Man, I am loving this weather! Sunny skies and rising temperatures makes me eager to get out on the water. I am not alone. More and more anglers are fishing from the banks of their favorite spring season lake, and boaters are more and more common. They are chasing trout, walleye and kokanee on many of our lakes and reservoirs in the region.

I made a swing through the region on my way up to Coulee Dam recently and wanted to share some of my observations. I met two anglers launching a small boat on Burke Lake. They had fixed up the 12 foot aluminum boat with plans to fish the Quincy Chamber's annual Trout Derby, which is Friday, the 22nd and Saturday the 23 of March. This was the maiden voyage for the father and son, and they wanted to be sure everything worked, and it was water tight.

Evergreen Reservoir still hasn't filled enough to use the boat launch at the west end. Next, I traveled to Billy Clapp Lake. A friend had told me it was filling fast and that we should plan a trip there soon. I found the water way up from when I last stopped by here. The end of the dock is floating, and I expect even large boats will be able to launch here very soon. I also noticed that the docks aren't in at Northrup on Banks.

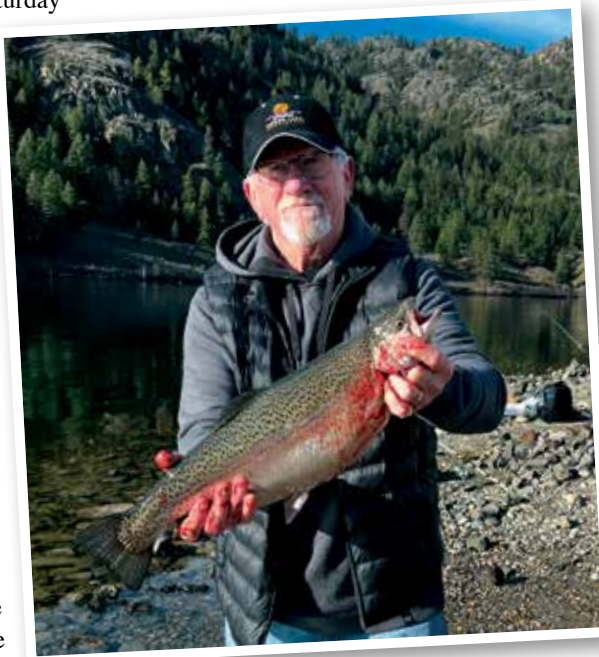

Some of you may have seen the video on did on Billy Clapp Lake about three weeks ago. This was done when the water was down, and I was showing people that there are some very nice rainbow taken from the shore. Now the water is coming up, and I posted a photo on my Facebook page, showing that the dock is starting to float and launching would be possible very soon. I was invited to fish Billy Clapp last Sunday and was pretty excited about it. I have had some amazing days here in the early spring. The rainbow can average 15 to 16 inches and are very healthy. I usually start the season fishing for the trout by flatlining plugs. I have a box set aside just for this purpose. It is full of a variety of the bright orange floating Rapalas of different sizes, including the biggest one they make. I have some other Rapalas in different patterns, like the perch and rainbow that also work very well. Sometimes I run these away from the boat on side planers, as these fish are in the top of the water column. Next week I'll let you know how we do.

I drove up to Rufus Woods last Sunday afternoon and didn't get to the middle net pens until about 6 o'clock. I fished for an hour without a bite and saw only a couple of fish caught from the shore here. No worries, a couple of friends were going to meet me there in the morning. I met James Lebow and Michael Ericson in Coulee Dam at 8 o'clock and we drove up to the pens. We had the beach all to ourselves, and although we didn't get any action for the first half hour, things changed after that.

levelt has been higher than usual. When I was there in November there was a lot of shoreline exposed, but now it's about as full as I have ever seen it. Fishing from the shore for trout has been very good, but I haven't heard much about the kokanee. Anglers like to see the water being dropped as it draws the daphnia that the kokanee feed on downstream. Fishing from Keller down to the dam can be very good. Lake Roosevelt is famous for producing "giant" kokanee. Fish that measure over 20 inches are common, and I have seen fish that were 25 inches, weighing over 5 pounds. Since the water hasn't dropped, I don't think many anglers are out after the kokanee. Well, I just got a photo from a local angler that was trolling out of Spring Canyon, and he had caught two dandies recently. Looking at the photo the fish appear to be about 20 inches long. I would say that there is still a good chance of getting some of these giants after all.

Mark your calendars for the Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge, hosted by Reel Recreation. Last year's event was a huge success, so you will want to get in on the action. It is scheduled for Friday, April 12th through Sunday, April 14th. The free kids fishing pond on Friday is not to be missed. Thanks to Pacific Seafoods, the "pond" will be loaded with big rainbow, and volunteers will be on hand to help the kids land one of these whopper trout. Some of the kids will catch their first fish ever, and the smiles will be priceless. On Saturday and Sunday anglers will be out on Banks Lake fishing for a variety of species, mainly trout, walleye, and bass. Family participation is highly encouraged, and prizes will be awarded for several categories in the Adult and Youth divisions. Coulee Playland on Banks Lake in Electric City is the headquarters for the event, and special activities are planned here for the kids. The aim of Reel Recreation organization is to introduce families to the fun of fishing, and they want you to join the fun. Learn all about the Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge by going to their website at www.ReelRecreation.com.

