"The Outdoor Insider"

I almost pulled my boat home earlier this week. We have had a good stretch of warm weather. The snow had been moved out of my driveway and there was room for the boat. However, Mother Nature had other plans, so I am still looking for good places to fish from shore.

I wanted to see if the Quincy lakes were still frozen, so I pulled off of Whitetail Road and found that the gate is still closed. Oh well, I am pretty sure that they still have ice on them, and I will check again as we get closer to the March 1st opening of these lakes. I knew that the ice was off of Billy Clapp Lake. I had my shore fishing "go bag" and a couple of rods in my truck and wanted to give it a try. As I drove down onto the sandy shore I saw one other angler had just arrived. He told me that he lives only ten minutes away and had been fishing here almost daily. He showed me some photos of a few of the rainbow he had caught earlier, and they were very impressive. He has been catching some that were 3 to five pounds and had been broken off by larger fish. I had brought my video gear along and did a short video on fishing Billy Clapp in the winter. After I had packed up my video gear I reeled in the two rods that I had cast out earlier. One was baited with Power Bait and the other with a shrimp and marshmallow combo. The shrimp baited the rod had a 15-inch rainbow on it! This week's photo was taken at Billy Clapp last Friday. The video I did is now posted on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel.

Just like every other fisherman out there I am getting tired of winter. Not that there aren't things to do, but wouldn't be nice to be out in a boat and not freeze? I remember in low snow years in the past that I could go up to Fish Lake, near Leavenworth, and fish in the sun on calm waters in March. I wanted to see if the ice was breaking up and maybe going away, so I drove up there the other day. Sorry to report that there is still plenty of ice on the lake. Not enough to fish on, and no signs of it leaving for a while. The lake is at about 2,000 feet in elevation, so it makes sense. I was very close to bringing my boat home the other day. The ten-day forecast was for temperatures in the 40s. However, things do change, and now I am expecting snow here in Leavenworth the next couple of days. Heck, we just put the snow shovels away. I will still be looking for ice-free water and will let you know if can find any. There are lakes in the Columbia Basin that open March 1st.

Many of you know that I am a big fan of fishing from the shore at Brandts Landing on Rufus Woods Reservoir. I have spent many days over the years casting from one of the accesses at this Federal Park. If you haven't been to Brandts Landing, you will find this location, about six miles from the boat launch above Chief Joseph Dam, is very fishing friendly. There are several accesses to the shoreline, all with fire pits and some even have picnic tables. There is a vault toilet at the site that is well maintained. The water along the park is shallow, and most anglers use at least a half-ounce egg sinker, rigged to slide, to cast as far as possible to tempt a strike from passing rainbow. Dough baits are by far the most popular bait to toss to cruising trout, but others will use a nightcrawler and marshmallow or marshmallow and shrimp combo. Success can vary, and I have had some terrific days. I have a great contact to find out how the fishing is, and his most recent report is that fishing is slow. Hopefully that will change with the seasonal plants of triploids by the Colville Tribe.

Mark your calendars for the Central Washington Sportsmen Show. It's coming up on Friday, February 23rd at the Sundome in Yakima. This show has been going on for over 30 years, and I think I've been at 20 of them. There's a few things that I really like about this show. Number one is that it is truly family friendly. They always have several activities that the kids can enjoy. Number two is that you can easily take in the show and visit with the exhibitors. There isn't the crush of the big shows in Puyallup and Portland. Number three is that you can see some great seminars and meet the presenters and ask questions. I also like the fact that you can pay one entry free and attend all three days of the show. Another reason I enjoy going to this show is that I meet a lot of people that follow my reports, either online or in the newspaper. I am so busy having fun talking to folks that my voice is failing by Sunday afternoon. I will be hanging out with the folks at Bob Feil Motors again, so be sure to stop by and say hello.

We had a long weekend coming up with President's Day last Monday, so I was thinking about what I would recommend for a fishing trip. If you wanted to put a boat on the water, the trout fishing on Lake Roosevelt has been good. Limits of trout that average 16 inches are possible. Anglers are fishing out of Spring Canyon and Keller and trolling basically kokanee type gear to get their rainbow. Another good place to launch a boat is on Lake Chelan. Anglers are launching out of the State Park or Mill Bay and running up as far as Michell Creek to find the kokanee. There are days that some anglers are even limiting on kokanee, and there are a lot of fish that are measuring 13 to 14 inches. There are a couple of places I would suggest to fish from shore right now. Both the Federal Park at Keller and Spring Canyon can be very good.

NATIONAL REPORT REINFORCES IMPORTANCE OF WASHINGTON'S CLIMATE RESILIENCE WORK - PART 2

Last spring, the warmest May in Washington state history forced an early end to Washington's snowpack, leading to a state-wide drought advisory in July and a drought emergency for many parts of the state. May through July last year was the fourth driest in state history. Then, in August, devastating fires tore through communities around Spokane. And even with the rains returning in the fall, conditions remained both warmer and drier than typical.

