Department of Ecology News Release

STORMWATER RESEARCH
COLLABORATION LEADS TO CLEANER
WATER FOR ALL - PART 1

As the rains have returned to Washington and stormwater is flowing, we're reminded of the important role stormwater management plays in keeping rivers, streams, lakes, and Puget Sound clean. Ecology has municipal stormwater permits for the state's most populated cities and counties. The permits are aimed at reducing stormwater pollution at its source, treating it, and controlling volume and flow, so that cleaner stormwater is entering local waterways.

Meet SAM, Washington's Stormwater Action Monitoring Collective

One of the most innovative parts of Washington's approach to stormwater management is the Stormwater Action Monitoring (SAM) Collective. Since its start nearly a decade ago in 2014, SAM brings together municipal stormwater permittees from the state's most populated cities and counties to collaborate on stormwater monitoring and management. SAM's goal is to improve stormwater management in Washington.

We are currently in the process of soliciting and assessing proposals for the fourth round of funded studies. Several new studies will begin in 2024. Keep reading to learn more about SAM's successes. To help improve stormwater management, SAM runs 3 types of studies:

Effectiveness studies

Measure the impact of stormwater management actions to determine what works and what doesn't.

Source identification studies,

We're learning which actions are successful in preventing illicit discharges and reducing pollutants to stormwater.

Long-term regional status and trends monitoring studies,

We're learning whether our collective stormwater management actions are improving streams and marine waters.

How does SAM work?

Municipal stormwater permittees choose to join SAM and pay into the collective fund. The Stormwater Work Group (SWG), a formal stakeholder group, makes decisions on how to spend these pooled funds. We partner with other agencies and stormwater professionals to conduct Best Management Practice (BMP) effectiveness studies, source identification studies, and monitor the status and long-term trends of water quality. Ecology has two staff members dedicated to implementing SAM. The Pooled Resources Oversight Committee, a subgroup of the SWG, oversees Ecology's administration of SAM.

A stormwater bioretention facility in Olympia.

All stormwater permittees benefit from SAM

SAM was created with the understanding that through a collective effort, we can improve stormwater management actions to better protect and restore Washington's waters. No other permit-driven monitoring program in the state is defined and funded by permittees. Permittees are critical to selecting relevant studies and ensuring results are actionable. SAM studies address important permit-related topics, like designing and retrofitting stormwater facilities, reducing tire wear particles (including 6PPD) and PCBs, and improving local business inspection programs. All jurisdictions — large and small — benefit from SAM projects that produce regionally transferable findings. This means that all permittees can implement SAM findings to protect downstream waters such as lakes, streams, and bays.

SAM's source identification studies are focused on learning which actions by permittees and businesses are successful in preventing illicit discharges of pollutants to stormwater.

- Source Control & Inspection Program Guidance – In 2019, Ecology required Municipal Stormwater Phase II permittees to develop and implement a source control business and site inspection program. A 2023 SAM study developed a Source Control Inspection Program Guidance Manual and training program. The guidance manual and training resources are available online at no cost, providing access to municipal stormwater staff and other stormwater professionals in the region. Available Here: www.WASstormWaterCenter.org/Permit-Assistance/Municipal/Source-Control-Inspection-Program-Guidance-manual/

By learning together, we can achieve far more than by funding studies individually. We all benefit by answering regionally relevant stormwater questions. Our understanding, and our responses to improve and manage stormwater, are coming faster and more efficiently than before SAM.

Be sure to read next week's article for more details!

CAT OF THE WEEK

Meet Maribel! She's an easy girl and she does excellent with the litter box. She has let us pick her up and cuddle with her for short stints, she likes to be talked to, and has been talking back in a quiet little meow squeak. She has really taken a liking to the man of the house and may also be okay with other cats. Toy balls are truly her favorite and she plays with them day and night!

Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

I just barely beat the storm to get my boat moved from Leavenworth to its place to wait out winter till the spring. I will be doing a lot of fishing from the shore or getting rides from friends until things thaw out. I have a pretty good list of things to do this winter, so let the fun begin!

Checking back on my photos taken a year ago, I found one that was taken at the middle net pens on Rufus Woods Reservoir. It showed Austin Moser and Randy Sykes, on Austin's boat on his first trip to Rufus last year. Austin will often invite me on exploratory missions, and he wanted to see if the fishing for triploids was good enough to book some trips. Yup, we caught some really nice fish. He had Randy and I try a couple of things, like fishing bait on the bottom, but what worked the best was casting olive-colored jigs. The fish loved them, and we were able to get our limits pretty quickly when we switched to this method. Austin booked a bunch of trips to Rufus last season and caught some real monsters. He had a great time catching walleye on Rufus, too.

Thanks to Austin, Eric Gransstrom, Rollie Schmitt, and I caught our triploids on olive jigs on Rufus Woods at the middle net pens last April. It was amazing that the huge triploid that Eric landed was taken on an 1/8th ounce jig. I know that casting jigs along the shore is one of my brother Rick's favorite ways to catch triploids on Rufus. Not only is it effective and fun, but anglers can also release the smaller fish. When using bait all fish landed count toward your limit, whether kept or not. I hope I can get up to Rufus soon. This week's photo is of Austin and Randy Sykes with the first limit of triploids take from Austin's boat last December.

I had a great conversation with Jill Phillips, with the Colville Tribe's Fish and Wildlife Department. I had left a message asking if she knew where all the small trout that were being caught in Rufus Woods were coming from. She said the tribe hadn't released any fish for months and she doubted they came from the commercial net pens on Rufus. Most likely they were coming downstream from Lake Roosevelt. They may have released rainbow from some of the net pens they operate up there.

