"The Outdoor Insider"

You've got to love this weather. Mid 40s in February? I like it. I am going get my boat ready and take advantage of the mild winter and get out on the water. Where to go first is the question. There are a bunch of good options, and I can't wait to try a few. Until then, I explored some of the bank fishing opportunities in the region.

I decided to check out Billy Clapp Lake instead of fishing in the rain the other day. I know people were fishing from the shore there. This reservoir is drawn down in the winter, and the water is quite a distance from the end of the boat ramp. The trout fishing in the winter can be so good at Billy Clapp that people will drive across the sand and launch small boats. When I arrived, I spotted an angler parked at the water's edge with a couple of rods out, so I drove down to see how he was doing. He had only got one bite, but he saw a huge rainbow swim by right next to shore. So, he knew there were some big ones out there. Billy Clapp seems to have two distinct populations of trout. In the spring we catch rainbow that are about 14 to 16 inches, which are probably the result of the previous year's plant. Then there are carryovers that weight from 3 to 5 pounds. Sometimes there are quite a few of them.

I was headed up to Coulee Dam to check on some of the fishing and was curious to see if there were still any ice fishermen out at the bottom end of the lake. I was relieved to see there were no ice shacks out there, and I didn't see any sign of recent activity. If you are familiar with the fraternity of anglers that like to fish for whitefish on Banks, you know these guys will be looking for another way to get at them. I turned into the Northrup boat launch to see if the ice had cleared off. I found a thin sheen of ice at the ramp and about 30 feet out a band of what appeared to be just slush. The wind had come up and it wasn't going to be cold enough to freeze that evening, so I figured it wouldn't last long. I stopped by there again on my way home the next day and all that was left was a bunch of slush. You can bet that there will be people launching boats here very soon. The ice is off the north end, and I saw one boat out there.

I spent the evening in Coulee Dam recently, at the Grand Coulee Center Lodge. This is a great place to stay. I booked my room and got a call back in about five minutes. The person at the desk forgot to ask me if was bringing a boat. They always save space for boaters in the parking area, and you do in the winter months when my boat is covered up and out of service. Over the years I have refined the equipment I need for a day of shore fishing and it all fits in a backpack. I keep it handy and before I head out I just grab this bag and go. Inside is a foam leader holder with several pre-tied leaders. When I break off they are ready to be tied on. In a small box I have egg sinkers and barrel swivels. Also, there are several rod holders and jars of Power Bait. I also have a bag of marshmallows in case I want to use jarred shrimp or nightcrawlers. Also included in the "go bag" for a day of shore fishing are rags and fillet knives. There are gallon zip lock bags for fish. All I need now is to grab a couple of spinning rods. Now I am ready to go! This week's photo is of a nice rainbow caught at Crescent Beach at Coulee Dam.

I've made a couple of trips to Rocky Ford recently, and my wife reminded me of one our favorite experiences there. We were fishing at the bottom end where there are some pools. I had hooked a fish that ran upstream, around a rock and broke me off. I sat down to tie a new rig, and when I looked up I noticed that my indicator, that was still attached can charge your boat mount electric motor overnight. When I checked in at the front desk the person there told me a guest said he landed a 23-pound triploid earlier in the week and went back out and got a 26-pounder the next day! So, off I went to the middle net pens the next morning. There were two anglers fishing from the shore when I arrived, and I set up just up the shore from them. I cast out two rods, baited with Power Bait and waited for some action. I didn't see any fish rolling until I was there about an hour. Then one jumped right in front of me. Turned out he was on my line and threw the hook! It was raining hard by then, so I headed for home.

I had plans to do some fishing from shore at a couple of different locations this last week. This is something I often to the leader, was moving around in the pool. Huh, I thought maybe I can retrieve it. I dug out the largest Wooly Bugger in my box and tied it on. I made a couple of casts over the old leader and the hook slid up to the indicator. The fish was still on, and I managed to pull it in, release it and get my fly back. My wife Eileen was as amazed as I was, and probably wouldn't have believed it if she wasn't there. On my last trip to the Ford, I wasn't as lucky. I wasn't getting any interest in my my scud and indicator. I found an Egg Pattern that Darc at the Desert Fly Angler Shop had tied up for me and it worked, I finally got a bite!

The rainbow fishing on Lake Roosevelt has been terrific this winter. This may be the first place to try when I have the Smoker Craft ready to go.

In The Know: Reseeding or Replanting Your Lawn

Spring marks the return of flowering plants and warm weather. And homeowners know that spring also ushers in the return of home renovation season.

Homeowners undoubtedly have an extensive list of projects on their to-do list this spring, and that may include helping their lawns and gardens recover after a long winter. Unpredictable weather, which can include drought and excessive rainfall and everything in between, can take its toll on a lawn. In certain instances, the best solution may be planting new grass. But homeowners can consider these tips before they begin the process of reseeding or replanting their lawns.

Scarify the lawn.

Scarifying a lawn can help to create a clean slate, but the timing must be right. Various lawn and garden experts, including those at BBC Gardeners' World Magazine, recommend scarifying in spring or early autumn. But don't jump the gun when scarifying in spring by scarifying before the lawn has started to grow after a dormant winter. Scarify when the soil is a little wet and the grass is once again actively growing. Scarifying can remove any lingering weeds from last season and also pull up any moss that might have taken hold over the winter. Without weeds and moss to contend with, freshly planted seeds are in better position to thrive.

Work with a landscaping professional.

