Dave Jayne
"The Outdoor Insider"

My fishing buddy James Lebow wanted to see if some of his favorite fishing haunts on Moses Lake would still produce walleye. So, Ryan Harris and I jumped on his boat last Friday at about 7 a.m. We launched at Blue Heron Park, thinking we may want to fish both the south end and upper end of the lake. We decided to try an area just below the I-90 Bridge above Peninsula Park. Turns out we never had to leave this spot. James deployed his Minn Kota Ulterra, and we put out bottom bouncers and spinners and started trolling in about nine feet of water. We were all using Sparkly Green Smile Blades, which seem to work best on Moses Lake. James kept his eye on his Humminbird depth sounder and trolled in a pattern that skirted the weed beds. We were into fish right away and found enough walleye here to keep us busy. We found that even when we wound up in the weeds, we usually got a fish. We got the occasional perch or smallmouth bass and released a few undersized walleye. By 11:30 we had 22 walleye from 14 to 21 inches in the live well and headed for the launch and lunch. James filleted our catch back at his home. The water temperature on the lake was about 22 degrees, and we were both very impressed with the quality of the fish. This week's photo is of me with one of the bigger walleye we landed.

The other day I decided to swing by the takeout on the Wenatchee River to see if anyone was catching fish on the Icicle River. Just pulling the boat out of the river was Diane, Shane Magnuson's wife, with him in the boat! This was a wonderful surprise. As many of you know, Shane and I go way back. We have fished together on the Columbia River from Drano Lake all the way up to the Brewster Pool and even made a couple of trips on the Okanogan River for steelhead. We laughed about our first trip down the Icicle in a 12 foot rowboat and landing a springer, and the day he put me on two 30 pounders in the same hole a few years later. Shane has been good enough to help me shoot videos on fishing for salmon and steelhead on many popular destinations on the Columbia River, and they have been viewed by tens of thousands of anglers. To this day, people tell him that they just watched one of the videos and enjoyed it, even though it's many years old. It was great to see him and his wife and that they are doing well.

Bob Feil Boats and Motors is sponsoring several boating events in the region, and the Second Annual Opening of Boating Season and Boat Parade at Crescent Bar is one of them. It's coming up on Saturday, June 14th. If you have a boat, any kind of boat, you can join the fun. Just show up with your boat decorated and crew dressed to reflect the Pirate theme. It takes place at the marina near Tower Pizza. The boats will all stage in the back bay and cruise within view of the crowd on the bridge over the channel. The top three best dressed crew and decorated boats will receive a treasure chest of goodies, and their names engraved on the coveted three-foot tall Crescent Bar Cup. I attended the event last year and it was a lot of fun. This year's promises to be even bigger and better. There are a limited number of boats that will be included in the parade, so get your registration in right away. All you have to do is log onto the Crescent Bar Association's website at www.CrescentBar.org and fill out a registration form. The association pulls out all the stops to make this day one to remember.

Christine Lee works at Bob Feil Boats and Motors, and when her mother Brenda visits from Alberta, Canada, I take them fishing. They have fished with me on the Smoker Craft Phantom on Lake Wenatchee for sockeye, Lake Chelan for kokanee, and now Banks Lake for smallmouth bass. I always like to take people that want to catch a bass to Banks, as it is loaded with eager fish, and it is a very scenic place. Christine took the bow position and Brenda joined me in the stern. I actually ran the Minn Kota all day from the back of the boat and am getting pretty good at steering without seeing where the head of the motor is pointing. They loved seeing fish on the Garmin fish finder. We fished the west shore above Rosebush and found plenty of smallmouth. We cast our baits close to shore, or over large submerge rocks. They were hitting Baby Brush Hogs, Lizards and grubs. We released a bunch of small ones, and they kept some of the larger fish to take home to cook. Once again, I had a blast fishing with these two, and I look forward to our next adventure.

I know that if you follow my reports on my website, Facebook page, on radio or newspaper, you are an angler already. Maybe you have a friend, family member, or neighbor that doesn't fish and here's chance to let them sample what you enjoy. Washington State's Free Fishing Weekend is coming up on June 7th and 8th, and people don't need a fishing license to experience what so many people do. The Free Fishing Weekend also coincides with the Discovery Pass Free Days, when the Discovery Pass is not required on lands managed by Washington State Parks or the Department of Fish and Wildlife. You also do not need to have a Vehicle Access Pass or the Two Pole Endorsement. Everyone still needs to follow the rules detailed in the Washington Sport Fishing Pamphlet. As an additional incentive to give fishing a try, those who fish on the Free Fishing Weekend can also win a prize when they catch a tagged trout, through the WDFW's Trout Derby. There are some exceptions to what anglers can catch without a license, and you can learn about these by visiting the WDFW website. So, take someone fishing. It might mean the beginning of a life long activity.

