Silent Film Nights:
The Last Laugh

127 S Mission St, Wenatchee

Friday, April 25, 6:00 AM - 8:00 PM. Enjoy timeless classics in this brand new film series! The Wenatchee Valley Museum & Cultural Center invites you for a screening of the silent film The Last Laugh, featuring a lecture from Wenatchee Valley College Professor Hart Johnson and live music on the Wurlitzer pipe organ by Thomas Kozina on Friday, April 25, 6-8 PM. Originally produced in 1924, this chamber-drama centers around a nameless hotel doorman, who is fired after he's deemed too "old and unfit" to promote the hotel's image, resulting in a rapid downward spiral. Chamber-dramas are short plays that focus on the psychology of lower- to middle-class characters. Admission is $5 for members AND students, and $7 for non-members.

"The Outdoor Insider"

This coming Saturday is the busiest fishing day of the year. Tens of thousands of anglers will be turning out for the opening day of trout season across the state. A very large percentage of them will be heading our way to the trout rich waters of Central Washington. I hope you are ready for the big day. I love touring some of the popular lakes in the region and seeing families enjoying their first opportunity to go fishing for the year.

The lowland lake general trout season opener is coming up on April 26th, the busiest fishing day of the year. I hope you have your fishing license and have made your reservation at one of our State Parks or resorts for that weekend. We are very fortunate here in Central Washington State, as there are so many great lakes that will be open, and they promise good fishing. It is also the beginning of the very popular WDFW's annual Trout Derby, which is celebrating its 10th year. There will be prizes handed out to lucky anglers who catch a tagged trout at one of the many lakes in the state. To help you figure out where to go you can find a list of the lakes by visiting the WDFW website's fishing page. Enter Trout Derby in the search area and you will find them. All you need to enter the derby is to have a current fishing license. You may also want to get a subscription to my E-Letter. In my Spring issue, I will be sharing my list of the best lakes to fish on the opening weekend. Go to www.FishingMagician.com and click the E-Letter button on the Home Page to sign up. This week's photo shows a tagged trout caught by an angler on Wapato Lake a couple of years ago.

Sometimes I am going to do research and not fish. On Thursday Rollie Schmitten and I left Leavenworth on a mission. We were going to check out Omak Lake and see what condition the launches were in. We were concerned that the Smoker Craft Phantom I am driving for Bob Feil Boats and Motors would be too large for the launches here. We went to the one on Mission Beach first and found the water very high and thought that I could probably get the boat in the water here but getting it out may be difficult due to the soft, sandy bottom. At Nicholson Beach, there was a different sort of problem. There is a fractured slab of concrete on one side of the launch area and a deep rut on the other. I have launched large boats with difficulty here, but the Phantom with the offshore bracket would not be feasible. Fortunately, Rollie has a 14 foot boat that we have used for steelhead fishing on the Columbia River that would be just fine for either launch. The next step is to get our Colville Tribal fishing licenses, Reservation Use Permits and Boat Launch Permits.

When Rollie and I came to the top of the hill to drive down to the launch at Nicholson Beach on Omak Lake, we were surprised to see several vehicles parked above the beach. There were anglers spread out at intervals, and we wondered what was going on. When we reached the parking area, we saw that some of the license plates were from out of state, as far away as Nevada. We watched one of the anglers on the beach land a fish. He was casting a chironomid under a strike indicator and the fish looked to be 2 or 3 pounds. My guess was that a fly fishing magazine had published an article on the terrific fishing for Lahontan cutthroat on the lake, and that had attracted this group. I have heard that there are anglers that make annual trips to Omak Lake in the spring. When we stopped in town for lunch we noticed an angler with fishing gear in the back of his truck. He told us he had been to Omak Lake and caught a few fish that morning. He was from Idaho.

