"The Outdoor Insider"

Dave Jaynes

It looks like wintery weather is here to stay up in Leavenworth. For me it means a shift in strategy for fishing this time of year. I will be doing a lot more exploration of places to fish from the shore and going along with friends who still launch their boats in winter. Fortunately, there are a variety of great opportunities for fishing throughout the region even during the chilly months of the year.

I had wanted to try the perch fishing near the I-90 Bridge on Moses Lake for a while, and my buddy James Lebow agreed to take me out in his boat last Tuesday. I backed the boat down the ramp at Blue Heron Park, and he tried starting the big motor. No dice. James figured out that the big engine wasn't getting fuel. No problem. He switched the fuel line from his kicker and with the assistance of my portable jump box, got the big engine running. We then motored down to the bridge. When the screen on his Humminbird lit up with fish he launched his Minn Kota, and we went to work. By now it had started to snow and all we were catching was tiny fish. We were watching an angler on the shore catching larger perch one after the other, so we knew there were bigger fish in the area, we just had to find them. We moved the boat a couple of times and finally found a school of bigger fish. We were finally catching "keeper" perch of at least 10 inches. James landed the big fish of the day, which was a 12 inch. The snow that had been falling had turned to rain, and we decided to give it up. Perch fishing is good now and will get even better here on Moses Lake. All you need is a simple set up, with a weight on the bottom and a bait hook about 18 inches above that. I like to use a large removeable split shot. If this rig hangs up, the split shot pulls off, and you get your hook back. Also, when I store my rods I remove the split shot, so it doesn't wind around the other rods. I then pinch it back on when I am ready to start fishing again. If you go to the FishingMagician.com Facebook page you will be able to watch a video on our perch fishing adventure. Be sure to Follow my page so you won't miss any future updates and videos!

I had arrived early to meet my friend James to take his boat out on the lake, so I had stopped by Blue Heron Park and walked out onto the bridge to visit with an angler I saw fishing there. He landed a keeper perch when I approached, and I said the fishing must be pretty good. He said that it was slow that morning. It was about 10:30 and he already had 18 perch in his bucket! He showed me one that measured 15 inches. He lives in Wenatchee and travels to fish from the I-90 Bridge often this time of year. He loves catching perch and likes eating them even more. He prefers fishing from the bridge to climbing down the rip rap bank. I do want to caution anglers that want to try fishing from the rip rap shore near the bridge. The broken concrete can be very slippery. Still, if you are careful, it is a very productive place to fish. This week's photo is of the angler I met holding up the 15 inch perch he caught.

I was thinking about some places to go if you want to take a group out fishing this winter. There are some spots that can accommodate three or four anglers and some even more. I recently stopped by Medicare Beach on Potholes Reservoir. There is a long, black sand beach here and this is the time of year anglers set up along this shore to fish for the big rainbow in Potholes. The last time I was there the wind was howling, and there wasn't anyone around. But on a calm day you will find people casting their favorite baits, setting their rods in a holder and waiting for a bite. I have found that anglers prefer just a few types of bait. The number one choice is Power Bait. Second to that is a marshmallow and night-crawler, and I like to use a shrimp and marshmallow myself. There is a large park here with picnic tables above the beach and some vault toilets. A Discover Pass is required at this site. To get there take Road M SE off Highway 17 heading south from Moses Lake. Turn off Road M SE to Road 6 SE and it will take you to the park access road on Road J SE.

It was a sad day for me earlier this week, as I returned the Bob Feil Boats and Motors Smoker Craft Phantom to the dealership. They have been providing me with quality fishing boats for the past 15 years, and this one was very special. It's the Smoker Craft Phantom 20 X2 OS, and it also features Gamin electronics and a Minn Kota Ulterra bow mount electric motor. It is powered by a 250 horsepower Mercury motor and has a 9.9 hp Mercury kicker. There are two Scotty electric downriggers mounted on the gunnels. It has a rigid aluminum frame with a canvas cover that can easily be snapped off. This was a real advantage when fishing in the high winds on Lake Wenatchee for sockeye. The rest of the time the top provided shade, and it comes with full side covers and a back curtain. I really like the offshore bracket on this boat, as it adds more space to the interior, and has a large, covered storage box and a small well at the back of the boat. There are two seats with storage and another storage box with a hydraulic lid that can be used as a fish box. It also has a live well just in front of the walk through windshield. It comes on a super deluxe, dual axle trailer, with a spare tire. There are even more features you can see if you get a chance to walk around inside it. The boat is officially now available for sale! I will certainly miss driving this boat and envy the new owner!

COLE DASENBROCK STATELINE LEGENDS 2025

Cole Dasenbrock.

over Kaleb Keck.

