2025 MARQUIS WHO'S WHO

Honors Randall Bond in Who's Who in America for Expertise in Law and as a Distinguished Humanitarian

Randall Bond has been selected for inclusion in the 2025 Editions— Marquis' Who's Who in America, Marquis' Who's Who as a Distinguished Humanitarian, and Marquis' Who's Who of Preeminent Innovators and Achievers. As in all Marquis Who's Who biographical volumes, individuals profiled are selected on the basis of current reference value. Factors such as position, noteworthy accomplishments, visibility, and prominence in a field are all taken into account during the selection process.

Mr. Bond has cultivated a distinguished career spanning 46 years, which is marked by his expertise in legal research, Veteran's Healthcare and meteorites. His professional journey began with service in the U.S. Air Force from 1972 to 1979, (Air Borne Radio Operator, Aircraft Inspector and Security Police Augmentee) where he honed skills that would later define his career. Following his military service, Mr. Bond embarked on a series of roles that showcased his versatility and commitment to quality and engineering.

In 1979, Mr. Bond joined Tom Co. Equipment Co., contributing to their quality control division for one year before moving to Avondale Shipyards as a quality engineer from 1980 to 1981. His career trajectory continued upward as he became an ANSI N45.2.23 Lead Auditor/Investigator at Nuclear Installation Service from 1981 to 1982, followed by a role as Senior Quality Engineer and Vendor Investigator until 1984. During this period, he also served as a Quality Consultant for Michigan Quality Systems from 1983 to 1984 and as a Lead Engineer at Public Service Electric and Gas in Hancocks Bridge in 1985-1995.

Mr. Bond's secondary career turned towards marketing and sales when he became a Private Marketing Consultant for Melaleuca Products in 1993. He transitioned into computer repair at a community college and newspaper advertising sales from 1995 to 2001. Concurrently, he trained service dogs in 1995 and pursued meteorite research in 2000, reflecting his diverse interests and dedication to lifelong learning.

Mr. Bond's academic achievements have been instrumental in his success. He earned an Associate of Applied Science-Metallurgy from the U.S. Air Force Community College in 1980, followed by an Associate of Arts -Psychology from Louisiana Tech Institute in 1978. He furthered his education with an Associate of Science from Salem Community College in 1987, a Bachelor of Science-Business Administration/Management from Thomas A. Edison College in 1989, Pennsylvania State University in Project Management Certificate in 1993 and UNIX Programming in 1996, and a Master of Arts in Biblical studies from Patriot Bible University in 2006. These educational milestones provided him with a strong foundation for his varied career.

Mr. Bond's professional accomplishments are complemented by numerous certifications, including those from the American Welding Society- (Certified Welding Inspector), American Society for Quality Control (Certified Mechanical Inspector) and the Project Management Institute as a Project Management Professional (1993). He is currently admitted to the American Bar Association in April 2025. His dedication to excellence is further evidenced by his membership in esteemed organizations such as the A.A.S.R. 1987, Project Management Institute since 1993, Shriner's International and York Rite since 2023 and the American Legion since 2024.

Beyond his professional endeavors, Mr. Bond has made significant contributions to civic organizations. He served as an Ambassador for the San Louise Valley Regional Medical from 2004 to 2005 and volunteered with the March of Dimes in Salem County, New Jersey, from 1988 to 1992. His leadership roles include being Section Chairman for United Way in Salem from 1988 to 1990 and serving on the Board of Directors for the Holly Shores Council of Scouting America from 1992-1993. 1986 to 1990, Mr. Bond served as Salem County FEMA-Volunteer- Radiological Officer-Decon/Training Supervisory Liaison – Civil Air Patrol

Mr. Bond's literary contributions include authoring "Delaware Valley: Our Natural Trail" in 1993 and contributing articles to various newspapers. His accolades include the Bronze Leader Award from the Commanders Club in 2012 and multiple awards for Public Speaking excellence throughout the early '90s.

Looking ahead, Mr. Bond is committed to improving health care systems for U.S. veterans, ensuring they receive care comparable to that of national leaders. Mr. Bond has received the following Honors for his effort 2025-Honoree-Strathmore's Who's Who Worldwide; 1995-Honoree-Marquis' Who's Who in the World (1st-1993-1994); 1995-Honoree-Marquis' Who's Who in the East (1st – 1993-1994); 1994-Honoree-Marquis' Who's Who in Engineering and Science; 1994-Honoree-International Who's Who in Quality; 1989-1994-Speaker's Bureau Awards for Outstanding Speaker of each Year.

He also remains passionate about meteorite research for its medical and scientific benefits and continues to engage with his community on issues while supporting presidential decision-making processes.

