"The Outdoor Insider"

It is great to see people getting out and about after an odd winter. I am seeing folks fishing our big reservoirs and lakes throughout the region. Spring is a great time of year when more and more fisheries begin to happen. Better dust off the tackle box and get your boat ready to go.

The forecast for last weekend was for rain and wind but it didn't dampen the spirits of the anglers that fished in the annual Quincy Chamber of Commerce Trout Derby. Over 100 people registered for the event that took place on Burke and Quincy lakes. Fishing at these lakes has been good since the March 1st opener and was excellent during the derby. Quincy Lake was the most productive for anglers this year. Thanks to the local Aikins Market, Raceway Technologies, Pepsi and Vantage Data Centers, $3,600 worth of big rainbow were added for the derby. There were over $5,000 worth of prizes handed out to the derby winners and through raffles. In the Youth Division, Julian Rubio won an Xbox for a 22.5 inch fish. Ruby Prunedo turned in 14 pounds of trout and won a drone. Prior to the weigh in, I had met Holly Bogart, who said she was a big fan of mine.

Her fishing partner told me that on Saturday, she got her limit, and he didn't land a single fish. Turns out she swept the Adult Division, with a 22.5 inch rainbow and over 13 pounds of trout. Derby organizers made sure that kids that participated received a rod and reel, or a tackle box. The Quincy Chamber and volunteers did a great job again this year. Anglers who like to participate in the Chamber's annual Pike Minnow Derby should know that the event has been moved to the fall. I will keep you updated.

I mentioned earlier that I was invited to fish Billy Clapp with some friends. Dennis and Monica Beich met me at the boat launch at 7 and off we went. It was chilly with a slight breeze, and we were looking forward to having a busy day. Dennis and Monica live in Marlin, not far from Billy Clapp and have had many great days in the early spring catching rainbow. We were trolling above the island and Dennis noticed a fish rise in some calm water and steered over there.

Boom! His rod bounced and soon we had a very nice fish up to the boat. The fish was about 16 inches long and was almost square. It had a deep girth and was very chunky. We got our lines out again and continued to troll a variety of shallow running Rapalas. We trolled and trolled, but never got another hit. We were all surprised. Conditions seemed perfect and we are used to catching lots of rainbow at this time of year. We'll be back, though. The traditional good rainbow bite has to happen soon. I look forward

On a previous trip to Rufus Woods a couple of anglers stopped by to say hi, when I was fishing with my friends at the middle net pens. They said they were fishing at the "Greenhouse" access on the reservoir. They had caught their limits of fish like the ones we were getting, but one of the anglers next to them got a 22 pounder, fishing a jig. I wondered where they were talking about and on the way out we passed the sign for the Colville Tribal Greenhouse. The next time I was in the area I turned in to investigate. Driving past the greenhouse facility the dirt road led down to the river and there were several spots where there were steep trails to the shore. I gave this spot a try earlier this week. I didn't catch anything but I was lucky as I ran into the angler that had caught that whopper trout. He showed me his setup, which was what we used to use when we had steelhead up here. A good ol' slip bobber and black jig.

I love fishing Banks Lake. Not only is it one of the most scenic places to fish in Washington, but it also has terrific fishing for a variety of species. If you haven't tried Banks you may want to plan a trip on April 12 through the 14th. That's when the annual Reel Recreation Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge fishing derby is scheduled. This is a very family friendly derby with special emphasis on making sure the youngsters have a great time.

On Friday, there's a special "pond" set up and Pacific Seafoods loads it up with rainbow trout for the kids to catch. On Saturday participants head out to catch bass, walleye, whitefish, and trout to be entered into the derby. Fishing continues on Sunday and concludes with a weigh in. Then winners for catches made on both Saturday and Sunday are awarded their prizes. The aim of the derby is to get families involved in fishing, and the derby is a fun way to do it. To learn more about the Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge, just Google Real Recreation and check out their website. You can even register for the event on the site.

I recently traveled home to Leavenworth from Coulee Dam. I stopped to see if the docks were in at Northrup and found one dock in place. I have heard some people talking about good walleye fishing and that the bass were beginning to bite. I continued down Highway 17 and visited with some fly anglers who were coming off Lake Lenore. This lake has special rules that make it popular with fly fishers. Getting to Lake Lenore and other spots via Highway 17, anglers should be aware of the construction delays. During the first phase of the project, known as slope scaling, the public should expect regular closures along SR 17, from Monday through Friday every hour at the top of the hour for 45 minutes. These closures start from 8:15 a.m. and run until 5 p.m. State Route 17 will reopen every hour on the first 15 minutes of the hour to clear traffic, before closing again.

HOLD THAT SMOKE: WHY WE CALL BURN BANS - PART 2

Wood stove smoke is the primary cause of air pollution in Washington during winter.

