Dave Johnson
"The Outdoor Insider"

Things are really happening now in the region. I visited several lakes for the opening day of trout season and saw a lot of happy families enjoying the day. I also had a good day of walleye fishing on Moses Lake. Plus, I got to try the kokanee fishing on Lake Chelan.

I made a swing through Grant County to check on the opening day of trout season activity at a few lakes. The day was sunny and clear, but the wind was howling at Blue Lake. I stopped by the boat ramp and watched a couple of boats pick people up or launch, and it wasn't easy. One boat stopped to pick up a friend and they already had a couple of limits. People were launching at mid-morning, and I figured that they had waited to see if the wind would lay down, and when it didn't, they just decided to go anyway. Things were different at Park Lake. It wasn't nearly as windy, and boats were coming in with their limits. The docks were loaded with folks fishing and I was seeing fish being landed the whole time I was there. I went by the cleaning station, and it was busy. I talked to a gentleman who was in line with his granddaughter, and he told me that this was the 63rd consecutive year that his family and friends had come to Park Lake for the opener. I loved hearing this and seeing so many families enjoying the fun of fishing! This week's photo is of a Dad helping his young daughter land a fish on one of the docks at Park Lake.

My friend and fishing buddy for many years, Brian Anantatmula, invited me to give the kokanee fishing a try on Lake Chelan. We have had many very successful kokanee fishing experiences on the lake, often with his son and daughters along. This was the maiden voyage of his boat for the season and since it was a Friday we were on our own. We launched at Mill Bay and found the water level just fine. We fired up the Garmin and didn't see any fish off Mill Bay, so we headed on down to an area below Rocky Point and launched the Minn Kota. We weren't really marking many fish here, but did get a bunch of bites and landed one of the typical fish that are abundant in Chelan this season - which means a kokanee of 9 or 10 inches. I did get one that measured 15 inches on one of my favorite pink and silver Kokabow blades and a pink squid. Almost all of our hits came on our back rods, and not the riggers. It looks like there are two year classes in the lake so far. The small ones and the 15 inchers. All are fun to catch and tasty!

Last Wednesday I got to fish for walleye on Moses Lake. I went with my friend and guide Brian Nielson from Moses Lake and Mark Burlington from Chewelah. I was hoping the fish would be in the shallows at the very top end of the lake, so we launched at Connelly Park and ran up there. Well, they weren't. All we got side planing in five feet of water was catfish. Before we headed down the lake Brian wanted to try a spot that we both liked, and sure enough there were some fish here. We landed a few and decided to make a stop at what we call the Eagle's Nest. The Lowrance fish finder lit up with walleye along this bank and we landed several more nice walleye. Our last stop was on the flat above Connelly Park. We thought we had ten fish and that was enough, so I got out the fillet knife and went to work. It was then that we discovered we had only nine fish. I had just finished and cleaned the boat when my rod went off. It turned out to be our tenth fish and a 24 incher to boot, which we released, even though you are allowed to keep one over 22 inches in your daily limit.

When I visit lakes on the opening of trout season every year, I always make a stop at Jameson Lake. It has been a favorite of mine since I was a youngster. One of the outstanding features of Jameson is the generous amount of shore fishing space. As you approach the bottom end there are vehicles and folks fishing as soon as the water is deep enough to hold a trout. The road continues to be lined with anglers clear past Jack's Resort. It winds up and around clear up to the boat launch. I have a great time cruising slowly along and watching people land fish and celebrate their catches. They were busy this year. There were a lot of loaded stringers. One angler was carrying his fish to the vehicle and was happy to show me the catch that he and his friends had made. They had some very impressive rain-bow. It's going to be a good year at Jameson. Of course, I never leave Jameson without saying hi to Ginger at Jack's and getting a couple slices of pie. My wife's favorite is the coconut cream. This time I tried their apple crisp, and it was delicious!

In my Spring issue of the Fishing Magician E-Letter I talk about a variety of species. I gave anglers some tips on how to fish for them and where to find good fishing. With the opening week-end of trout fishing coming up I wanted to share one of things I talked about. You know how kids like to cast. It is hard to get them to hold still and they always claim they are getting a bite, as an excuse to reel in and cast again. Here's a way to take advantage of that. Put a casting bubble on their line and put a Woolly Bugger type fly behind it in on three feet of leader. They can cast and retrieve this and have a very good chance of hooking something. I have used this method myself many times with excellent success. I also encourage the use of this technique as there is no bait on the hook and it is easy to release the fish. I also suggest that you use a bead-head version, as this will give even more action to the fly. So, here's a way to turn the impatience of your kids into a productive method of fishing.

