch my legs to run and play. I am great on a leash, unless I see another dog... then I go a little crazy.

OperationDogTag.org

I met Joe Scheffer at "Operation Dog Tag", when I was at a very low point in my life ... After coming home I began to struggle and fell deeper and deeper into what seemed like a black hole that had no exit. My marriage was in turmoil and I just couldn't get myself together, until Raider, my dog who was given to me by "Operation Dog Tag." This dog is so much more than a companion. He's like a glimmer of hope in a black hole of depression. This incredible pup has truly saved me, and I am blessed to have him!

Fishing Magician

"The Outdoor Insider" Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net

The first snow has fallen here at my home in Leavenworth. Well, a "wintery mix" is what they call it. I managed to pick a couple of sunny days last week to get out on the water and try my luck. It is getting near the time when I change my fishing tactics.

This time of year, I often choose to fish from the shore at several locations in our region. Rainbow trout and triploid rainbow trout are my target, and the possibility of landing some really big fish is very good.

This year, the Colville Tribe released over 45,000 triploids into Rufus Woods. They released 15,000 in February, weighing 2 pounds each. In the period of April through May they released 25,000 2 pounders, and an additional 5,000 were released later in May and June. The fish in this plant weighed 1.8 pounds. When you consider the rapid growth rate of these fish, anglers can realistically expect to catch trout weighing 4 to 6 pounds now. The possibility of getting one that weighs double digits is very real.

Most anglers will fish Rufus Woods at the public accesses above Chief Joseph Dam, or at my favorite spot, Brandts Landing, which is a Federal Park six miles above the boat launch. Fishing from shore at the middle net pens is very popular, even though this requires a Tribal Access permit.

I also like to fish Lake Roosevelt from shore. Near Coulee Dam I fish at Crescent Beach or Spring Canyon. I also fish from shore at Keller. The trout I catch on Lake Roosevelt average 16 to 20 inches. At all of these locations I use the same method. A sliding slip sinker rig with the hook baited with either Power Bait, a marshmallow and shrimp or nightcrawler combo. This week's photo is of two limits of trout Tom Verschuren and I landed at Keller in November a few years ago.

I keep a backpack handy, that is loaded with what I need for a day of fishing from shore. There are rod holders, extra leaders and sinkers, a stringer, a good selection of Power Bait, a jar of shrimp and marshmallows. I can grab this and hit the door with everything I need to catch Rufus Woods or Lake Roosevelt trout. I will also often bring hand and foot warmers, my Fishing Buddy propane heater, or even some wood to start a blaze in the fireboxes that are located at many of the public access points at Brandts Landing.

The weather forecast was for another sunny day last Thursday, so I called my friend James Lebow in Moses Lake, and asked if he would like to give Potholes a try. He was willing so we fished it Thursday morning. I wanted to see if we could catch some walleye with crank baits off side planers, and we trolled the area at the very top end of Medicare Beach. It was here we scored a first—a catfish on a plug! We also landed a nice smallmouth. We weren't getting any hits on the plugs and really weren't marking many walleye, so we headed to the other side of the reservoir, where we usually find and catch walleye. We switched from trolling side planers and plugs to bottom bouncers and spinners. Well, that didn't really pay off either. We only caught one whopper perch. We marveled at the huge flocks of Canada geese and snow geese that were flying overhead or rafting up on Potholes.

We contemplated what we wanted to do next, and I called Dave, who checks catches on the bottom end of Rufus Woods for the Colville Tribe. He said that there are still mostly small trout being caught, and no one seems to know where they are coming from. I will call my contact at the Colville hatchery and see if they have released any small fish lately. So, we may wait a while before we fish from the shore at Brandts Landing. I have had some great days here over the winter months.

() line

We have many clear, calm and sunny days in the winter over here, and last Tuesday was one of them. It was a great day to be on Lake Chelan, and we had very good kokanee fishing. Tom Verschueren and I had a great start just above the Yacht Club, with a double. One was a small cutthroat and the other was a small kokanee. I thought, oh boy, here we go! We landed seven kokanee > trolling in this spot. There were three other boats trolling above the Yacht Club. Traditionally, this is a good place on the lake to find schools of kokanee in the winter.

Then, the bite really slowed down, and the wind started to blow a bit. We figured that this would be a good time to try another area, so I drove the boat to the "Blue Roofs", which are on the shore across the road from Pat and Mike's. There were no other boats here in the lower basin. We got a fish within ten minutes of getting our gear out, but then nothing for about 20 minutes. We crossed the lake and started trolling below Rocky Point and things changed—for the better. We were getting more fish, even spotting some schools of fish on the depth sounder, and they were larger than the kokanee we were getting above the Yacht Club. We got 13 in about an hour and a half. Several were 13 to 14 inches.

We were running the downriggers at 80 feet, and rods with five ounce leads at 80 on the line counter out the back. The back rods were catching as many or more than the downrigger rods. I had my favorite orange spinners behind orange Kokabow blades on a couple of rods and pinks spinners behind pink Kokabow blades on a couple of rods. I started running more pink earlier this season with good results. I was keeping my speed at about 1.2 mph.

There is a lot of good fishing to look forward to this winter. I have too many things to be thankful for on this Holiday. I hope you all have a great Turkey Day!

Classified ads are a great way to sell something, find something or hire a contractor to do needed work around your home or business. Sadly, our advertisers cannot always trust the individuals who respond to their ads. It has come to our attention that there are scammers out there who respond to ads with the sole intention of deceiving the advertiser. Typically these scams are actually generated by automated bots. Here are a few things to look out for:

When selling something:

Scammers typically text & ask what your final price is. They will then ask you if you can ship the item. In return, they tell you that they will send a cashier's check with some extra money added in to cover shipping. Do not fall for this. Accepting cash for items is the best bet. For large purchases, meeting at the buyer's financial institution for the payment is encouraged.