Dave J. Jiffie
"The Outdoor Insider"

There are folks fishing for fall salmon below Wanapum Dam, but others are shifting their focus on other fall opportunities. Many popular lakes will close at the end of October, so you had better take advantage of the good fishing available on some of them before you have to wait until next year.

There are several lakes in Grant County that will be attracting anglers' attention before they close at the end of October. Two in particular are Park and Blue Lakes. These are very popular with trout anglers, but this time of year you may see more people fishing for perch. Both of these lakes have been known to produce excellent catches of large perch this time of year. Anglers will also start looking for perch on Moses Lake. The area near the I-90 Bridge is one of the better places to find perch, and it's possible to get them from the shore as well as from boats. I will test the waters here from shore and if I find good numbers of them, I will recruit friends to fish here from a boat and also explore some other spots on the lake. The area near south end of Gaileys Island had big schools of fat perch last season. The crappie fishing was outstanding last year on Moses Lake, too. I am also getting reports of very good fishing for perch of unusually large size at Fish Lake, near Lake Wenatchee. I plan to see how big they are very soon. This week's photo is of me with an example of the size of perch that were being caught last year on Moses Lake. I was fishing from shore below the I-90 Bridge.

Families with youngsters interested in learning about hunting and fishing should mark their calendars for Saturday, September 13th. The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is inviting families to attend a free event to celebrate National Hunting and Fishing Day at the North Central Washington Gun Club. There will be a wide range of activities that offer hands on experiences that include rod and reel casting, archery practice, 20-gauge shotgun shooting, and air rifle shooting. There will also be many displays and conservation partner booths to visit. Certified hunter education instructors, master hunters and shooting range safety officers will be on site. They will provide training guidance and promote the importance of hunter safety to ensure a safe environment. There will be a morning session from 10 a.m. to noon, and an afternoon session which runs from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Those who attend will enjoy free hot dogs and chips, reusable drawstring safety gear bags for youth participants, and door prize drawings and giveaways donated by local and national businesses. The North Central Washington Gun Club is located at 2740 Gun Club Road, in East Wenatchee. The event will be fun for the whole family.

Several boat ramps at Banks Lake have been temporarily unavailable for a scheduled drawdown. The Bureau of Reclamation is lowering the elevation of Banks Lake by 6.2 feet to support fisheries and groundwater replacement objectives. The lower-than-normal reservoir levels could continue through last week. The drawdown had impacted the accessibility of several boat ramps around the lake. The public is advised to exercise caution around the reservoir and lakeshore during this drawdown period due to shallow water and narrower channels. Areas of high concern, such as the Devil's Punchbowl, should be approached with particular caution. This reduction in the lake's elevation occurs annually, from late August through early September. Once fisheries and groundwater replacement objectives are met, the reservoir will be returned to its regular operating level. Word is that the reservoir is filling and should allow launching at most of the boat ramps.

I traveled down below Vantage to check on the activity at the Huntzinger boat launch. The parking area was full, and I did see that although the water level was low, there would be no concern launching here. However, I did notice that bar that is not far from the launch area was very visible and showed in two places. Boaters will want to watch out for this as they make their run down river. Anglers should always be cautious when boating on the Columbia River this time of year. Water levels can fluctuate frequently. I was hoping to see a WDFW fish checker at the site, but no one was there when I arrived or by the time I left. I did see evidence of angler success, though. There were ten fresh carcasses near the ramp, so fish are being caught. I am sure most of the boats are heading down the river to fish off the mouth of Crab Creek. When the Columbia River opens above Priest Rapids Dam this is the most popular destination. I have fished here many times over the past 20 years or more. Last year, while fishing with my friend James Lebow we landed a small king. We had success trolling with Super Baits, along with a bunch of other boats in the area.

When I was checking on the launch sites below Vantage I also drove Schwana to see how many boats were fishing off the mouth of Crab Creek. Although it was about 10:30 or so there were still a half dozen boats trolling in this area, and I could also see a few more fishing near the trestle and another even further upriver. I had stopped at the Huntzinger launch and the launch at Wanapum Dam, and at both locations I noticed a sign about an upcoming salmon derby. The 10th Annual Steve Koziol Memorial Salmon Derby is scheduled for Saturday, September 13th. Fishing starts at 6 a.m. and ends at 2 p.m. The weight in is at 3 at the Wanapum Dam Park. There will be prizes for the top five fish, one called the Lock Jaw, and there will be lots of raffles, too. The entry fee is forty dollars, and kids under 12 are free. From the sign it appears that the IBEW Local #77 is putting on the event, and there are a bunch of local sponsors supporting it. To sign up for the salmon derby, send an email to Cole Gunter at cole1975@gmail.com or Jamie Gifford at jgifford831@gmail.com.