RALLYCROSS AT RACEWAY

AIRWAY HEIGHTS – Jacob Malm who took second place in the Modified AWD - Naturally Aspirated class in the April 26 Northwest Rally Association "Spokane Showdown" rally cross at Qlispe Raceway Park.

According to Northwest Rally Association, "A rallycross is a motorsports event where vehicles race on a course delineated by cones on a variety of surfaces. Elapsed time is tracked by the organizer with time-based penalties assessed for actions such as missed cones and driving off-course. Scoring is the accumulation of timed runs plus penalties where the lowest time wins. One car is released at a time with course workers monitoring cones and penalties."

Over 100 entries in 10 classes took part in this Qlispe event.

While this was the only Spokane appearance, the sport returns to Lind, Wash. and the Lind Club Arena, Sept. 27 and 28.

JOHVAN DILLON WINS WILD ONE AT WENATCHEE

By Kevin Peters, NWSLMS Media

Wenatchee, Wash. (April 26, 2025) – In a race that saw Jan Evans dominate the first 146 laps, a caution flag with four laps remaining would change the entire complexion of the hotly contested "Leonard Evans Memorial 150" from the Wenatchee Valley Super-Oval.

When the checkered flag flew, none of the drivers in the top five at that point would finish there.

However, Johvan Dillon took advantage of a last lap incident to move from sixth with four laps remaining to grab his first NWSLMS win. Ken Bonney, Jason O'Neil, Zach Riehl and Ryan Phipps rounded out the top-5.

"I just saw a lot of people hitting and wrecking, so I was being careful and trying not to cut anyone off inside", Dillon said after the four-lap shootout. "I was more or less trying to keep my nose clean and finish the race."

Hometown driver Evans had an outstanding night to that point, setting a new Northwest Super Late Model Series presented by Knott's Marine track record in the 19-car field with a lap of 12.520 seconds, on the ¼-mile oval.

At the start, Evans grabbed the lead over fellow front row starter Wyatt Gardner.

A 40-lap green flag run ended with a competition caution on lap 85, closing the field.

On lap 109 Dillon had a tire go down, bringing out the caution once again. Dillon would have to start at the back of the 10 lead lap cars, as he recalled his mid-race challenges.

The lap 109 restart saw Plybon fighting hard with Presley for the runner-up position. It took the former series champion until lap 120 to finally clear Presley.

Cress was able to take third from Presley three laps later, as Trayton Tarr joined the top five, having survived the tire rub. Tarr continued to advance, grabbing fourth from Presley on lap 128.

A chain reaction incident on lap 131 saw sixth through eighth competitors Carlson, O'Neil and Phipps involved, with Carlson sustaining the most damage.

A 15 lap green flag run saw Presley back to fourth over Tarr, before the caution flew again on lap 146. The first restart saw Evans and Plybon make contact in Turn 2, with Plybon spinning.

Third and fourth-place runners Alan Cress and Robert Presley were also involved, ending their nights. Tarr successfully navigated the situation without any issues, while Dillon avoided the incident by taking the pit road exit.

The new lineup found Evans leading Tarr, Phipps, Dillon, Dave Garber, Zach Riehl, O'Neil, and Ken Bonney.

The second restart attempt saw Evans seemingly spin his tires with Tarr going into the lead.

Evans fought back on lap 147, getting inside Tarr and moving him out of the way in Turn 1. Tarr returned the favor in Turn 3, leading lap 148. Evans closed on the back bumper of Tarr a corner later, as the duo raced down the backstretch.

As the white flag flew, Evans contacted Tarr, as the pair raced through Turns 1 and 2. Tarr would spin as Evans raced to the line first, ahead of Dillon and a charging Bonney.

After the event, Dillon was ecstatic about the victory, in pursuit of following in his father John's footsteps, a 14-time winner in the NASCAR Elite Division Northwest Tour and 1990 series champion.

"It has been good", Dillon said. "I'm always trying to chase my dad's records and all that in the Northwest. Sometimes it's hard to beat. So, it is exciting that I am one step closer, and we just gotta keep trucking."

The series will return to another ¼-mile track for Round #3 of the season series. It will be the ninth visit to Mode Stadium Stateline Speedway for the NWSLMS. The 150-lap event is May 17.

Results: 1. Johvan Dillon*, 2. Ken Bonney, 3. Jason O'Neil, 4. Zach Riehl, 5. Ryan Phipps*, 6. Brandon Carlson, 7. Dave Garber, 8. Jan Evans, 9. Trayton Tarr, 10. Haeden Plybon, 11. Alan Cress, 12. Bob Presley, 13. Todd Connell, 14. Scott Murphy, 15. Christopher Kalsch, 16. Gabe Sessler*, 17. Terry Halverson*, 18. Rowdy Rupinski, 19. Wyatt Gardner*