Climate Risks in the Northwest

The National Climate Assessment stands as a comprehensive and sobering analysis of the current and future effects of climate change, including the impacts we're already seeing here in the Northwest.

In the report, Chapter 27¹ focuses specifically on projected impacts in the Pacific Northwest — Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

"Extreme heat, flooding, wildfires, and other climate hazards threaten human health, sense of place, ecosystems, infrastructure, and industries in the Northwest. Impacts across sectors will have cascading effects on livelihoods and well-being, with Tribes and other frontline communities facing disproportionate risks. Adaptation actions that prioritize social equity and utilize local and Indigenous Knowledge can support regional resilience."

The report also underlines that:

- Climate change exacerbates existing social, economic, and health inequities. And climate action offers the opportunity to build a more just and resilient nation.
- Regional economies and livelihoods are threatened by damages to natural resources, intensifying extremes, and impacts to infrastructure systems.
- Climate change impacts aren't evenly distributed. Disruptions caused by climate change impact heritage and sense of place for many Northwest Tribes and overburdened communities.

"Climate impacts often hit communities of color, low-income communities, and vulnerable populations first and worst," Hennessey said. "These same communities struggle to recover from climate fueled events like flooding or extreme heat, or to take actions that reduce, prevent, or help them withstand climate impacts."

Addressing climate pollution

Under Washington state law, Ecology is working to reduce carbon pollution 95% by 2050 — and to offset the remaining 5%. Ecology also is leading work to more closely monitor air quality in some of our most vulnerable communities — and to ensure that in addition to cutting carbon pollution, we're working to reduce other forms of air pollution as well.

The most important tool Washington has to meet the state's greenhouse gas reduction targets is the new cap-and-invest program, created under the Climate Commitment Act. This market-based approach sets an overall cap on emissions, and then requires major sources of carbon pollution to obtain allowances to cover their emissions. Some of these allowances are sold at quarterly auctions, which have already raised almost $1.5 billion in 2023.

That funding is critical to Washington's climate resilience efforts by supporting investments in restoring habitats, reducing flood risks, improving stormwater infrastructure, protecting shorelines, and improving forest health.

Washington's Climate Resilience Initiatives

Amidst these challenges, the Washington Legislature recognized the need for a coordinated approach to tackling these challenges, passing a law last year that directs Ecology to update the state's Climate Resilience Strategy.

In partnership with nine other state agencies — the departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Fish and Wildlife, Health, Natural Resources, and Transportation, as well as the Washington Emergency Management Division, Washington State Conservation Commission, and the Puget Sound Partnership — we're working to update the strategy, which will guide state efforts to address:

- Climate impacts to support healthy and safe communities.
- Designing and building infrastructure that can withstand floods, droughts, wildfires, and sea level rise.
- The restoration of ecosystems that can adapt to changing surroundings, protecting threatened salmon and other wildlife susceptible to climate change.

Community Engagement

This isn't just an exercise for state agencies; this work affects everyone in Washington.

The Dept. of Ecology would like to listen and learn from individuals and communities about the most pressing climate risks they face; challenges and opportunities in responding to and preparing for these risks; and their vision for a more climate-resilient Washington.

Think about:

- What climate change impacts are you most concerned about?
- What are the biggest needs and opportunities in preparing for, responding to, or adapting to these impacts?
- What is your vision for a more climate-resilient Washington?

As the National Climate Assessment sounds the alarm on the urgent need for climate action, Washington can serve as a model of how taking climate resilience seriously can protect our health, our environment and our economy in the face of an uncertain future.

"By prioritizing climate resilience, we're helping people better prepare for and overcome the damage climate change is already causing to communities around our state," Hennessey, Ecology's Special Assistant on Climate Resilience, said. "Being prepared, having plans in place, making investments now instead of waiting to respond to a crisis — these are all steps that will help us build a more prosperous, sustainable and equitable future for all Washingtonians."

ZMAX CARS TOUR WILL EXPAND TO THE WEST COAST

Mooresville, N.C. – The zMAX CARS Tour will expand to the West Coast in 2024 in the form of the zMAX CARS Tour Pro Late Model Series West. The season-opening race kicks off at Kevin Harvick's Kern Raceway on March 2nd.

Continuing to focus on building grassroots racing, the new partnership brings together the CARS Tour and Kevin Harvick's Kern Raceway owner and California native Tim Huddleston. With Huddleston's extensive knowledge of West Coast racing and his success of promoting various series and tracks, combined with the CARS Tour ownership group of Kevin Harvick, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Justin Marks and Jeff Burton, the wealth of knowledge of grassroots racing and building local tracks is immeasurable.

The move to add the zMax CARS Tour to the West Coast is the next step in Harvick's return to his roots and continuing his vision for the future of motorsports.

Announced in November 2023, Huddleston acquired Kern County Raceway Park and renamed it Kevin Harvick's Kern Raceway to honor the NASCAR Champion and Bakersfield, California native.

