DOG OF THE WEEK

Meet Jester! He is outgoing, playful and has a big heart who he is eager to share with anyone. He is looking for an owner who wants a rough and tumble kind of dog and has the time to work on his training. He is young both in age and at heart and is looking forward to having a big yard to romp around in. Jester is doing great with his leash training, enjoys his time at playgroup and playing fetch.

WEEKLY Horoscopes for Nov 30 - Dec 6

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20

Aries, if you work or spend time with an introvert, reach out to him or her and strike up a conversation. This person may only need a little nudge to become a good friend.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, a friendly competition that may have started out lighthearted is now starting to transform into something a bit more competitive. Dial it back a bit.

GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, things are starting to slow down in your life, and your to-do list has gotten shorter. Expect things to ramp up again soon enough, but enjoy the break for now.

CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22

This is a good week to begin something that you've been thinking about tackling, Cancer. You'll have pep in your step and others willing to lend a hand if it is needed.

LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23

Leo, someone may offer you some honest feedback that is a little too raw for your ego at this point in time. You will simply have to take it with dignity and lick your wounds elsewhere.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

You need to be the driving force on a project that will pop up, Virgo. Even though you're not sure of your readiness for this type of work, you can give it a good attempt.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

Whatever you tackle this week, it shouldn't revolve entirely around money, Libra. Finances may have gotten in the way of things for some time; focus now on relationships.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let a dream you had put you all in a tizzy, Scorpio. That was just your subconscious working through some things and not a prediction of things to come.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

Don't be shy about receiving credit for something that you did, Sagittarius. You deserve the recognition no matter how large or small the task. Celebrate all your victories.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

You may be coveting something of late, Capricorn. However, only when you stop actively wanting that thing or person will you finally get what you desire.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, your positive attitude is an asset in life. Even as challenges come your way this week, you can prove the naysayers wrong by maintaining your rosy outlook.

PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20

Pisces, standing up for yourself this week is challenging, but you need to do it to get your point across. Don't worry, you have many supporters in your corner cheering you on.

Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

Holy cow, it's going to be December. I am very pleased to be this far into winter and I can still see the ground here in Leavenworth. No significant snow yet, so I am planning to get out in the boat for as long as I can. It's cold, but when the sun is shining, it's a great time to be outdoors and on the water somewhere.

Both Eric Granstrom and I have been reporting about the fun times we have had shore fishing at Brandts Landing and other locations on Rufus Woods Reservoir or Lake Roosevelt. I usually wait until some time in December to fish these places, but I just couldn't wait. James Lebow was eager to fish Brandts Landing, so we gave it a try last Friday. In spite of what the Colville Tribe fish checker had been telling me—that only small fish were being landed at Brandts, we wanted to go anyway. The forecast was for a cold, but sunny day, and I got there early to claim my favorite spot. James showed up while I was making my first cast, and we soon had four rods baited with Power Bait soaking as far as we could cast from shore. James got a bite but didn't hook up, and about an hour later he did land the only fish we got that day. Turns out, Dave the fish checker, was right. It was probably the smallest trout we had ever caught at Brandts. Still, it was a great way to spend some time outdoors. I will be fishing Brandts later this winter.

For anglers who haven't been to Brandts Landing, it isn't difficult to find. When you cross the Highway 17 Bridge at Bridgeport, right below Chief Joseph Dam, you take a left. Continue on this road for 8.2 miles and you will arrive at this Federal Park. There is a vault toilet here and picnic tables and fireboxes at most of the eight accesses to the river. Anglers should note that they will be casting onto a shallow flat. Even a very long cast will only put your bait into eight to ten feet of water. There are some weed lines along here and the bottom is made of round rock, that can snag your line. Most people will use large egg sinkers, a three-foot leader and a size 6 to 4 hook. Power Bait is the most popular attractant added to the hook. I like to use a marshmallow and shrimp, or marshmallow and nightcrawler combo, scented with Graybills Guide Formula, the Craw/Anise flavor. Anglers should also be aware of the rule that states that all fish taken with bait must be retained. Any fish released does count toward the two-fish daily limit on Rufus Woods.