HISTORIC PHOTOS of IDAHO PANHANDLE

Fort Sherman Chapel

The Fort Sherman Chapel, built in 1880, is one of the three remaining buildings of Fort Sherman. It is the oldest church in Coeur d'Alene. For almost twenty years the Little Red Chapel was used by soldiers and their families for church services, weddings and funerals. It also served as a school for children of military personnel and early residents of Coeur d'Alene in the early 1880s. The buildings on Fort Sherman were sold at a public auction on June 6, 1905. The chapel was purchased by Thomas Kerl, a Spokane businessman. From 1928, when it was sold to the Fort Ground Lutheran Church, the chapel has had several owners including the Athletic Round Table. In 1984, the ART deeded the chapel, located at 332 Hubbard, to the Museum of North Idaho, and it is now used for educational programs and a wedding venue.

FEMALE GOLDEN RETRIEVER PUPPY

3-1/2 months old with shots, vet checked with records, nice & active puppy looking for new home for adoption. Meet Renna, 3-1/2 month old Golden Retriever, unfortunately I have to re-home her because I don't have the time for her due to the nature of my health, she comes with all her stuff: harness, 2 leashes, water bowl, her toys, her bones, you don't have to take what you don't want/ need. She needs to be with someone who can walk her multiple times a day, I have a physical disability so it's hard for me to give her what she needs, she's a very sweet girl & is good with other dogs, cats & kids, she is a little jumpy when she is excited but with some work she will be the perfect dog, she is not spayed but she does have her vaccines, rehoming fee is $650. If you think you can give her the best home she deserves then please send a message, 978-719-4465 Lakeside, CA

Unlimited hydroplanes will battle for the American Power Boat Association Gold Cup, July 25-27 on the Columbia River. Tri Cities Water Follies photo

TRI-CITIES WATER FOLLIES CELEBRATE 60 YEARS HOSTING 2025 APBA GOLD CUP From H1

TRI-CITIES, Wash. — The 60th edition of the Tri-City Water Follies unlimited hydroplane race will have a special birthday present in honor of the event.

Hosting the APBA Gold Cup in the backyard of so many H1 teams, July 25-27 on the speedy Columbia River course.

"For Water Follies in Tri-Cities to be this year's host of the Gold Cup means a lot to this region of the country," Mike Denslow, Chairman of the Board of H1 Unlimited, said in an news release. "We know it will be a great battle and wonderful way to celebrate their 60th season of hydroplane racing."

The Tri Cities race will mark the midpoint of the 2025 H1 Unlimited season that begins, June 6-8, Guntersville Lake Hydrofest in Guntersville, Alabama. Racing continues at Madison, Indiana, July 4-6 before the annual "Western swing."

Following Tri Cities comes the final two events, August 1-3, Seattle Seafair and September 12-14, the San Diego Bayfair Cup.

RIDDLE CAPTURES 3RD ANNUAL WENATCHEE 200 | From Racing America

WENATCHEE, Wash. (May 31, 2025) — Owen Riddle added the Wenatchee 200 presented by Plumb Perfect to his resume and took home more than $25,000 on Saturday night at Wenatchee Valley Super Oval.

Riddle has won many of the top Late Model races on the West Coast, including three Apple Cups, three Montana 200 victories, as well as wins in the Summer Showdown and Chilly Willy.

Riddle took the lead on lap 75, giving him the top spot at the race's halfway break. While Kasey Kleyn closed in during the final laps, no one would wrestle the advantage away from Riddle during the race's second half.

The veteran driver set fast time in qualifying, but a four-car invert placed Riddle on the outside of row two to start the race. Riddle dropped back to fifth in the opening laps, but soon worked his way forward and eventually took the lead from Jan Evans.

"You know, I didn't want to start where we started," said Riddle. "We kind of tried to bide our time there. Just be smart, took what it gave us."

While Riddle controlled the second half as he hoped, Kleyn and Kole Raz grew larger in his mirror at the end of the race. The top three nearly finished within a half-second of each other after 200 laps.

"I was just trying to be smart, not doing anything dumb in there, slip a tire," said Riddle. "I was getting lapped traffic. I knew Kasey was coming. To be honest with you, I was getting ready to give a bumper or something like that. I just kept hitting my marks and did the best we could to keep away from him."

Kleyn held off Raz for second, taking that spot from him with 31 laps to go. It was a hard-fought runner-up finish, with the 2024 Northwest Super Late Model Series champion wishing he had more speed on restarts to truly challenge for the win.

"Overall, I'm happy," said Kleyn. "We had no motor in this car on Wednesday, blew it up. To put one in there, come out, finish second with a chance to win it, we fell a little short. We were so close, and we were running them down fast at the end."

Raz finished third, Haeden Plybon was fourth, with Alan Cress rounding out the top five.