Michael got the first fish and then we all pitched in, and we had six fish on our stringer before 11:00. We weren't doing anything fancy, just Power Bait on the bottom with a sliding egg-style sinker. All but one of the fish were from the last release by the Colville Tribe and weighed about 2 pounds. Michael did get one that was a couple of pounds heavier than the others. We talked to one angler that was coming off the reservoir in his boat, and he said there are some much larger fish being taken at the upper and lower pens. In fact, I got a short video from Austin Moser showing a happy angler holding up a tripliod that weighted 26.5 pounds! This week's photo is of Michael with his fish at the middle pens.

I have mentioned that when I have been fishing from the shore at Keller Ferry that the water level on Lake Roos-

HOLD THAT SMOKE: WHY WE CALL BURN BANS - PART 1

Wood stove smoke is the primary cause of air pollution in Washington during winter.

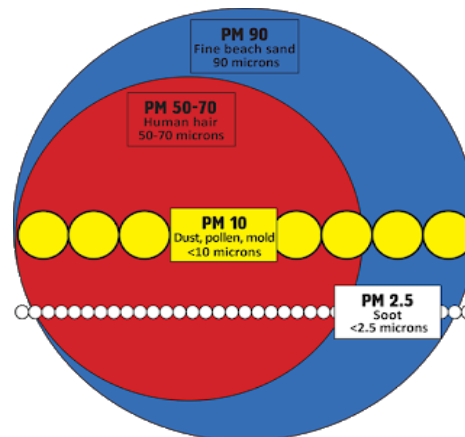

Today, everyone is painfully aware of the air pollution caused by wildfire smoke during our lengthening summers. But you may not know as much about the other polluting smoke that happens in our state during the opposite time of the year. It comes from wood stoves, fireplaces, and other wood-burning appliances.

Residential burning to stay warm is the main activity that creates fine particle air pollution in Washington in winter, and it puts out hundreds of times more air pollution than other heat sources, such as natural gas and electricity.

As Hazardous as Smoking Cigarettes

"Wood smoke is the result of combustion and creates particles so small they can be inhaled deeply into lungs," says Paul Rossow, air quality specialist in the Washington Department of Ecology's Eastern Regional Office. "Once they get there, they don't come out, similar to cigarette smoke."

Ecology's statewide air monitoring network monitors two types of particle pollution: particulate matter (PM)10, which are particles less than 10 micrometers in size, and PM2.5, which are fine particles less than 2.5 micrometers in size – much smaller than the diameter of a human hair.

Small Particles found in smoke (PM10 and PM2.5) are smaller than a human hair.

Circles showing diameters of a human hair and beach sand compared to width of fine particulate matter.

Some of the long-term health effects of breathing in these particles from wood smoke include bronchitis, emphysema, and cancer. In fact, Ecology estimates that fine particle pollution in Washington kills more than 1,100 people every year. And that is why – when our network shows PM2.5 levels going up in one or more of our jurisdictions – we call a burn ban in the affected area.

ORANGE (101-150)

Unhealthy for Sensitive Groups (USG)
Sensitive groups should take steps to reduce exposure. Limit time outside, avoid strenuous outdoor activity, and follow tips for cleaner indoor air. Everyone should watch for symptoms as a sign to reduce exposure.

The Art (and Science) of Calling a Burn Ban

Winter burn bans are usually needed in October through March, with weather conditions determining how far into spring the burn ban season lasts.

Weather also plays a big role in pollution levels. During a temperature inversion, warm air high in the atmosphere acts like a lid, keeping cold air and pollution near the ground. This may trap unhealthy levels of smoke from wood stoves and fireplaces, triggering a burn ban to improve the air quality and protect public health.

As Ecology's lead air quality modeler and forecaster, Beth Friedman is one of a handful of people who decide whether a burn ban should be called, and for how long. Over the past six years, she and her colleagues have called an average of four burn bans a year.

While the criteria for calling a burn ban are codified in state law, predicting when to call one is a bit of an art. It requires analyzing a range of tools and resources, including Washington's Air Monitoring Network, AirNow's Fire and Smoke Map, weather forecasts, and satellite and webcam imagery, as well as assessments and collaboration with experts in the field.

Friedman sums it up well: "In general, we check the air quality monitors as well as weather forecasts to understand if PM2.5 is forecasted to be greater than 35 micrograms per cubic meter within the next 48 hours."

It's one thing to know when air pollution has exceeded 35 ug/m3, but what does that look and feel like?

"It might be a little hazy outside with reduced visibility, and the air might smell smoky," says Friedman. "It's also the minimum concentration that corresponds to 'Unhealthy for Sensitive Groups' on the Air Quality Index. Some people might experience symptoms, including burning eyes, coughing, and throat and nose irritation."