I have so many things to be thankful for that it is impossible to mention them all. What a blessing to be born and raised in Eastern Washington, and to have a father that introduced me to the joy of fishing. I have a wife that has endured freezing temperatures when ice fishing and steelhead fishing, and the heat of the tropics when we traveled to Belize. She has spent countless hours editing and preparing videos that she recorded to be aired on the local television stations and continues to edit my writing, so it makes sense to my readers. Many people have told me that I have the best job in the world, and I don't disagree. Sharing my experience with listeners to my radio broadcasts, readers of my columns and E-Letters, and through videos has been very rewarding. I want to thank the fishing partners and guides for their time to do the videos. I couldn't do any of this without the support of the many sponsors and advertisers on my broadcasts and website. I want to especially thank Bob Feil Boats and Motors. They have provided me with Smoker Craft and Kingfisher boats that make my on the water experiences possible. This week's photo is of my wife Eileen scraping snow and ice off the windshield of the boat so I can see where I am going after we launch on Lake Chelan in a past season.

One of the most popular fisheries in Eastern Washington is for triploid rainbow trout in Rufus Woods Reservoir. There are several public access points with picnic tables and fireboxes just above Chief Joseph Dam and at Brandts Landing. These get a lot of use by anglers, but the fishing effort by boaters and shore anglers is even greater at the upper end of the reservoir. The boat launch at Seatons Grove, which is just six miles downstream from Coulee Dam, is often crowded with trucks and trailers. Most of these boats are headed for the net pens. This is where the triploids are raised and the feed that filters out of the nets attracts good concentrations of these trout. Boaters will anchor near the pens and usually cast bait to catch fish. Many boaters are willing to pay the $80 Access fee and the $10 launch permit to launch at the middle pens. Shore space is limited here, but the fishing can be quite good. Shore anglers are required to pay the Access fee, which can be done by the day for $20. No Tribal license is required here. Most fish with bait on the bottom.

I like to troll downstream below the upper net pen. I use a bottom bouncer rig and spinner baited with a nightcrawler. Using this method, I am able to catch walleye and triploid rainbow trout. I try to keep the boat in about 50 feet of water and do have to move out and around the large snag about half way through the trolling path. I do hang up occasionally but find it a great way to "double down" on my opportunity to catch fish.

Rufus Woods and Lake Roosevelt aren't the only good places to fish in the winter in our area. The kokanee fishing on Lake Chelan may be the best it has been in years this winter. I have already had a two-limit day, and plan to have many more. If you see me out there be sure to say hi!

Department of Ecology News Release

LOCAL PARTNERS USING $3 MILLION TO SAFEGUARD CRITICAL SHORELINE AREAS

Chiwawa River in Chelan County

Washington's approximately 28,000 miles of river, lake, and marine shorelines are getting a protective boost. We are awarding $3 million in competitive grants to 21 cities and counties across the state to help them safeguard their local shorelines.

The grants are designed to support local shoreline planning efforts such as:

- Building climate change resiliency
- Improving access to public shorelines
- Understanding how river channels migrate over time
- Monitoring shoreline permitting
- Updating environmental restoration plans

State law and regulations mandate that Washington cannot lose the important functions shorelines provide such as supporting water-dependent uses, controlling stormwater and erosion, filtering surface water runoff, providing habitat for fish and wildlife including salmon, and allowing access to public areas where land and water meet.

Climate Change Resiliency

While the maximum grant award is $250,000, two counties are receiving two separate grants. Grays Harbor County, for example, is getting $130,000 to conduct a vulnerability and risk assessment to identify potential impacts from sea level rise.

In Puget Sound and on the Pacific coast, seven other jurisdictions are using state grants to build resiliency to rising sea levels and other climate change-driven events such as storm surges during higher-than-average tides.

River Channel Migration

Grays Harbor County is also receiving $82,500 to study how local river channels meander and change over time. Mapping how river channels migrate will help the county better protect and manage its river shoreline areas.

Chelan ($221,446) and Clallam ($197,131) counties will also study how local river channels migrate. Chelan County will assess the lower Wenatchee River and Nason Creek, while Clallam County will produce channel migration maps for the lower Elwha River.

Environmental Functions

Other jurisdictions will use grant funding to help monitor shoreline conditions to protect their integrity. Benton County, for instance, will use $145,000 to monitor and manage the ecological functions of its shorelines, including reviewing permitted development and restoration projects. Together, Garfield, Asotin, and Columbia counties are getting $165,000, and Grant County is receiving $160,000 for similar tasks.