As part of the new partnership, Harvick is working closely with the leadership at the track to ensure the best product for the track, the competitors, and the overall health of motorsports at the grassroots level. The zMax CARS Tour make two stops at the track in 2024, showcasing Harvick's commitment to the West Coast and grassroots racing.

"The West Coast is home for me and the tracks we'll be going to this year with the zMAX CARS Tour Pro Late Model Series West are some of the ones that helped shape the path of my career," Harvick said. "I was fortunate enough to have people help me along the way to make it to the top level of NASCAR, and that is what we want to do with the CARS Tour."

In addition to the newly announced series, the U.S. Legend Cars will follow the same 10-week schedule and accompany the Pro Late Model races as an added feature for each weekend.

Many of today's stock car superstars got their start in the zMAX CARS Tour and it is a primary breeding ground for the racing champions of tomorrow.

2024 ZMAX CARS TOUR PRO LATE MODEL SERIES WEST SCHEDULE:

- March 2 – Kevin Harvick's Kern Raceway (Bakersfield, Calif.)
- April 13 – Irwindale Speedway (Irwindale, Calif.)
- May 11 – Irwindale Speedway (Irwindale, Calif.)
- May 25 – Stockton 99 Speedway (Stockton, Calif.)
- June 15 – The Bullring at Las Vegas Motor Speedway (Las Vegas)
- July 3 – The Bullring at Las Vegas Motor Speedway (Las Vegas)
- July 20 – Stockton 99 Speedway (Stockton, Calif.)
- August 31 – Irwindale Speedway (Irwindale, Calif.)
- October 5 – All American Speedway (Roseville, Calif.)
- November 16 – Kevin Harvick's Kern Raceway (Bakersfield, Calif.)

For more information regarding the zMAX CARS Tour Pro Late Model Series West please contact Tim Huddleston at Tim@kernraceway.com.

PLENTY OF "NEW" IN THE 2024 NORTHWEST LATE MODEL SERIES

SPOKANE — For the Northwest Super Late Models "new" will be one of the key words in 2024.

There's a new race site, and newly sanctioned familiar race and likely a new champion to be crowned all in the 10th season for the group.

The series will race twice at Tri-City Raceway at the Red Mountain Event Center, both opening the season with the apple Cup (April 7) and closing it with the Fall Classic (Oct. 6).

Wenatchee and Hermiston will also host two races. Wenatchee staged the Leonard Evans 150 (April 27) and Neal Newberry 125 (Sept. 14). Hermiston hosts races on June 15 and Sept. 1.

Of the sites for single races, the Montana 200 will be an official point race that takes place July 12-13 at the Mission Valley Super Oval.

Staline Speedway hosts a 150-lap race on May 18 as the track celebrates its 50th season.

The series visits the Treasure Valley area of Idaho staging the Blue Valor 150 at a new track, the Motorplex at the Mill in Emmett north of Boise, June 29.

The Idaho 208 will take place at Meridian Speedway on Aug. 10.

Defending champion Haeden Plybon is reportedly switching to a new late model series, the zMAX CARS Tour and may not be able to compete in enough NWSLM races to vie for the repeat.

For further information on the series visit: www.nwslms.com.

IS A NEW HOME WORTH THE INVESTMENT?

Despite the news headlines, individuals continue to buy and sell homes. According to a recent National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) analysis¹, 88% of homes sold were on the market for less than a month. For many Americans, owning their own home is worth the time and investment.

The benefits of buying a home are numerous. New homes available on the market today are designed to accommodate a variety of lifestyles, from busy on-the-go families to flexible spaces ideal for spending more time at home. In addition, many new homes feature a variety of floorplans and amenities to complement everyday family activities.

And today's homes are more energy efficient than ever. With innovative materials and construction techniques, new homes are built to be much more energy efficient than homes constructed a generation ago. As a result, not only can they be more affordable to operate, but new homes also are significantly more resource-efficient and environmentally friendly.

Building standards have changed a great deal over the decades, almost as fast as technology has evolved. Due to this evolution, new homes can accommodate today's advanced technology and be customized to meet the individual homeowner's needs. And knowing that the house was built by a qualified professional to adhere to the latest safety codes gives the owner added assurance.

Many benefits are not tangible but similarly valuable. For example, one of the built-in benefits of many new homes is the forming of a new neighborhood. When families move into a new community at the same time, lasting bonds of friendship and neighborliness often form right away. Many home builders will host community block parties in these developments to help neighbors of all ages meet and connect.

For many people, a home is the single best long-term investment and a primary source of wealth and financial security. The contrast of wealth-building opportunities between homeowners and renters is striking. On average, someone who owns their home has a household wealth of $255,000 compared to a renter² with an average household wealth of $6300. Americans count on their homes for their children's education, retirement and overall personal sense of well-being.

For more information on the benefits of a new home and home builders in our community, contact the Central Washington Home Builders Association.
