"The Outdoor Insider"

My fishing buddy James Lebow wanted to see if some of his favorite fishing haunts on Moses Lake would still produce walleye. So, Ryan Harris and I jumped on his boat last Friday at about 7 a.m. We launched at Blue Heron Park, thinking we may want to fish both the south end and upper end of the lake. We decided to try an area just below the I-90 Bridge above Peninsula Park. Turns out we never had to leave this spot. James deployed his Minn Kota Ulterra, and we put out bottom bouncers and spinners and started trolling in about nine feet of water. We were all using Sparkly Green Smile Blades, which seem to work best on Moses Lake. James kept his eye on his Humminbird depth sounder and trolled in a pattern that skirted the weed beds. We were into fish right away and found enough walleye here to keep us busy. We found that even when we wound up in the weeds, we usually got a fish. We got the occasional perch or smallmouth bass and released a few undersized walleye. By 11:30 we had 22 walleye from 14 to 21 inches in the live well and headed for the launch and lunch. James filleted our catch back at his home. The water temperature on the lake was about 22 degrees, and we were both very impressed with the quality of the fish. This week's photo is of me with one of the bigger walleye we landed.

The other day I decided to swing by the takeout on the Wenatchee River to see if anyone was catching fish on the Icicle River. Just pulling the boat out of the river was Diane, Shane Magnuson's wife, with him in the boat! This was a wonderful surprise. As many of you know, Shane and I go way back. We have fished together on the Columbia River from Drano Lake all the way up to the Brewster Pool and even made a couple of trips on the Okanogan River for steelhead. We laughed about our first trip down the Icicle in a 12 foot rowboat and landing a springer, and the day he put me on two 30 pounders in the same hole a few years later. Shane has been good enough to help me shoot videos on fishing for salmon and steelhead on many popular destinations on the Columbia River, and they have been viewed by tens of thousands of anglers. To this day, people tell him that they just watched one of the videos and enjoyed it, even though it's many years old. It was great to see him and his wife and that they are doing well.

Bob Feil Boats and Motors is sponsoring several boating events in the region, and the Second Annual Opening of Boating Season and Boat Parade at Crescent Bar is one of them. It's coming up on Saturday, June 14th. If you have a boat, any kind of boat, you can join the fun. Just show up with your boat decorated and crew dressed to reflect the Pirate theme. It takes place at the marina near Tower Pizza. The boats will all stage in the back bay and cruise within view of the crowd on the bridge over the channel. The top three best dressed crew and decorated boats will receive a treasure chest of goodies, and their names engraved on the coveted three-foot tall Crescent Bar Cup. I attended the event last year and it was a lot of fun. This year's promises to be even bigger and better. There are a limited number of boats that will be included in the parade, so get your registration in right away. All you have to do is log onto the Crescent Bar Association's website at www.CrescentBar.org and fill out a registration form. The association pulls out all the stops to make this day one to remember.

Christine Lee works at Bob Feil Boats and Motors, and when her mother Brenda visits from Alberta, Canada, I take them fishing. They have fished with me on the Smoker Craft Phantom on Lake Wenatchee for sockeye, Lake Chelan for kokanee, and now Banks Lake for smallmouth bass. I always like to take people that want to catch a bass to Banks, as it is loaded with eager fish, and it is a very scenic place. Christine took the bow position and Brenda joined me in the stern. I actually ran the Minn Kota all day from the back of the boat and am getting pretty good at steering without seeing where the head of the motor is pointing. They loved seeing fish on the Garmin fish finder. We fished the west shore above Rosebush and found plenty of smallmouth. We cast our baits close to shore, or over large submerge rocks. They were hitting Baby Brush Hogs, Lizards and grubs. We released a bunch of small ones, and they kept some of the larger fish to take home to cook. Once again, I had a blast fishing with these two, and I look forward to our next adventure.

I know that if you follow my reports on my website, Facebook page, on radio or newspaper, you are an angler already. Maybe you have a friend, family member, or neighbor that doesn't fish and here's chance to let them sample what you enjoy. Washington State's Free Fishing Weekend is coming up on June 7th and 8th, and people don't need a fishing license to experience what so many people do. The Free Fishing Weekend also coincides with the Discovery Pass Free Days, when the Discovery Pass is not required on lands managed by Washington State Parks or the Department of Fish and Wildlife. You also do not need to have a Vehicle Access Pass or the Two Pole Endorsement. Everyone still needs to follow the rules detailed in the Washington Sport Fishing Pamphlet. As an additional incentive to give fishing a try, those who fish on the Free Fishing Weekend can also win a prize when they catch a tagged trout, through the WDFW's Trout Derby. There are some exceptions to what anglers can catch without a license, and you can learn about these by visiting the WDFW website. So, take someone fishing. It might mean the beginning of a life long activity.

Tips to Renovate on a Budget

Renovations around the house require an investment of time and often considerable amounts of money. Findings from the 2024 U.S. Houzz & Home Study show that home renovations are becoming more expensive. The median renovation spending for homeowners has gone up 60 percent since 2020. Angi, a home services website, reports the average renovation cost for homes between 1,250 and 1,600 square feet is $51,772, but the final cost of home renovations depends on the scope of the project.

Homeowners who are conserving funds can rest assured that it is possible to make meaningful changes both inside and outside a home without breaking the bank. Here are some ways to renovate a home on a budget.

- Create a budget and don't waver. Figure out exactly what you can afford for a renovation and then make that your maximum dollars spent. Research comparable projects in your area and be honest about whether you can afford the renovation as-is or if you must adapt ideas to fit your price. Make sure to build in a cushion of around 15 to 20 percent for any unforeseen expenses that may arise once a renovation is underway.
- Maximize an existing floor plan. This Old House suggests looking for ways to maximize your current layout before you invest in major renovations like an expansion. Bring in a designer with an eye for utilizing space. For example, see how you might be able to replace shelves with pull-out drawers in the kitchen. Moving furniture around or rethinking floor plans also can help to lower costs.
- Balance DIY with hiring contractors. You can save money by tackling some projects yourself, but only if you are confident in your renovation skills. Rather than risk making costly mistakes and having to redo things, hire well-vetted professionals but ask if there's any DIY work you can do to cut costs.
- Check clearance and resale stores. Shop discount stores for building materials to save money. For example, if a builder ordered too many cabinets they may offer them to Habitat for Humanity ReStores, which are nonprofit home improvement stores and donation centers. Checking the clearance and markdown sections of other stores may yield considerable savings on items needed for a renovation. Warehouse retailers like Costco or Sam's Club also can be great places to find certain home improvement materials and furnishings.
- Take advantage of free services. Certain stores may offer things like free consultations with designers who can show you what a renovation can look like. This is advantageous to the stores because once you see the potential you're more likely to buy the products, even if it's not mandatory.
- Resurface instead of redo. Certain items can be made to look new with minimal effort. Paint is a relatively inexpensive tool that can transform walls and more. A good hardwood flooring company can buff out a floor and put a new coating instead of an entirely new floor. Kitchen cabinets can be resurfaced instead of replaced as well. Finding ways to perform home renovations on a budget may require some creative thinking, but it's possible to get results at the right price point.