Public Access

Finally, Rock Island ($40,282), North Bend ($100,00), and Washougal ($175,000) will use grant funding to enhance public access to their shoreline areas. Rock Island, for example, will evaluate and identify safe public access points for water-related recreation to increase recreational opportunities and public access to publicly-owned areas of the shoreline.

We posted a complete list of individual shoreline grant awards, here: <https://ecology.wa.gov/about-us/payments-contracts-grants/grants-loans/find-a-grant-or-loan/shoreline-planning-competitive-grants>

MAKE YOUR HOME SAFE FOR ALL AGES

Your 80-year-old aunt is coming to stay for a few days. You're looking forward to the visit, but realize your home may not be entirely "older-generation" friendly. To help enhance the safety and comfort of your visitor, especially one who may have some of the physical challenges that come with aging, here are a few quick and inexpensive things you can do to make the time less stressful for you and more comfortable for your guest:

Consider pathways in the house. Clear obstacles, and maybe even move furniture that a person usually has to maneuver around. Move any electrical cords that are where a person might walk – perhaps taping them to a wall or using a hook. Clear stairs of any objects— shoes, books, and other personal items that tend to collect on the lower treads. Also check that railings on stairs inside and out are secure, and make repairs where needed.

Lighting is crucial. Put nightlights in bathrooms, the guest bedroom, any hallways near the guest bedroom, and perhaps in the kitchen. Make sure there is a lamp or light switch within easy reach of the guest bed so that your visitor can keep a light on until safely tucked in. Well-lit outdoor walkways and entrances are also key for coming or going when it is dark.

Be sure the shower your guest will use has a non-slip floor. To enhance the traction, apply non-slip strips or a suction-attached non-slip mat, both readily available at home improvement stores.

Secure or, preferably, remove any throw rugs, including bathroom mats. Edges of rugs can be a tripping hazard, and even a slight scoot can affect a person's balance. If there are rugs you want to secure rather than remove, non-slip pads can help, but safer still would be to apply double-sided carpet tape or even caulk to attach the rug to the floor. If you choose one of these methods, be mindful that you don't mar the floor underneath.

Identify seating in your gathering rooms that is appropriately firm, high in the seat, and preferably that has arms to help a person easily sit down and get up. A chair that is too soft or too low to the ground can strand a person awkwardly. If in doubt about the available seating in the room, bring a dining chair with arms into the room as an alternative.

If you are considering other more long-term home modifications for aging in place, be sure to consult a remodeler or contractor who is a Certified Aging-in-Place SPECIALIST. Find one in our area in the Exchange each week or at CWHBA.org.

HEATHER ELLER, POWDERPUFF - 2023 POINTS CHAMPION AT QLISPE RACEWAY PARK

Heather Eller.

This is Heather's sixth year racing for points in Spokane. She was previously the 2019 points champion in the Powderpuff class.

Anything involved in motorsports has always been a passion since she was little, but bracket racing seems to be her favorite. Her husband and kids are out at the track every season with race family.

This year was the most fun having both her son and daughter racing with her and her husband this year. Both kids race in junior street with her son placing third in points and her daughter, Hydee Lyman, winning the championship in that class.

"This year in Powderpuff was the first year of the track re-opening, so it was such an honor to be the first championship winner for Qlispe," Eller wrote in an email. "I enjoy racing with my Miss Shifter sisters, and we are all super competitive with each other."

Never have the standings been so close with a total of just 6 points between the top-3. "We battled it out until the end," Eller said.

Outside of racing Heather enjoys spending time with her family and 4 kids that keep her plenty busy. That along with working at Nickel's Worth locally keeping print alive in North Idaho.

Eller thanks her 2023 sponsor, American Eagle Automotive in Rathdrum, Idaho.

POWDERPUFF POINTS 2023

| Car # | Name | Points |
|-------|-----------------|--------|
| 635 | Heather Eller | 185 |
| 718 | Angie Weaver | 181 |
| 6180 | Jessica Boller | 179 |
| 7383 | Judy Wright | 130 |
| 8216 | Danyelle Boller | 112 |

Heather Eller and daughter Hydee Lyman share a special moment.