A good friend of mine from Moses Lake, Michael Ericson, hadn't been able to get in on the good fishing on Rufus Woods Reservoir this spring, but could come last Sunday. He, along with James Lebow and Ryan Harris, met me in Grand Coulee and we drove to the middle net pens to launch the Smoker Craft. The water was extremely high, and the current was very heavy, which wasn't an issue with the 250 horsepower Mercury on the back end. We began looking for schools of fish but weren't having any luck. It appeared that the fish had moved with the heavy current, so we ran up to the upper net pens to try our luck. We were marking some fish here, and the Minn Kota Ulterra was holding us even in the current, so we switched from using jigs to good old Power Bait. Fortunately, James had a good supply in his tackle box. Soon, Michael's rod was bent with a nice triploid on his line. It took us a little longer, but we headed back to the launch with our limits of fat triploids.

It's less than a month away and registrations are open now for the Quincy Chamber of Commerce Pike Minnow Derby. The derby is scheduled for Friday, May 16th through Sunday May 18th this year and fishing should be great. Pike minnows should be abundant and hungry this time of year in the Columbia River. Attendance should be good with over thirty five thousand dollars in cash and prizes to be handed out this year. Anglers can use several locations to launch their boats to find the fish. These include Crescent Bar, Sunland Estates, Vantage and Frenchman Coulee. All the launches are free and there will be a free lunch provided to all the derby participants at Tower Pizza on Sunday at Crescent Bar. That's when the winners are announced, and the cash and other prizes are handed out. The goal of this derby is to remove as many pike minnow as possible from the Columbia River to improve escapement of our salmon and steelhead smolt. To register online, just click on the "Something Fishy" in Quincy logo on the home page of my website. It will take you to the Pike Minnow Derby page.

55+ HOUSING: TRENDS & BENEFITS

NAHB estimates that the number of households headed by someone age 55+ will increase through 2019 to account for more than 45% of all U.S. households. These ever-growing ranks of empty-nesters, new retirees, grandparents and active seniors create an opportunity for builders across the country to meet the special needs and preferences of 55+ buyers looking to relocate, downsize their homes or find a new senior-friendly community.

55+ Communities Today's baby boomers are not looking for the isolated retirement communities of the past. Many desire the sense of community that comes with living in a place made for residents who are looking to remain engaged and independent. Most often, residents enjoy communal amenities like pools, recreation centers, social events, hiking trails, tennis courts and nearby restaurants and shopping. These types of communities are usually an affordable and sought-after downsizing option for 50+ adults.

Assisted Living Assisted living is aimed at residents who want to live independently but have quick and direct access to services like personal one-on-one care, meal preparation, social activities, and in many cases 24-hour health supervision. Assisted living is for those who can no longer live entirely on their own, but don't yet need the full support of nursing care. The level of service is typically adjusted to fit the individual's needs.

Community Care Retirement Communities Community care retirement communities (CCRCs) are a happy medium between the support of assisted living and the independence of 55+ communities. Residents can choose more independence by living on their own in single-family homes, apartments or condominiums, but as additional assistance becomes necessary there is the added comfort of assisted living or nursing care facilities closeby. Residents transition smoothly and can be certain that their health needs will be accommodated without the stress and hassle of moving.

Universal Design Universal Design (UD) focuses on making a living space fully accessible to people of all different ages and abilities. This often requires small innovations in design that are increasingly inviting and stylish. Some examples are widened doorways for wheelchairs, adjusted showers and baths, raised flower beds for seated gardening, open, single-level floor plans and lowered appliances. These measures take away the stress of high-maintenance homes with steep staircases and high operating costs that many seniors live in today. With a move to a home with UD elements, you can have up-to-date style, and feel totally comfortable in your own space.

Healthy and Active Lifestyle With a rise in demand for healthy living in recent years, many 55+ builders are including amenities like massage therapy, spas, workout classes and hiking trails into their community plans.

55+ communities don't just focus in physical health, but can also be great for a person's emotional and social health. Many 55+ communities have social groups form around activities like singing, games or even line dancing. They are often located in warmer climates and most are built near central attractions.

Many communities develop near public transit hubs or even provide their own transportation into central local areas. Some developments sponsor trips to large festivals, plays, religious services or other local events. These amenities make for a rich and busy life and manage to promote health as well as happiness.