Today, everyone is painfully aware of the air pollution caused by wildfire smoke during our lengthening summers. But you may not know as much about the other polluting smoke that happens in our state during the opposite time of the year. It comes from wood stoves, fireplaces, and other wood-burning appliances.

The Art (and Science) of Calling a Burn Ban

Winter burn bans are usually needed in October through March, with weather conditions determining how far into spring the burn ban season lasts.

Burn bans occur in two stages*:

Stage 1:

- No use of uncertified wood stoves or fireplaces are allowed.
- No outdoor burning, agricultural, or forest burning is allowed.

Stage 2:

- No burning indoors or outdoors is allowed.

*Anyone using wood as their only source of heat can continue to burn, no matter the stage.

Ecology calls burn bans in the 17 counties in Washington with no local clean air agency. With the exception of San Juan County, all of these counties are located on the east-side of the state. Local clean air agencies call burn bans in counties under their jurisdiction, and the EPA calls burn bans on Tribal reservations.

Incentives to trade out and turn in Ecology and local clean air agencies provide funding to incentivize people to upgrade older, more polluting wood stoves for newer ones at turn-in and trade-out events.

Ecology regularly holds events in areas at risk of exceeding National Ambient Air Quality Standards for PM2.5. This year, we will provide $400 to any Stevens County resident who wants to turn in and replace their inefficient wood stove. Other counties hold events where residents can trade out an old stove in return for a steep discount on a new, certified wood stove, or another even cleaner pellet, natural gas, propane, or electric stove.

"In Stevens County, wood stoves are many people's only source of heat - you can't just take them away," explains Janice Batchelor, community outreach and environmental education specialist in Ecology's Eastern Region Office. "Instead, we hold these fun events every year to help people get a more efficient, certified stove."

Likewise, burn bans are intended to bring positive change.

"The burn ban is in place because the air quality is getting poor and affecting everyone in their community," says Rossow. "If people comply with our burn bans, that helps the whole community."

An old, uncertified wood stove and a new, certified wood stove.

Remember, before you burn...

- Check whether Ecology has called a burn ban in your county.
- Check whether your local clean air agency has called a burn ban.
- Check with the EPA to see if there is a burn ban on a Tribal reservation.
- Sign up for e-mails to alert you anytime Ecology calls a burn ban.
- Stay informed of air quality conditions by following Ecology.
- Tune in to local news and radio.
- Check with your local fire department; they will know what's happening with burn bans.

3 SIMPLE WAYS TO EVALUATE A HOME BUILDER

Home builders use similar tools and materials; however not all professionals are alike when it comes to training and customer service. Building a new home is a significant investment of time and money, so finding a builder whose business approach aligns with your preferences is critical to ensuring the process goes smoothly.

When you initially meet with a home builder, they will ask you questions about the dream home you want to build. During this time, you should also ask the builder about their professional experience to help determine if they are the right builder for you. Consider asking the following questions to help you vet the builder that works best for your needs:

1. Tell Me About Your Work Experience

You will want to find a builder with experience building homes similar to the one you want. Professional home builders will have examples of floor-plans and designs. Ask them to show you what type of work they have completed in the past to ensure their company can deliver what you need. You should also ask if they have, or are working toward, professional designations, such as a Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist (CAPS), which shows that the builder has advanced training in a particular area.

2. Can You Provide Customer References?

Any high-quality builder should be ready to provide you with names and phone numbers of satisfied customers. If they cannot, consider that a red flag and walk away. When reaching out to those former clients, ask how well the builder followed through on the initial plans, and if the builder met their expectations regarding budget and timing. Remember the most telling question: Would they hire that builder again if they could do it all over?

3. How Will We Communicate During the Home Building Process?

Home builders will do their best to accommodate your communication preferences. But it is always best to establish expectations as early as possible.

The frequency (weekly, monthly, as-needed, etc.) and method (phone, text, email) of how you communicate early on with each other will set the tone throughout the building process.

For more information about how to find the right builder to create your dream home, contact the Central Washington Home Builders Association, or visit CWHBA.org

BUYER BEWARE

Classified ads are a great way to sell something, find something or hire a contractor to do needed work around your home or business. Sadly, our advertisers cannot always trust the individuals who respond to their ads. It has come to our attention that there are scammers out there who respond to ads with the sole intention of deceiving the advertiser. Typically these scams are actually generated by automated bots. Here are a few things to look out for:

When selling something:

Scammers typically text & ask what your final price is. They will then ask you if you can ship the item. In return, they tell you that they will send a cashier's check with some extra money added in to cover shipping. Do not fall for this. Accepting cash for items is the best bet. For large purchases, meeting at the buyer's financial institution for the payment is encouraged.