Homeowners with manageable lawns can likely scarify their own lawns with a relatively inexpensive plug-in scarifier. However, scarifying can be a strenuous physical activity, particularly for homeowners with large lawns. In such instances, homeowners can benefit from working with a qualified landscaping professional. Such a professional can scarify the lawn and subsequently reseed or replant new grass. The latter task is not so simple, as the lawn care experts at Scotts® note that choosing the correct seed is a vital part of reseeding or replanting a lawn. Choosing seed may sound simple, but it's a potentially complex decision that requires knowledge of the existing grass, including when to plant it. Certain grasses are best planted in spring or early fall, while others are best planted in summer. A qualified landscaping professional can identify the existing grass and plan the seeding or planting around this important detail.

Prepare to water the lawn.

Watering is vital to the long-term success and health of freshly planted grass seed. Scotts® urges homeowners to keep the top inch of soil consistently moist, but not soggy. That requires a daily commitment, and setting a multi-function hose nozzle or sprinkler to the mist setting once per day or more if it's hot outside can increase the chances grass will grow in thick and strong. Scotts® recommends keeping the top two inches of the soil moist until the new grass reaches a mowing height of roughly three inches. Once that benchmark has been reached, watering frequency can be cut back to about twice per week, but now the soil should be deeply soaked instead of misted. The soaking will help roots grow deep into the soil.

Spring is a great time for homeowners in various regions to reseed or replant their lawns. With the right approach, homeowners can enjoy a full and lush lawn throughout summer.

QLISPE RACEWAY 2024 DRAG SCHEDULE RELEASED

AIRWAY HEIGHTS — The former Spokane Raceway Park — now Qlispe Raceway owned by the Kalispel Tribe — has announced its 2024 schedule for a milestone season.

Thirty drag racing dates are on a schedule that marks the 50th anniversary of the motorsports complex in Airway Heights. The road course schedule has not yet been released and the oval track remains closed while awaiting possible updates.

Spokane Raceway Park officially opened on Memorial Day weekend, May 24-26 in 1974 when it staged the American Hot Rod Association Spring Nationals where the top titles were won by Don Prudhomme in funny car and top fuel by Gary Beck.

While those days are history and will not return, Qlispe's 2024 schedule has a handful of events featuring both nitro and blown alcohol cars in June, July and August.

June 21-23 is Nitro Jam that also features jet cars and fuel altereds. A month later (July 19-21) is Thunder Night with more alcohol-fueled cars.

And on what used to be one of the traditional AHRA World Finals dates — Aug. 9-10 — the program headlined by West Coast Pro-Mods, also features more alcohol cars, too.

The bread and butter of the track's operation are the sportsman or bracket racers who compete in a variety of classes. Eight points races are scattered through the season that stretches from April through September.

Qlispe offers 10 different sportsman classes for all kinds of vehicles ranging from motorcycles and snowmobiles to dragsters.

While these "bracket classes" are effectively able to compete against one another with a handicapped start, they do run according to similar elapsed times (ET's) and speeds. For instance if one car travels the quarter-mile in 14 seconds and another in 16, the slower driver is given a 2-second head start.

Another handful of races are termed "no-prep" which refers to the fact that the race surface is not prepared ahead of time with traction compound. No-prep track resembles an actual street.

Following a chassis certification on April 20, Qlispe's first race event is the following Friday, April 26 with No-prep Street racing. Several no-prep nights follow.

A notable change over the off-season was the hiring of Ben Zimmerman as the track's operations manager. Zimmerman has been readily available since his hiring to answer questions.

That "no-prep" track will be much improved in 2024 following an extensive grinding and resurfacing project that took place in the final few weeks of 2023.

"We hired TVC to come and surface grind the drag strip," Zimmerman wrote in a Facebook message. "They are taking out the bumps and low spots so the track is as smooth as it can be. Just one of the many upgrades this facility needs."

Spokane County purchased the track in 2008 and renamed it Spokane County Raceway, selling it to the Kalispel's in 2021. It sat idle for 2022 and opened to a full racing program in 2023.

Fifty years ago in 1974, Spokane Raceway Park opened with the AHRA Spring Nationals champion where Gary Beck won in top fuel over Don Garlits. -Photo from NWMNS.com collection

Income Tax COUNTDOWN

What could be more satisfying than to have your tax return completely organized, filled out, and signed well before the dreaded April 15 deadline? What feels worse than hunting around for missing records at the last minute, being greeted by an angry glare from a frazzled tax preparer on April 13, or even finding out that you owe more taxes than you expected to pay? You can make things easier on yourself and your accountant by taking these simple steps during the year.

JANUARY-FEBRUARY

1. Start keeping records for the current year's expenses.
2. If tax forms don't arrive in the mail, pick them up at a local bank or post office. Or call the IRS at 1-800-424-FORM.
3. Make an appointment with your accountant or tax preparer.
4. If you are preparing your own return, consult a current-year tax guide.

FEBRUARY-MARCH

1. If you have dependents 2 years old or older who don't have Social Security numbers, fill out Form SS-5 at your local Social Security office.
2. If you were exempt from withholding from wages last year, file a new W-4 form with your employer to continue your exemption this year.
3. If you have not received a W-2 form from your employer or 1099 forms from your bank, broker, and so forth, report the oversight to them.
4. Review your payroll records, check stubs, and receipts; list itemized deductions.
5. List your sources of income, including salary, interest, dividends, capital gains, professional fees, and pensions.

MARCH-APRIL

1. Provide your tax preparer with all necessary records and information.
2. Review completed tax forms for errors and omissions.
3. Sign the forms and write your Social Security number on them. Your spouse should sign a joint return (if filing jointly). Make photocopies for your files and keep them for at least three years.
4. Make out checks or pay amounts due, if any.
5. For a 4-month extension, complete Form 4868. You must still pay what you owe. Make out a check or pay an estimated amount by April 15.
6. Consult your accountant about changes in the tax laws, especially deductions, for them coming year. Adjust your spending, investments, and your files accordingly.