FIRE CANCELS NORTHPORT RACING, AUTISM FUNDRAISER

NORTHPORT — With the Crown Creek Fire a threat to the town of Northport, racing officials cancelled racing at Northport International Raceway and with it the September 6, Luke Powers Race for Autism.

A specific date to rerun the event has not been determined but it could be Sept. 20.

As of Sept. 7 the Crown Creek Fire had burned some 13,000 acres just south of the town.

ST. LOUIS POLE WINNER HAMLIN DELIVERS TOYOTA'S 200TH VICTORY

By Reid Spencer /NASCAR Wire Service

MADISON, Ill. (September 7, 2025) — In a race that featured a strange brew of divergent strategies, pole winner Denny Hamlin claimed his series-best fifth victory of the season and advanced to the Round of 12 of the NASCAR Cup Series Playoffs.

Finishing 1.620 seconds ahead of Joe Gibbs Racing teammate Chase Briscoe in front of a sellout crowd, Hamlin won Sunday's Enjoy Illinois 300 at World Wide Technology Raceway to earn his first win at the 1.25-mile track and 59th of his career—11th all-time and one win short of Kevin Harvick in 10th.

Hamlin also delivered the 200th victory for Toyota. After taking the checkered flag, the 44-year-old driver had some choice words for his detractors in the grandstands.

"You can either get on the bandwagon or get run over by it," Hamlin told the crowd, generating another chorus of boos.

But the reality is that Hamlin announced emphatically his stature as a serious contender for the championship that has eluded him during his 20-year Cup career.

"Yeah, it's so big for everyone at Toyota, Joe Gibbs Racing," Hamlin said. "Progressive Toyota was great there at the end. So happy to get this victory. My dad's not feeling well at home. Just shout-out to him..."

"Fantastic day. Man, couldn't be better."

Before the race, grand marshal Bill Murray, who typically plays in Hamlin's annual golf tournament, leaned into the No. 11 Toyota and talked to the driver.

"Yeah, I just told him to talk to the guys behind me and make sure they stay behind me the rest of the race," Hamlin quipped. "We made that happen."

Both Hamlin and Briscoe pitted early during a cycle of green-flag pit stops with roughly 65 laps left in the race. After Ty Dillon's contact with the outside wall caused the 10th and final caution on Lap 209—effectively negating the strategy of drivers who were stretching fuel to the end of the event—Hamlin passed Brad Keselowski for the lead moments after the subsequent restart on Lap 216 and held it the rest of the way.

Slowed by an issue with the left rear tire on pit road, Briscoe recovered to secure the runner-up spot.

The second race of the 2025 Playoffs widened the chasm between the top 12 in the standings and the four drivers below the current elimination line.

Austin Cindric came home 19th and held onto 12th on the Playoff grid, 11 points ahead of 13th-place Austin Dillon. Four-time winner Shane van Gisbergen finished 25th and fell 15 points below the elimination line.

At the opposite end of the spectrum, other Playoff contenders solidified their positions in the standings. Briscoe, already exempt into the next round on the strength of last Sunday's win at Darlington, won the first stage.

Bubba Wallace took the honors in Stage 2 on the way to an eighth-place result. Chase Elliott, Ryan Blaney and Joey Logano ran third, fourth and fifth, respectively, as both Hendrick Motorsports and Team Penske reasserted their strength after disappointing performances at Darlington.

For Logano, the inaugural Cup winner at Gateway in 2022, the top-five finish was his fourth straight, a feat no other driver in the series has been able to accomplish.

Christopher Bell ran consistently in the top 10, finished seventh and leaves the St. Louis-area track 32 points above the elimination line. Hendrick Motorsports drivers Kyle Larson and William Byron were 11th and 12th, respectively, and are third and sixth in the Playoff standings, needing only to avert disaster at Bristol to advance the Round of 12.

All the championship competitors in Top Fuel, Funny Car, Pro Stock and Pro Stock Motorcycle will qualify twice on Friday and Saturday, with eliminations at the key playoff stop set for Sunday. Add in the wild, unpredictable and thrilling spectacle that is four-wide racing, and it's a race no fan should miss.

Last year's NHRA Carolina Nationals saw Antron Brown (Top Fuel), Austin Prock (Funny Car), Dallas Glenn (Pro Stock) and Matt Smith (Pro Stock Motorcycle) each claiming wins. This season's race will again be broadcast on FS1, including live coverage of eliminations beginning at 12 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 21.