Where to meet:

If you are unsure of a buyer or seller, ask them to meet you at the local police station or S.C.O.P.E. office, or a public location such as a grocery store parking lot. People who don't have anything to hide will be agreeable to that type of meeting spot.

Who to hire:

If you are looking for a contractor to fix or build something, make sure they are licensed & bonded. This can be verified on the Washington State Labor & Industries contractor site. Do not pay in advance for any services or materials until you have a signed contract. Many contractors ask for half the money in advance & the remainder when the job is done. It is good to verify that the individual does, indeed, still work for the company they are representing. It is also a good idea to ask for references. Most contractors are happy to

Support Small Business This Holiday Season

The holidays are here again, and shopping around for unique gifts is in full swing. However, the last couple of years have been challenging for many of our small businesses & local retailers. Therefore, to help our local economy recover, it's more important now than ever to support small businesses in our community this holiday season.

Overall, more than 32 million small businesses in the United States employ nearly half (47%) of the country's private workforce. In our community, every time you patronize a homegrown shop, book store or other retailers, you are helping to make a sizable contribution locally. In addition, small businesses have generated 12.9 million new jobs over the past 25 years, accounting for 2 out of every 3 jobs added to the economy. So, there is no question that small businesses help communities thrive across the country.

If you've passed by a local shop several times but never had an opportunity to visit, now is the best time to check it out. Small businesses in our area often carry locally made, one-of-a-kind gifts or items you may not be able to find anywhere else.

Once your holiday shopping list is complete, if you're looking for someone to remodel, need yard work, or any other services consider seeking out a business based in our community to see what they offer. Our community has an array of qualified professionals, for more on information on locating a small business, check out The Exchange each week or contact us at 509-922-3456!

Real Estate Trends & Advice

WILL YOUR PROPERTY SELL IN THE WINTER?

Most sellers remove their house or property from the market in the winter, mostly because they don't want to move in the icy conditions, but sometimes it is just because they perceive that a subdued winter market would hold no promise of selling. While both of those reasons may be valid, it certainly doesn't mean that the home or property won't sell.

Since most people (including some Realtors*) think that way, the inventory of available listings usually shrinks dramatically in winter months in our local area. That condition may actually give you the edge, since the inventory is down and your listing may become much more visible.

While it is true that most of us dread moving when the snow is on the ground, we occasionally experience milder winters like this past few years when it would be more tolerable.

Land sales seem to increase at odd times of the year. For instance, each January, when people are able to calculate the amount of tax return they will be receiving, land sales seem to increase. One reason for that delayed reaction is also that most land buyers spend a lot of time thinking about it before they bite. There is usually a lesser sense of urgency for land buyers, compared to a home buyer who needs shelter immediately. Their desire for property is often more related to a dream they have to get to the country someday rather than an actual immediate need. These types of buyers have usually found and viewed their property of choice many times before they actually submit an offer in writing. Of course there is always an exception to the rule! I once showed a property in chest deep snow (on snow shoes) to a buyer who was so enamored by the beauty of the property that they immediately purchased the parcel, even though they had never seen it without snow.

Many Realtors* want inventory that will sell immediately. The reason is obvious. They want to see an immediate return on their marketing efforts and think that winter may not be the best time for that. Experienced and established brokers may be more willing to take the chance, since they know that homes and properties do sell in the winter time, and they have learned to create a financial buffer in case such inventory doesn't sell immediately.

MELINA BANKS - SUNSET SPEEDWAY

Despite having her gene pool deeply rooted in drag racing, Melina Banks has decided to pursue her passion for speed on the dirt go-kart track at Sunset Speedway in Spokane.

And why fiddle with success?

Banks' dad, Patrick and her grandmother, Bonnie McLain, both spent years devoted to the quarter-mile. Bonnie, who passed away in January, was the forever director of the timing tower at Spokane Raceway Park.

Patrick has driven all kinds of cars, both on the oval and drag strip. He was the 2018 vintage modified champion at Stateline Speedway.

But there's no convincing 13-year-old Melina, a Mountainside Middle School in the Mead district to switch from dirt to drags.

"She likes drag racing to watch," Patrick wrote, however, "She says too much work for a short ride.

"We have a blown alcohol front engine-dragster and she wants nothing to do with it," her dad added. As far as karts vs. drag racing is concerned, she wanted the longer ride, not just a few seconds.

Banks won in two classes in 2023 at Sunset, one being Jr. II Clone where she was in a battle with Bently Bartle and edged him by just 2 points. Banks was the lone driver in the Jr. Cage Karts.

This year is her fourth consecutive year of winning the championship in the flat kart.

Melina won the Jr. Wing class championship where she raced with the open 500s all year. Her best finish was third with half the engine power.

Melina also made a trip to Rainer and raced with the Pacific Outlaws and finished sixth out of 12 in the a main starting last after racing her way in the A main. This placed her first in the 250 class.

The flat kart has special meaning for Melina as it was a gift from her grandmother before she passed away.

Looking to 2024, Melina is planning on running the Junior Unlimited All Stars and going for a UAS championship. Unlimited All Stars race all over the country with the Grand Nationals in Ar-

"We are trying to schedule two quarter points races at Sunset Speedway this year for UAS and a few on the coast," Patrick said.

Melina wants to stay with dirt racing if we move into other classes," her dad said. "She would like to do dirt modified or sprint cars."

When not immersed in racing Melina plays volleyball, basketball and is a member of the school band where she plays trombone.