WATCH OUT FOR THESE TOP REMODELER RED FLAGS

If you're ready to refresh your home, consider hiring a professional remodeler. A professional remodeler ensures your home project is successfully completed with quality craftsmanship. There are qualified remodelers with many years of experience in our community. Unfortunately, whenever you hire someone for professional services, from mechanics to contractors, not all individuals operate with the highest level of standards or business integrity. Therefore, before hiring a professional remodeler, it's always important to thoroughly vet them to avoid project headaches in the long run.

If you come across one or more of the following red flags, chances are you may be dealing with an unscrupulous contractor:

No Contracts

A professional remodeler will take the time to write a clearly written contract. The contract is an opportunity to review the scope of work, process, costs and helps clarify how problems will be managed. If the contractor you're considering doesn't offer contracts, hire someone else. You are not protected when something goes wrong if you don't have a contract.

Requires Full Cash Payment Up Front

Shady contractors demand cash and then run with the money. As a result, many home owners are stranded if they pay in full upfront. A deposit towards materials is typical, but only pay it once you have a contract signed by both you and the contractor. It's also suspect if the contractor request that you pay cash to a salesperson instead of a check or money order to the company.

The Numbers Don't Add Up

Everyone must work within their budget for a home renovation. However, if you've found a contractor that offers pricing that is too good to be true, it probably is. The contractor may propose the best price, but that doesn't guarantee the best work. Too good of a bargain may mean that the contractor may cut quality costs, which can cost you more when you must redo the substandard work. Some contractors use tactics like offering "special" pricing that is only applicable if you sign a contract today. Do not fall victim to these deceptive proposals.

Consumer References are Scarce

Professional contractors should have references they can provide from current and past clients — and you should be able to reach those references, not just an answering machine. Glowing references are abundant for professional remodelers because happy home owners enjoy sharing their good experiences and appreciation of their newly upgraded space. Ask to speak with previous clients and see photos of previous home remodels to get a sense of their customer relations practice and work style.

By being aware of these remodeler red flags, you will be able to hire an expert and enjoy the tangible benefits of high-quality craftsmanship for many years to come. To find a professional remodeler in your area, contact the Central Washington Home Builders Association or check the Services section in the Exchange each week!

JOAN EVANS PASSES

Joan Evans

Garrett Evans has noted the passing of his mother Joan with a recent post on Facebook.

The Wenatchee Super Oval owner and noted racer wrote: "We're mourning a huge loss in our Super Oval family with the passing of the matriarch of the Evans Family, Joan Evans."

"It's safe to say the Super Oval may not be what it is today without the support from Joan and her late husband Leonard when they helped bring new life into in 1999," Evans added.

Joan loved coming to the track to watch her son Garrett race and later watch her grandkids on track.

"She had a big smile that could fill a room and heart with lots of love. She will be missed and we will carry her memory at the track."

"We know that Joan will join Leonard with great seats from above to watch over the track."

Services were held March 19 and Evans will be laid to rest with her husband, Leonard, at the Wenatchee Cemetery.

DANICA DART ENTERED IN APPLE CUP

Danica Dart

WEST RICHLAND, Wash. — Ephrata teen Danica Dart is taking a scouting trip to Tri City Raceway in hopes of learning as much as she can as she participates in the 55th running of the Apple Cup on April 7.

While her goal is to finish as high as possible in the season opening race for the Northwest Super Late Model Series and its $10,000 to win purse, Dart, just 16, has other motivation.

Come August, Dart will be chasing more fame when the ARCA Menards Racing Series visits the half-mile tri-oval for the first time in 20 years on Aug. 10. She recently made her debut in the series at Phoenix a couple of weeks ago.

"I am super excited to be running in the 55th annual Apple Cup," Dart said. "My strategy is to stay out of trouble and make it to the break."

Dart has never raced at Tri City Raceway but she's heard it is similar to Mission Valley in Montana. "And I love that track," she said.

"I am happy to be a part of this prestigious race and I understand the history of it as well as the significance of running good at the Apple Cup," she added.

Dart will be part of the usual cast of stars in the Northwest's oldest late model race which dates back to 1967 when Gordy Haines won the inaugural event at Yakima Speedway.

Since then, many stars and their cars have hoisted the trophy, including NASCAR Hall-of-Fame member, Hershel McGriff, Daytona 500 winner Derrick Cope and West Coast Motorsports Hall of Fame Member Garrett Evans, himself a 5-time winner.

The race was staged at Yakima through 2019, cancelled for two years because of COVID and moved to Tri City Raceway when Yakima closed.

Kyle Tellstrom is the defending champion and will join other previous winners — Evans, Jason Jefferson and BJ Tidrick — in the race that has so far attracted 32 entries as of March 18.

The Bonneys TYM Tractors APPLE CUP presented by Legends Casino will honor the former owner of Yakima Speedway, the late Ted Pollock, with the running of the "Pollock 125" feature race.