SAMMY SMITH WINS WILD RETURN TO ROCKINGHAM

Washington's Kasey Kane return to racing ends up 14th

By Reid Spencer - NASCAR Wire Service

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (April 19) – Long after the checkered flag waved in the NASCAR Xfinity Series' long-awaited return to Rockingham Speedway, Sammy Smith's fortunes improved dramatically.

Smith was awarded the victory in the North Carolina Education Lottery 250 after the No. 2 Chevrolet of ostensible race winner Jesse Love was deemed to have violated Rule 14.14.2.I-5.h which covers trailing arm spacers and pinion angle shims.

"All mating surfaces of those parts need to be in complete contact with each other, and unfortunately they violated that rule and were disqualified," said series director Eric Peterson.

The disqualification of Love's car gave Smith his first victory of the season and the third of his career, as well as a $100,000 bonus as the winner of the final Xfinity Dash 4 Cash race of the season.

"It's a tough way to win that, but I feel like we'll take 'em any way we can get 'em," Smith said after learning of Love's disqualification. "We waited here to see what happens, but overall, it was a good day, and I'm very happy with the progress we've made recently."

"I'm kind of speechless, to be honest with you."

After Love climbed from his car at the finish line, the No. 2 Camaro rolled away from him down the banking and into the infield grass. Perhaps that was an omen of problems to come.

Love had just done a celebratory burnout after a magnificent restart in overtime propelled him to the apparent victory. He finished 0.691m seconds ahead of Smith, but the margin was negated by the infraction, and the win went to the driver of the No. 8 JR Motorsports Chevrolet.

Before the infraction was discovered, Love was ecstatic to win at "The Rock."

"Oh, my gosh, these fans are amazing," said Love, who was all but drowned out by the cheers from the onlookers, who celebrated the return of the Xfinity Series to Rockingham for the first time since 2004. "What an amazing race track. Man, this race track's right in my alley. It's hammer down—"

Washington state's Kasey Kahne from Enumclaw, making his first start in the Xfinity series since 2017, started fourth but got into an incident with Katherine Legge on lap 52 and would finish 14th. NASCAR Photo you've got to be in the gas good today.

Unfortunately, the fastest car on Saturday couldn't pass post-race inspection.

In a race that featured 14 cautions for 83 laps—with nine yellows occurring in the final stage—Parker Retzlaff ran second, a career best; Harrison Burton was third, giving AM Racing its best-ever Xfinity Series finish; and Brennan Poole came home fourth, scoring his second top five in the last four races.

Sunoco rookie Taylor Gray completed the top five. Austin Hill, Josh Williams, Jeb Burton, Daniel Dye and Jeremy Clements finished sixth through 10th respectively.

Fans who came to Rockingham anticipating a show weren't disappointed. A workable second groove opened above the bottom lane, and drivers were even able to roll three-wide through the corners on occasion, though some of the attempts to do so produced regrettable outcomes.

Katherine Legge's sixth Xfinity Series start—and her first since 2023 at Road America—came to an early end on Lap 52, when hard contact from William Sawalich turned her No. 53 Chevrolet sideways in Turn 1.

Washington state's Kasey Kahne from Enumclaw, making his first start in the series since 2017, sustained damage to the right front of his No. 33 Chevrolet, with the blow sending Legge's Camaro up the track into the outside wall, eliminating her from the race.

Kahne had to pit for repairs to the nose of his car and lost a lap in the process, but he recovered to finish 14th after starting fourth.

FLOODING HALTS NORTHPORT OPENER

NORTHPORT, Wash. – A culvert that was used to channel water away from the infield of Northport International Raceway recently failed and caused flooding that cancelled the track's season opening race, April 19.

"The culvert had holes and rusted out was laying underneath back stretch and seeping up causing a wet spot," promoter Cory Bell wrote in Facebook Messenger.

The faulty pipe "Was junk," Bell said so it was replaced. "(Now) water can flow properly out of track area."

"We had a lot of water, and it just wouldn't dry up," Bell explained. "It's dry now and we can work on it," Bell added. The track gets tacky when wet and it will not pack."

Northport will shift its season opener race of the now 11-event schedule to May 3. For further information visit the Northport International Raceway Facebook page.

Currently there is one mud bog at Northport, but Bell indicated there may be more, as well as a possible music event.