She did say that there would be a release of bigger trout by the Colville Tribe sometime in February. These should be 4 to 5 pounds and they will be put in at Seatons Grove and above Chief Joseph Dam in Bridgeport. This should give anglers something to look forward to this winter. Also, she said they plan on releasing the same number of triploids into Rufus Woods as usual next year, which is 45 to 50 thousand fish.

I mentioned my great trips to Omak Lake this year, and she told me a fish that could have been the new state record was taken there last spring.

Going by the length and girth measurement provided by the lucky angler, the Lahontan cutthroat probably weighed over 18 pounds, and would have beat the current record. It was taken during the catch and release part of the fishing season on Omak Lake, so the fish was released and didn't make it to a certified scale.

The weather in Leavenworth has been awful. We got buried in snow and the forecast is for rain. So, my first project is to get all the snow and water off the cover of my boat, and make sure it is drained. My next project is to load my smoker with a new batch of sockeye. We have family from Anaconda, Montana here, and I want to send them home with some smoked sockeye. I also want to make up some of my salmon spread to enjoy while they are here.

I used to just hand out chunks of smoked fish, and then I started making the salmon spread. People love it so I make sure my family members get some for the Holidays. It's very simple to make. All you need, aside from the smoked fish, is some cream cheese and dill. I crumble up the fish, and here's an important trick. I put the cream cheese in the microwave for three minutes, then it is very easy to mix with the fish and dill. I put it into those 9.5 ounce containers after they have cooled, and into the fridge. You can microwave the containers for a minute before serving to make the mixture more "spreadable".

Right after the Holidays the annual RV, boat and sportsmen's shows begin. These shows are very popular, as everything that is new for the coming year is on display, and there are usually "show special" pricing available to those who attend. In Washington State, they begin with the Tacoma RV Show, that takes place at the Tacoma Dome on January 18th through the 21st. This is followed by Tri-Cities Sportsmen Show at the HAPO Center in Pasco. It starts on January 26th and runs through the 28th. The biggest sportsman's show in the state is the Washington Sportsmen's Show. It is held at the Washington State Fair Events Center in Puyallup. It begins on January 31st and stays open through February 4th. Overlapping with the show in Puyallup is the Seattle Boat Show. It's scheduled from February 2nd through the 10th. The main show is at Lumen Field Event Center and Bell Harbor Marina.

There is a lot going on at all of these shows and I will provide you with more information as the opening dates get closer. I have attended most of these shows and have enjoyed them all. When I am not on the "show circuit" I will be out chasing kokanee on Lake Chelan, big trout on Rufus Woods and Lake Roosevelt and when the area lakes freeze, trying my luck for a variety of species through the ice!

Have a 'Green' Christmas! Part 2

As you begin your Christmas holiday preparations, consider incorporating these environmentally-friendly choices into your holiday routine:

Use Cloth Napkins

Choose to use cloth napkins over paper napkins, thereby reducing the amount of waste going to landfills. Your pocketbook also benefits since cloth napkins are cheaper in the long run.

Light Candles

If you use candles at the dinner table, choose beeswax or soy candles. They burn cleaner and longer than traditional petroleum or paraffin wax candles — sometimes twice as long!

Stay Local

Consider staying at home rather than traveling to a relative's house. Invite your neighbors over instead to help create a festive atmosphere and cut down on the fuel and pollution that result from long-distance driving or flying.

If you need or want to travel, check out more environmentally-friendly options. Rent a hybrid vehicle or carpool with other family members.

Make It To-Go

Rather than putting pounds of leftovers in the refrigerator to be neglected and eventually thrown away, give your guests food to take home with them. Put the food in reusable containers that can be washed and used again.

These are a few quick and easy ways to be more environmentally friendly this holiday season. To find ways to make longer-term, green changes in your home, check out the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB's) Sustainability and Green Building information at www.nahb.org/advocacy/industry-issues/sustainability-and-green-building.

Thanks to the Exchange for helping continue the four-decade tradition of delivering weekly motorsports news to the Inland Northwest!

Ted Pollock, one of the premier auto racing promoters in the Pacific Northwest, passed away Dec. 8 in Vancouver, Wash.

Pollock, in his late 80s when he died, was the former owner-operator of Yakima Speedway until it was sold in 2021 and torn down, paving the way for industrial development.

"He had a hand in Yakima Speedway for 60-plus years", motorsports journalist Doug Pace writes in a text message. "Many great promoter/managers in racing worked for Ted including Ron Bennett, Dennis Williams and Doug Beteral."

Wayne Walden, who promoted Tri City Raceway in the 1970's and 80's wrote in a Facebook post, "Ted was a great friend and helped me so much when I was operating TCR. We worked great together sharing classes of race cars, he was so knowledgeable of the promotion of a racetrack."

Details for any memorial or funeral service were not available at deadline time.

SPOKANE FAIRGROUNDS INDOOR SERIES

The Spokane Fair and Expo Center is home once again this winter to the Indoor Flat Track Series.

Six more dates remain and include Dec. 16, 17 in 2023 and Jan. 13, 14 and Feb. 3, 4 in 2024.

"Santa will be handing out the trophies this weekend," promoter Paul Morgan wrote in an email.

Racing includes karts, quads, bikes with kids classes and more. General admission is $20, military, seniors and kids 7-12 $10.

More information can be found by visiting www.spokane-speedway.com or on Facebook and Instagram. Also contact Morgan at (630) 217-9132 or email pfmsw@outlook.com.

Paul Delaney has been writing about Motorsports in the Pacific Northwest since 1976. He welcomes learning about your racing accomplishments.