Dasenbrock's title caps a six-year journey that began as do many racers journeys, in go karts and eventually to the INEX Bandoleros racing series. And who knows where it might lead?

"INEX is our sanctioning body and the official international sanctioning organization for U.S. Legend Cars International and Bandolero cars in the US and Canada," Dasenbrock wrote in an email. "In my first year racing Bandoleros I won numerous races and earned my first championship in the series."

This early success fueled his passion for racing even more.

Over the next few years, Dasenbrock secured several more championships at the local level, as well as another Washington State Championship.

"In 2021, I had a successful year with wins and some setbacks, including a major wreck at the National Championship in Las Vegas that ultimately destroyed my Bandolero," Dasenbrock explained. "Despite that, I finished second in the INEX National point championship."

Dasenbrock transitioned to an INEX Legend Car in 2022 and has never looked back.

"My parents and supporters say I've found my true calling, making Legend Car racing my obsession," Dasenbrock said. "I've been working tirelessly to make this dream a reality — traveling across the U.S. to race at as many tracks as possible."

In 2024 the race team committed to racing at numerous tracks, which proved to be very successful. They won the track championships at Stateline Speedway and the Wenatchee Valley Super Oval.

Dasenbrock also claimed the Washington Young Lions Championship for drivers ages 10 to 16 and finished 5th in the INEX National Championship standings. A highlight was winning the MPI "Up On The Wheel" award at Dominion Raceway in West Virginia, given to the driver with the most race passes and the highest finishing position from their starting spot.

"That year also marked a historic milestone — I became the youngest driver ever to win Legend Car championships at multiple tracks in the same year, a feat never accomplished by a 13-year-old before," Dasenbrock said.

In 2025, Dasenbrock continued to race along the West Coast, winning the track championships again at Stateline and Wenatchee, along with another Washington Young Lions title.

"At the final national race in Las Vegas, I was sitting 5th in the Young Lions Division

DEER PARK — The 2025 Legend Car champion at Stateline Speedway is a 14 year-old Cole Dasenbrock, a Legend Car racer from Deer Park, Wash. who ended the season with a 63-point cushion points. Although the race had its challenges — including a tough start, new teammates, and a new crew chief — we qualified 10th out of 28 cars and fought hard.

Unfortunately, an engine overheating issue caused by a radiator failure ended our day on lap 21, dropping us from 5th to 11th in the national standings.

This year, however, was also a year of new opportunities.

"During a race at Stateline, we had the chance to meet the JD Industries Race Team, led by Mike and Jeremy Doss," Dasenbrock said. "Their crew, including Chase Burgeson and crew chief Darren Amidon, was racing at seven events across four tracks in Idaho — and parking near them opened doors for us to expand our racing experience even further."

"This collaboration has brought our team into their support network, enabling me to race on both the West and East Coasts in 2026," Dasenbrock said.

"I'll get to race at some of the most historic tracks I've only seen on TV or read about. I'm excited to see where this new chapter takes me — the achievements, growth, and new opportunities that lie ahead," he added.

Outside of racing, Dasenbrock enjoys spending time on the water with his family, fishing and vacationing.

"When I'm not at the track or in the shop working on my cars with my parents and crew, I like drawing, racing on my SIM, and building Legos," he said. Dasenbrock attends Riverside High School Independent Scholar Program so he can travel for racing.

Dasenbrock comes from a large and supportive family — four older sisters (Charyl, Savannah, Katie and Josie) as well as brothers-in-law Colby, Kit and Eric.

"My entire family backs my racing journey," he said. "My Uncle Bob spends hours in the shop and at the track with us, and my Aunt Tonya makes sure nobody goes hungry at the races. I am incredibly grateful for their support."

None of this would be possible, Dasenbrock said, without his mom Paige and dad Chuck who dedicate countless hours in the shop, at the racetrack, and traveling across the country — whether by truck, plane, or RV.

"They are my biggest supporters, and I thank them from the bottom of my heart," Cole said.

Sunday Matinee Contra Dance

Coeur d'Alene Public Library, 702 E Front Ave
Sunday, December 7, 2:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Join us for our first ever Community Contra Dance, sponsored by the Spokane Folklore Society and featuring local band Crooked Kilt. Contra dancing is a type of traditional folk dance from New England. Dancers face each other in "contra" lines and move up and down the formation as couples, in figures directed by a caller. The Virginia reel is a dance in this style. You don't have to be experienced – the caller teaches all the moves! Special clothing is not necessary, and no partner is needed – singles and couples are invited, and families are welcome. Please visit <https://www.spokanefolklore.org/> for more information about this style of dancing.