Where to meet:

If you are unsure of a buyer or seller, ask them to meet you at the local police station or S.C.O.P.E. office, or a public location such as a grocery store parking lot. People who don't have anything to hide will be agreeable to that type of meeting spot.

Who to hire:

If you are looking for a contractor to fix or build something, make sure they are licensed & bonded. This can be verified on the Washington State Labor & Industries contractor site. Do not pay in advance for any services or materials until you have a signed contract. Many contractors ask for half the money in advance & the remainder when the job is done. It is good to verify that the individual does, indeed, still work for the company they are representing. It is also a good idea to ask for references. Most contractors are happy to pass on names and phone numbers of customers that can verify their work.

WEEKLY Horoscopes for March 28-April 3

- ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20
Grit and guts will get you what you deserve this week, Aries. You may have an opportunity to make a good deal of money, so give this plan careful consideration. Ask for advice if the need arises.
- TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, there has been change in your life and you may want to blame the stars. Things will move out of your comfort zone and you will have to sharpen your ability to adapt.
- GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21
Gemini, you may be questioning the relationships in your life at the time being, but don't worry too much. If you hit a rough patch, things will clear up in a few days.
- CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22
A big shift in your perception and attitude will bring new components to your life that you may not have anticipated. This week you'll certainly have a few eyes-wide-open moments.
- LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23
There will be no hiding out this week, Leo. You will soon learn that things will come your way at a rapid pace. Do your best to keep up, mighty Lion, as it's bound to be exciting.
- VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, you might be willing to throw caution to the wind and get away on a moment's notice. There are affordable ways to do this if you are willing to do your homework.
- LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, even though some drama may be swirling in your universe, you find it tolerable because it's coming at you in small portions. Just stay on the sidelines as much as possible.
- SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, if boredom has set in, it's better to look to new experiences instead of doing something rash just for the thrill. See which classes you can take or find new restaurants to explore.
- SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21
Self-care and healing are what you should focus on right now, Sagittarius. You may have been pushing your needs to the side lately and you need to make this a priority.
- CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20
You are not normally characterized as "impulsive," Capricorn. But you may surprise everyone this week. An opportunity to travel or another adventure could drop in your lap.
- AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18
Try to create some tranquil spaces at home, Aquarius. You can use a haven, especially when a lot of stuff is thrown at you outside your home.
- PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, you may be on a mission this week to get things done. Don't rush in your efforts to complete everything or you are bound to make mistakes that are not easily fixed.

Thanks to the Exchange for helping continue the four-decade tradition of delivering weekly motorsports news to the Inland Northwest!

HONDA TO NASCAR? From Northwest Motorsports News Services

The NASCAR Cup Series may have a new player on the track in the near-future?

Long rumored to be taking the technology it has developed for the IndyCar Series, Honda appears to be closer to go fender racing according to www.BeyondTheFlag.com reported March 19.

Sports Business Journal's Adam Stern reported that NASCAR COO Steve O'Donnell says negotiations to add a new manufacturer or competition are "heating up". He added that a person familiar with the matter stated how NASCAR has remained in discussion with Honda, the source reports.

Exactly when this move may occur has no real timetable. But an indicator might be Honda's IndyCar contract expiring in 2026 leaving the door open for a possible stock car entry.

Talks with the OEM have gone on for years, including in 2020, when rumblings about Richard Petty Motorsports switching to the Japanese auto manufacturer were reported, the story indicated.

Toyota was the last manufacturer to come to the NASCAR Cup Series and that was a couple of decades ago in 2007 joining Dodge, Ford, and Chevrolet. Dodge departed in 2012.

"As part of our role managing American Honda's Motorsports programs, we need to investigate all forms of motorsport here in the U.S., and as a part of that process, educate ourselves on what race fans are looking for," Honda & Acura Motorsports Manager Chuck Schifsky wrote in an email.

"With that said, we have nothing new to report in terms of our future motorsport direction," he added.

Honda is notable for its cutting-edge research and use developing both electric and hydrogen, both technologies NASCAR is exploring.

www.BeyondTheflag.com also reports RFK Racing owner Brad Keselowski reached out to Dodge about a possible return in 2022, but those talks have not moved forward.

It appears that Honda is possibly on the road to taking the technology it has developed for IndyCar to NASCAR. - Honda Motors photo

FACELIFT FOR TCR RACING SURFACE

The racing surface at Tri-City Raceway in West Richland got a recent facelift where dozens of cracks in the track's surface were filled in advance of the April 7 running of the 55th Apple Cup. Opened in 1968, the unique half-mile tri-oval still operates with its original racing surface. The track was dormant for 17 years, reopening in 2021, however. The larger photo shows the track in its early years and the insetx 2024 repairs.