BLANEY COMMANDS CRACKER BARREL 400 AT NASHVILLE

By Holly Cain/NASCAR Wire Service

NASHVILLE June 1, 2025) – Ryan Blaney claimed his first victory of the 2025 season June 1 night in the Cracker Barrel 400 at Nashville Superspeedway. The 2023 NASCAR Cup Series champion led a commanding, race-best 139 of the 300 laps to finally secure that all-important Play-off position.

Blaney has come so close this season to hoisting a trophy only to have random racing bad luck break his heart and challenge his resolve. But Sunday, the sport’s popular 31-year-old, third-generation racer ultimately drove his No. 12 Team Penske Ford to a 2.830-second win over 22-year-old Spire Motorsports’ Carson Hocevar in a 103-lap green flag run that closed out the race.

Blaney was so thrilled to take the win, he climbed on top of his Ford, raised his arms in triumph and then jumped off the car and ran up and into the track’s front grandstands to claim the checkered flag before handing it off to an excited young fan.

“I never gave up hope that’s for sure,” said Blaney, whose victory puts all three drivers of the reigning champion Penske team into the 2025 Playoffs. “We’ve had adversity, and this hasn’t really been a good year for us in terms of good fortune, but the 12-boys are awesome. They stick with it no matter how it goes.”

Hocevar’s runner-up finish ties a career-best effort turned in at Atlanta in February.

“It just proves how strong this group is to go from the disappointment last week,” said Hocevar, who looked strong and led laps at Charlotte Motor Speedway last Sunday only to retire early with mechanical problems.

Joe Gibbs Racing’s Denny Hamlin, who won the opening stage and led 79 laps, finished third despite his helmet hose and hydration system issues. Blaney’s Penske teammate Joey Logano finished fourth with current NASCAR Cup Series championship leader, Hendrick Motorsports’ William Byron rounding out the top-five.

“Just couldn’t run with the 12 there in the super long run, after 40 laps I could maintain with him, but after that he’d just pull away and stretch it on us,” said Hamlin, whose fiancé Jordan is expecting to deliver the couple’s third child at any time.

Logano, the defending race winner also led laps but ultimately wasn’t able to challenge at the end giving up positions to Hocevar and Hamlin.

23XI Racing’s Bubba Wallace, Legacy Motor Club’s Erik Jones, Hendrick Motorsports’ Kyle Larson, 23XI Racing’s Tyler Reddick and JGR’s Christopher Bell rounded out the top-10. The effort marked a particularly significant comeback for Larson, who started 28th on the grid and was involved in an incident on lap 115.

The NASCAR Cup Series returns to action next Sunday afternoon in the Firekeeper’s Casino 400 at Michigan International Speedway (2 p.m. ET, Amazon Prime, MRN, SiriusXM NASCAR Radio). Reddick is the defending winner at the two-mile speedway – traditionally one of the drivers’ favorite venues on the schedule.

B. FORCE, TODD, ANDERSON WIN AT NHRA NEW ENGLAND NATIONALS | From NHRA media

EPPING, N.H. (June 1, 2025) – Top Fuel’s Britanny Force picked up her first victory of the season, making a pair of 340-mph runs on Sunday at New England Dragway and defeating points leader Tony Stewart in the final round of the 12th annual NHRA New England Nationals.

J.R. Todd (Funny Car) and Greg Anderson (Pro Stock) also won the seventh of 20 races during the 2025 NHRA Mission Foods Drag Racing Series season.

Force went 3.694-seconds at 340.39 mph in the finals in her 12,000-horsepower Monster Energy dragster to track down Stewart, who has now advanced to five straight final rounds. He left the starting line first and went 3.720 at 329.91, but Force caught him at the finish line to win for the first time in 2025 and 18th time in her career.

It ties her with Shirley Muldowney for the most wins by a female in Top Fuel history and comes a year after her father, legendary Funny Car driver John Force, won in Epping. It was his last win before an explosive crash two weeks later in Richmond.

To get to the finals, Force knocked off Clay Millican, Shawn Reed and No. 1 qualifier Doug Kalitta, going a whopping 3.681 at a track-record 341.42 in the semifinals, just off her world-record blast of 341.59 from last month in Charlotte.

“This is just a big one. The last time I stood in the winner’s circle with him was here and I wanted to win for him,” Force said. “This one is dedicated to him and everything he’s done over the last year. It’s been really tough and we’re so proud of him, and I’m just happy to have him out here. I need him out here with me. I knew we would get back to this winner’s circle and I’m so proud of all these guys.

Funny Car’s Todd returned to the winner’s circle for the first time since the season-opener in 2024, defeating rookie Spencer Hyde in the final round with a standout run of 3.888 at 332.43 in his 12,000-horsepower DHL Toyota GR Supra.
